This being done, there were taken out of her thirteen eggs; nine of them whole, and four which were broken by throwing her down on the ground when she was killed. The nine eggs weighed two pounds and a half, and the other four appeared to have been equally large. If so, the whole would have weighed three pounds ten ounces! One of the eggs weighed 6 oz., another 5½ oz., and the whole averaged over a quagter of a pound.

By the Revenue Act, the Treasurer is authorised to take possession of any goods he may think undervalued, on pay ment of ten per cent. advance on the invoice.
