IMMIGRANT FARES.

Far-Reaching Agreement Between Railway and Steamship Lines.

New York, N. Y., Nov. 22.—The agreement which has been entered into between the railroads and the Atlantic Steamship Lines for the regulation of immigrant fares is the most far-reaching of all combinations of the kind that have ever been organized in the country. In the first place it takes in not only all of the trans-Atlantic steamship companies, but the coastwise lines extending as far south as the Gulf of Mexico, and north to Halifax, thereby rendering it impossible for rates to be demonized, so far as the ocean companies are concerned. The initiative was taken by the Western Passenger Association, which has been the leading factor in the struggle with the outside agents, trunk lines and steamship lines that has been going on for years.

A Local Budget

—Mr. J. Buckley, of Warton, has entered Wolseley Barracks for a course of instruction.

—Mrs. Ed. Burke, of this city, is the guest of her sister, Mrs. (Senator) McMillan, at Cornwall.

—Messrs. R. McDonald and Otto McMillan have left for Ottawa to interview the government on tariff matters.

—The opening sociable of the Palace Dancing Academy will be held on Wednesday evening, Nov. 24. Prof. Day-ton will be the musical director, and Mr. James McCormick the manager.

—Capt. Carpenter, of Wolseley Barracks, was thrown from his horse on Friday evening at the corner of Wellington street and Dufferin avenue, the animal taking fright at an electric lamp. The captain's arm was dislocated.

—At the Conservative Club on Saturday evening, speeches were made by President Gray, Mr. Thomas Beattie, M.P., Messrs. J. M. Logan, W. H. Morgan, Thomas W. Scandrett, B. J. Nash, Campbell Becher and others. Mr. Sawdy Drennan favored with some songs.

—An elderly man, named Cephas Needham, died at the city hospital on Saturday of general debility, after a few days' illness. Mr. Needham, who had no relatives in the city, had been living a retired life for some years past on Dundas street west, near, living in Bay City, has been notified.

—The Montreal Star of Friday says: "At the Royal Victoria Hospital this morning, about 6 o'clock, there died Jessie, the 13-year-old daughter of Dr. T. J. W. Burgess, of the Protestant Hospital for the Insane, Verdun. The little girl has been suffering for several weeks from inflammation of the lining of the membrane of the heart and from blood poisoning." Dr. Burgess is a former resident of London.

—Harry Rolph wandered into the police station on Saturday night without hat or coat, and reported that he had been robbed of his clothes and $2 cash in London West. Rolph was drunk and was locked up. Sgt. Jenkins, in company with P. C. Toohy and Rolph went to the village and roused Constable Ward. He accompanied them to Horsman's hotel stables, where James Barrett, James Fox and Bert O'Brien were all found drunk and sleeping. They were taken before Squire Lacey and remained until Saturday next. Rolph, the robbed man, was up a few days ago in the city police court as a drunk.

—Drunks were the only offenders Magistrate Parke had to deal with this morning. Albert Glenroy, a young man from Gananogue, was arrested in a barn at the foot of Carling street on Sunday night with two sheep and a quilt in his possession. He was remanded for a week. Thomas Murphy, a drunk, without friends or habitation, went down for fourteen days. Robert McFarlane was paid on Saturday night and spent all his wages, $12, less $2.65, on drink. He was fined $1 or five days. Harry Rolph, the man who says he has been robbed in London West, was sent down for a week on remand. John Mason was discharged.

POCOCK BROS.

—Owen Sound Times: "A fortnight ago reference was made to the unsatisfactory railway connections in the G. T. R. with London and Detroit. A new time-table went into effect on Monday last, and, no doubt, in the account of the action taken by the London business men, Owen Sound has much better facilities for doing business with the points named. It is now possible to run down to London, have plenty of time to do business, and return the same day. Passengers on the early train reach London now at 11:55 a.m. instead of 1:30 p.m., and Detroit at 2:10 p.m. instead of 6 p.m. Returning passengers are able to leave London as late as 5:55 p.m., and reach Owen Sound at 11:30 p.m., giving five hours in that city. The business men of London should now agitate for a better mail service."

