Londoners who enjoy delightful draughts of limpid water will read the following extract from the Empire and feet thankful that they are not forced to live in Toronto. "Many people have been complaining of the solidity and strong drink tharacter of Toronto water in all parts of the city. The cause, whatever it may be, cannot be local. In the bathtub a thick, black sediment is lodged, and facetious people have been heard to ask for a toothpick after taking a drink.'

The reversard gentleman, while doubting the immediate practicability of the idea expressed himself much pleased to see the matter so prominently placed before the public by this journal.

The Water Was Not Let Out.

The lowness of the water in the river on Saturday and Sunday being of mistaken origin has been the cause of much complaint around the streets to-day. The majority of the citizens hold the opinion that the water was lowered at the instigation of the city to prevent Captain Foster from running his boats on Sunday, but such was not the case. Water Commissioner Davis was interviewed on the matter this morning and denied in unmistakable language any such conduct on the part of the Commissioners. "Engineer Findlay," he said, "ran the engines with water on Sunday, but as the Commissioners did not know about the low state of the water they had not instructed him otherwise, and the The Water Was Not Let Out. engineer accordingly used the water as usu.
The engines to-day will be run with firas would have been the case yesterday h
I known of the state of affairs. It will co about $25 per day to run the engines be coal, but 1 think it is in the interests public health to keep the river bed full cwater." So far this season the engine have only been used three times.

Lawrason's Refinery Burned Several Thousand Dollars Damage.

The building known as Lawrason's Oil Works in East London, where lard and tallow oils, etc., are refined, took fire in some unknown manner this morning about 4:30. The flames were not discovered until about five o'clock when the night watchman at the adjacent works of Bushnell & Co. noticed them. By that time the whole building was nearly consumed, owing to the inflammable nature of the contents. The fire brigade were notified by telephone, but when they arrived, all opportunity of saving the premises was gone. They used every effort, however, and succeeded in preventing the fire from spreading. Nothing was saved of either the stock or building. The loss is estimated at from $6,000 to $10,000, nearly covered by insurance. The firm will start as soon as possible to rebuild. In the meantime they heve made arrangements to continue their business and will fill all orders. The firm believes its loss will be fully $10,000.
