OUTLOOK FOR WHEAT. Macy & Pendleton, Wall street, New write The Advertiser: light enough to put wheat up very harply were it not for the supplies In the fields, which are expected to relieve the short sellers and supply bins at an early date. The world's available supply is now reported by Bradstreet at about 78,000,000 bushels against 105,000,000 bushels a year ago and 152,000,000 bushels at a corresponding date in 1893. With a crop to come that at this date appears likely to equal 550,000,000 bushels, and a reserve in farmers' hands of about 35, 000,000 bushels more, the demands on us for 145,000,000 to 165,000,000 bushels will still leave us about 420,000,000 bush els for food and seed. While therefore the prospect is good for fair prices, it is not certain that there will not be enough to go around if all now in sight gets safely to granaries. The argin is very narrow and invites an Increase of speculation which seems most likely to embarrass the short seller during the earlwy months of the

GOOD REASON FOR MARRYING. In the north of England, where rabbit coursing is much in vogue, swift, well-trained dogs often win large sums in prizes. It is, therefore, little to be wondered at that the owners of these animals should bestow so much attention upon them.

An old Yorkshire collier, well-know for his success in the coursing field, recently surprised all his mates by marrying a very unprepossessing w man. He had always been reckoned a confirmed hater of the other sex. "Why has ta gone and got spliced, lad, at thy age?" one of his friends

"Oh, that's not much of a tale," answered the old man, stolidly. "I agree wi'ye 'at Betsy yonder is no beauty if she had been I shouldn't have wed her. But that there dog o' mine, h was simply pinin' for somebody to look after him while I was away at t' pit. I couldn't bear to leave him in the house by hissen, so I hit on the idea of marrying Betsy. She's not hand-some, but she's mighty good company for the dog!"-[Edinburgh Scotsman.

The Sixth Sense.

How "the Open Eye" Can Be Obtained.

An English Editor's Peculiar Dissertation on the Occult.

William T. Stead, author, journalist, theosophist, and general student of all that is odd, now announces that he has received by the means of automatic writing, from a very well known spirit, the information that every living person has what is called the sixth sense. In other words, we are all mediums, contrary to the general supposition, even among the advanced disciples of spiriutalism.

The message or communication is given to the world through Editor Stead, who, for the time being, is under the guidance of this feminine control, the real author of the state-ments being known as "Julia." Her messages have been coming at inter-vals of five years, and among the students of the occult are regarded as absolutely true. That is why Mr. Stead lays so much importance upon them. It is for this reason that ne holds that the communication between the inhabitants of the world and those who have passed away can be much more free if only people will have it that way. In the message Julia says: "What I have to tell you is that all those who really wish to have the human. Many animals have the open eye. They see when their owners are blind. If you cannot control your sixth sense you had better not acquire it. It is much better to do without it than to be controlled by it.

'You should have the sense at command when you need it, as you have your microscope or your telescope, but better have neither if you are to be compulsorily doomed at other will than by a spectacle of the infinitely little or the infinitely remote. Man should always be master of his senses, especially of the sixth sense, as it is called." yours to interrupt the work of life
