

THE TORONTO WORLD

MONDAY MORNING, SEPT. 10, 1928.

LOCAL NEWS

Sir Alexander Campbell is in the city on his way to Ottawa from British Columbia.

Dr. Mulvaney is at present in Peterboro, working up a book connected with that part of the province.

In a letter to Mr. Thomson, Mr. Jocelyn Duggan, A. D. C., says that the general and provinces will be glad to attend the concert the Horticultural gardens on Thursday evening.

Billie, the sea lion just arrived at the Zoo, is the biggest and sleekest that has yet reached Canada.

Friday last, after his long trip he was so hungry that he climbed over the fence surrounding the pond and started off to find provisions.

His appearance startled the whole menagerie and he had to be driven back to the pond amidst a chorus from all the animals and birds in the garden.

The Zoo has an attractive program for visitors to the exhibition.

Professor Edmond, the musician, will give performance each day and evening in the pavilion.

Miss Fanny Thomson, known as the "Liliputian Queen," only 36 inches high, will be on exhibition.

The yacht Alara was ashore on the bay side of the island on Saturday afternoon, but was drawn off by a tug.

R. F. Frenchick of Detroit, a prominent labor advocate and a lecturer of considerable note in the ranks of the knights of labor, will lecture on Organization, its History and Necessity, in this city in the early part of October next.

J. B. Jackson, B. A., law student in the office of O'Sullivan & Kerr, and favorably known to members of the legal profession, has gone to England to take charge of the office of Mr. J. C. Hegler, barrister at law of that town.

Mr. George Sparrow, whose dealer of 353 Yonge street, died suddenly on Friday at midnight, of heart disease, aged 50 years.

A brother of Mr. Sparrow's died suddenly from the same disease in Ireland a few weeks ago.

Mayor Bowell has received a letter from Mr. Chas. T. Benjamin, general secretary of the North America St. George's union, thanking the city council of Toronto for courtesy received during their visit.

Fifty-nine births, 36 marriages and 75 deaths were registered at the vital statistics office last week.

Police court, Saturday: Six drunks, John Carroll, vagrancy, $1 and costs. Tim McCarthy, a little wife who has no one to look after him, discharged. Louis Evans, trespass on F. Martin's premises, 11 Adelaide street east, discharged. John Walsh and Jessie Brownlee, larceny, remanded.

Inspector Aude last week issued 8500 worth of licenses.

The court of general sessions opens tomorrow before Judge Boyd.

George Johnson, a young Swede, was sentenced to three years in the penitentiary on Saturday by Magistrate Denison for stealing a cow from Edward Kane, 151 Adelaide street west, in violation of a writ of habeas corpus, in possession of which he colored positions of the animal.

Big Game. Gen. Col. Mott, Major and Major T. Mott are in the city, and will act as judges at the archery competition on the Woodbine race-course this week. It is expected that about ten batteries will compete for the government general prize.

Law Students' Strike. McCarthy, Oler, Holkin & Creelman have abandoned the practice of paying salaries to law students. They are about the last of the large law firms in Toronto to adopt this line. The strike is to pay no salaries. All the students desired to be laid off for the taking.

A Grand Trunk smash. A Grand Trunk engine drawing a freight train left the track at the Queen street crossing while coming into the city between 1 and 2 o'clock yesterday morning. The train was moving slowly at the time and was quickly stopped. Two cars, one laden with flour, the other with fresh meat, followed the engine, being pulled up on either side of her across the roadway. The locomotive was not much damaged, but the cars got a pretty good turning.

Lord Coleridge Falls the string. Night operator Wm. Mark opened the switch to allow a Credit Valley train to pass into its own track but forgot to close it, hence the accident. Mr. Mark is obliged to attend to the triple duties of operator, switchman and signal man, which would probably appear to be too much for one man. The wreck took place on Friday day. Another reason why the subway should be pushed through without delay.

Art at the Industrial Exhibition. In the art department Mrs. W. Lovell, executive committee of the Ontario society of artists are busily engaged in hanging the pictures prepared for exhibition. Although a great many adorned the walls, the floor is littered with all water-color pieces and crayon drawings of all sizes, the work of aspiring and budding artists who give the committee as much work as they are able for. In all departments there will be exhibited upwards of 400 pieces or more, an increase in each class of 50 or more over last year. It is the opinion of those who ought to know that the apartment in the exhibition building is the finest in the city for an art display, because of the excellent light there. None of the pictures on view were exhibited last year. Among the exhibitors in oils and water colors are Messrs. Peel, Forbes, Horner, Watson, Jacobi, Patterson, Perry, Cox, Judson, Martin, Revell, Robert Harris, Steer, Millard, Mathews, O'Brien, Verner, Crosswell, Fowler, Holl-Smith, Vay and Mrs. Schreiber, names familiar to lovers of Canadian art.

The Exhibition. Procrastination seems to be the watchword of the average exhibitor. Very few articles are in their place yet, although a lot might have been done last week in the matter of arranging exhibits. However two days will witness a great change and by tomorrow evening the management hope to have everything in readiness for the opening Wednesday. The only person who is ready for the show is Mr. Chambers. He has the grounds in splendid condition. They are as fresh looking as a new pin and are very clean. The walk leading to the main entrance of the big building has been beautifully bordered with variegated foliage plants. Some of the work was unfortunately slightly touched by frost Saturday night, but Mr. Chambers is not afraid of their being further damaged as he will take steps to protect them.

UP AT OSBOODE HALL

No summons to be issued against John Shaker in the Shakerite election trial.

Hon. David Mills of London and D. K. Cunningham have been called to the bar.

Mr. S. J. Vankoughnet on Saturday presented his patent of Q.C.

In the Welland election petition it was agreed that counsel should lead into the court the remaining charges which are to be disposed of on Sept. 25.

The defendants in the case of Harris against Brown are applying to the court of chancery to remove the injunction restraining them from using Yonge street.

For Judge Patterson and Ferguson, Judge Patterson in giving judgment remarked that, owing to the inconsistency of the decision law, the judge at a meeting decided that no summons would be issued, and left the parties to civil penalties provided by law to be met for in the usual way.

The petitioner has decided to go on with the certainty of the vote, and next week the election will be held.