RECENT DECISIONS.
Judge Falconbridge yesterday gave judgment at Toronto in the Ogilvy vs. Brown case, heard here on Thursday. It was an appeal by defendants Agnes Ogilvy and others from report of master at Stratford, upon the ground that the master had computed the life estate of plaintiff upon the whole purchase money instead of upon the purchase money less the costs of all parties and the executor's allowance. Plaintiff brought his action asserting his right under the will of Walter Ogilvy, deceased, to be declared the owner in fee, of the testator's real estate that will be construed by the court. Held that as the will was construed in a direction contrary to plaintiff's primary contention, there was no reason why he should not bear at least his proportionate share of the costs. Appeal allowed and report varied by directing that $50 be deducted from the value of the life estate and added to the balance to be distributed among the heirs of Grace Ogilvy in the proportion assigned by the master. The plaintiff to pay out his share of the costs of defendants of this appeal. Order for distribution of fund in court in accordance with report as varied. G. G. McPherson (Stratford) for appellants; J. P. Mabey (Stratford) for plaintiff.

Lawson vs. Johnston—Judgment on appeal by plaintiff from order of Judge Edward Elliott at London, requiring plaintiff to give security for costs in an action by a married woman for slander. Appeal dismissed with costs to defendant in any event. J. B. Bartram (London) for plaintiff; Dromgole (London) for defendant.

Suddenly Summoned.

Wm. H. Wright, a Popular Dry-goods Clerk, Died in a Moment.

Death Came While He Sat in a Chair Reading a Newspaper.

Wm. H. Wright, of 591 Talbot street, received a sudden summons on Saturday afternoon. About 4 o'clock he was sitting in a chair at his home reading a newspaper, when without a moment's warning he threw up his hands and was dead before his wife reached his side.

Mr. Wright had been slightly indisposed for a few days, and had quit work on Tuesday night because of not feeling very well. It was thought that he suffered from dropsy of the heart, and being treated for such, was apparently improved. On Friday evening he chatted with some friends who called to see him, and was able to move about the house. He would have returned to work Saturday morning, but was strongly advised not to do so, and remained at home, where he seemed to rest easily until so suddenly called away.

Five years ago deceased came here from Toronto to become a clerk in the dry-goods house of T. F. Kingsmill, which position he had since retained, with great satisfaction to his employer. He was aged 39 years and 11 months, and by his genial disposition had acquired a very wide circle of friends who will hear of his sudden demise with keen regret. He leaves a wife and one child about 7 years of age, and to these bereaved ones the sympathy of all will be extended. Deceased was a member of Star Lodge, Ancient Order of United Workmen, in which order he held an insurance for $2,000. The funeral took place this morning to Toronto.

The Opera House Condemned by Rev. George Jackson.

Rev. Father Cassidy Speaks on Charity at St. Peter's.

Eloquent Plea in Behalf of the Poor—Men's Meeting at the Auditorium—Mr. Pedley on Amusements.

Father Cassidy, of New York, an eloquent Jesuit priest, addressed an overflowing congregation at St. Peter's Cathedral last night. Father Cassidy's theme was charity, and he made a strong appeal for the exercise of that virtue, especially commending the work of the Children of Mary. The Children of Mary, he said, visited the poor, the hospital and the jail, striving to better the condition of those whom God had not favored with the good things of this world. For the foundation of his remarks, the reverend father chose the words of the Lord Jesus Christ, "It is more blessed to give than to receive." He emphasized not only the duty, but the blessedness and the independence giving. At the conclusion a liberal collection was taken up in aid of the funds of the Children of Mary.

