THE CHARM OF MOTHERHOOD

Enhanced By Perfect Physical Health.

The experience of Motherhood is a trying one to most women and marks dis-tinctly an epoch in their lives. Not one woman in a hundred is prepared or un-derstands how to properly care for her-self. Of course nearly every woman nowadays has medical treatment at such times, but many approach the experi-ence with an organism unfitted for the trial of strength, and when it is over her system has received a shock from which it is hard to recover. Following right upon this comes the nervous strain of caring for the child, and a distinct change in the mother results.

There is nothing more charming than a happy and healthy mother of children, and indeed child-birth under the right sconditions need be no hazard to health or beauty. The unexplainable thing is that, with all the evidence of shattered merves and broken health resulting from an unprepared condition, and with ample time in which to prepare, women will persist in going blindly to the trial.

Every woman at this time should rely upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, a most valuable toric and invigorator of the female organism.

In many homes Give once childless there are now children because of the fact that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable women normal, healthy and strong.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

Nothing must be kept back-time, energy, money, talents, even life itself, must be freely offered in this supreme Canadian farmers have not kept ace with the country's demand for live stock. During the first ten months of last year Canada imported 112,238 sheep and 4,015,152 lbs of mutton and lamb. The imports of hog products for the same period amounted to 57,575 pounds of fresh, chilled and frozen pork and 8,340, 210 pounds of pork barreled in brine. During the same ten months there were imported 1,643, 728 pounds of fresh, chilled and frozen beef, and 996,837 pounds of beef salted in barrels.

BELGIAN KONGO SAVAGES.

Cannibals In War Paint Whose Past Is Black Mystery. In his book "Hunting and Hunted In the Belgian Kongo" Mr. R. D. Cooper speaks of the remarkable people who live in the forest wilds:

"Threading our way down the stony path, winding in and out among the trees, we began to walk the remaining few miles along the sandy shore to Butiaba. A slight breeze sprang up from the southwest, and very shortly the sun had kissed the Bulegga mountain peaks that rose thousands of feet sheer from the water's edge in the

QUEER JOURNALISTIC FEAT.

It Hit the London Times and Boomed the Manchester Guardian.

Once there was an obscure subeditor of the Manchester Guardian in England. It was a long time ago, and the Guardian was scarcely known outside of its own city. The subeditor had a habit of drinking ale until he was so drowsy that he could not lift his head from his desk. On one occasion the composing room was yelling for "copy," as the editorial page was absolutely vacant. The subeditor had been asleep o his desk for hours and his pen had been idle. The foreman of the composing room finally succeeded in arous ing the man and yelled in his ear that something must be done for copy. Whereupon the sleepy one grabbed s pair of shears and clipped one whole column from the editorial page of the

"What does the London Times mea

by the following?" It was printed, column and all. That single quizzical introduction made the Manchester Guardian famous. People began to ask what the Times did mean by the editorial, which was on a rather revolutionary subject. The sub editor slept for several hours, but John began from that moment.-Washing-

"Engaged Man's Panic."

"Engaged man's panic" is as familfar a phenomenon as the squawking of a captured chicken or the flopping of a hooked fish. And woman instinctively anticipates it, feels it before it actually begins, deals with it ever feels that this is a slur upon her. She knows that it does not involve her but is only the nervousness of the free at the touch of the matrimonial bridle -and that bridle, as she knows and as he knows, is not in her hands, but in the hands of society. Even the man marrying for a home, even the man marrying for children or for money. even the man marrying because only by marriage can he hope to get some him, listen to him on terms of his own arranging-even these men feel the nervousness as the bridle drops over their heads and the bit presses their quivering lips. — From "Degnarmo's Wife," by David Graham Phillips.

Tving knots in a handkerchief to jog one's memory had its origin in China thousands of years ago. Before writing was invented in that country. which did not happen until 3000 B. C., memorable and important events were recorded by long knotted cords. The most ancient history of China is still preserved as told by these knots. When Emperor Tschang Ki invented writing the entire system of "knotting" was abandoned. And today the memory knots made by us in handkerchiefs are the only surviving descendants of that ancient custom.