The musical services, which were unusually excellent, were conducted by Mr. W. T. Mullins. The choir gave Lamberti's "Grand Magnificat." Miss Mary Mulligan taking the solo part, and also Gobe's "Tantum Ergo," both numbers being rendered with spirit and precision. A feature of the rendition of "O Salutaris!" by the male quartet—Messrs. M. O'Hagan, W. T. Mullins, J. Leach and C. Povey.

The Opera House Condemned. Rev. George Jackson, Colborne Street Methodist Church, in his sermon yesterday morning, referred to the opera house as a place unworthy of Christian patronage. The class of drama seen there as a rule was not at all edifying, and tended to fill the pressing Christian's mind with degrading thoughts.

Mr. Pedley on Amusements. Rev. J. W. Pedley, of the First Congregational Church, had for his subject last night "Amusements." A host of young people believed, he said, that religion was antagonistic to amusements. That was a mistake. Amusement was necessary to all round development and to the health of one's being, but was only the fringe of life after all, and if the standpoint and great controlling principle of life was right, the little things would fall into their proper places. He would not discriminate for his hearers between the different forms of amusement. Anything that hindered Christian growth and usefulness should be abandoned.

Men's Meeting at the Auditorium. The men's meeting at the Auditorium yesterday morning was very interesting. Mr. R. W. Dillon presided, and gave a scripture reading. At 10 P. M. Howard spoke on the character of the Y. M. C. A.; Mr. W. G. Young on the aims of the association, and Mr. F. H. Heath on "Why I should support the Y. M. C. A." Next Sunday begins a series of stereopticon talks by Rev. Robert Johnston that will be specially interesting.

Sanctification. This was Rev. W. J. Clark's subject last night before a very large audience in the First Presbyterian Church. Mr. Clark believes in gradual sanctification. He does not believe in the idea of any second or "higher" conversion. This sanctification, he said, all God's children should earnestly covet, could be efficiently promoted by allowing their full effect to the means of grace—prayer, study of the Word, the communion, the discipline of life, the Spirit's guidance.

Sermon to Young Women. Before 7 o'clock last evening the King Street Presbyterian Church was crowded, and many had to turn away. The pastor, Rev. Thomas Wilson, delivered the second of his special series of sermons to young people. It was specially intended for young women, who were present in very large numbers. Rev. Mr. Wilson's text was Zechariah II, 4: "Run, speak to that young man." The influence of young women over young men for good or evil was the central thought of an admirable discourse. "How Great Men Have Risen" will be the subject next Sunday night.

Notes. The union thanksgiving service of the Methodist churches in London will be held this year in the Dundas Street Central Church. Rev. R. Hobbs, of Askin Street Church, will be the preacher.

Prof. G. W. Robinson, of Knox College, Toronto, preached two most edifying sermons in St. Andrew's Church yesterday. The pulpit was draped in mourning for the late Wm. Stead, as also was the service of the church.

There will be a league sunrise prayer meeting at the Colborne Street Methodist Church on Thursday morning, and at 11 o'clock a special service.

At St. Andrew's Church a special service will be given on Thanksgiving evening, and the congregation addressed by Rev. Robt. Johnston.

The large three-manual electric organ that is being manufactured for Dundas Center Methodist Church is rapidly nearing completion, and is being put together in the factory to be played on and tested before being shipped. The organ will be opened with a grand organ recital and concert on Thursday, Dec. 16. The action of the organ will be electric, with all the modern inventions, such as the crescendo pedal, stop switch, etc., and other electrical contrivances.

Thanksgiving services on Thursday morning next will be held at all the Anglican and Presbyterian churches at 11 o'clock.

At Adelaide Street Baptist Church the usual Wednesday night prayer meeting will be omitted this week.

And instead a thanksgiving service will be held on Thursday evening. The offering will be devoted to mission interests.

Anniversary services were preached at St. John and St. George's churches yesterday. The Bishop of Huron and Rev. Canon Dann preaching at both.

Rev. Robert Bragg, a former young Londoner, has been ordained as a Baptist clergyman at Mansfield, Ohio.
