TICKET THE CAMPERS NEW FOREST RULE

The Government of New Brunswick has issued a proclamation declaring that people entering the forests of that Province until next November must take out a license to do so. This action brings New Brunswick into line with the Province of Quebec in providing an official check on people who visit forest country for the purpose of "travelling, camping, fishing, picnicking, or other purposes". People who do so must first register with a local fire warden, game license vendor, or other official authorized to issue permits under the law.

This action is deemed necessary by the Government in order to prevent immense forest fire damage resulting from the carelessness or thoughtlessness on the part of those entering the forest on pleasure bent. The adoption of the registration regulation is not an attempt by the Government to keep people out of the woods or to deprive the fisherman, camper, or hunter of his annual vacation. It is a regulation, it is pointed out, whereby each individual is reminded and encouraged to be careful of fire when in the forest.

WOLFVILLE PASTOR RESIGNED

Rev. Dr. J. H. MacDonald, pastor of the Baptist Church, Wolfville, is resigning from the pastorate of that church, his resignation to take place on October 1st. Dr. MacDonald gave notice of his resignation last Sunday, and explained that his action was due to lack of strength to carry out the work. Dr. MacDonald has been four years in the pastorate of this church. He is not leaving Wolfville, having received appointment in a newly created chair in the college.

Local Happenings

Joseph Steadman, lately principal of the Bear River school, and a graduate of the Annapolis County Academy, having formerly lived at Parker's Cove, has been engaged as Vice-Principal here for the coming term, with Miss McLean, of Glace Bay, C.B., as principal, and Miss Madeira Merriam, who has been teaching in Granville, in charge of the intermediate department instead of Miss Florence Zwicker, who with Miss Frances Dargie, has resigned. The other teachers, Miss Harrie, Miss Balcom and Miss MacMillan, continue charge of their respective departments.—Spectator.

On Wednesday last Middlesex ball team defeated Kentville 5 to 1. The five runs were all scored by Middleton in the first innings while Burhill was in the box. It was a great pitchers' battle and the only scoring done was in the sixth inning when Dinjian got a two bagger, advanced to third on a wild pitch and scored on a sacrifice bunt by Kolosky. The play off between these teams is expected to be a corker.

The abundant rains of the past week broke a long continued drought extinguished forest fires, assured a good hay crop throughout the valley, revived and quickened vegetation generally. Apples are reported generally to have set well and indications thus far point to good crops all along the line. A reasonable return on products, and this now seems probable, will do great service in driving away the natural feeling of pessimism induced by low returns on last year's apple crop and the impossibility of carrying on lumbering operations and work generally in the woods last winter by reason of tremendous and continued falls of snow.

A goodly number of townspeople gathered at the railway station on Tuesday to bid Bon Voyage to Rev. T. C. Mellor, the esteemed rector of St. Luke's, and daughter, Miss Kathleen, on their departure for Montreal, to take steamer there for a three-months' visit to England. As he was about to board the train an envelope was pressed into Mr. Mellor's hand by Fred W. Harris, vestry clerk, who told him it was "sealed orders from the Parish, not to be opened until after departure." The envelope was as a matter of fact the result of a hasty subscription testimonial to evince good wishes and amounted to $70. There will be no Wednesday services nor early communion at St. Luke's during the Rector's absence, but Rev. Canon Vroom, of King's College, Windsor, will look after the pulpit supply on Sundays.—Spectator.

The C.G.I.T. group of St. James' Church, with their leader, (Miss Ruggles) and several friends, leave for Clementsport today for a ten-day outing. The idea is to lead a semi-camp life, with head quarters at Ely Hall. As fitted up this will lend itself to the scheme particularly well, and with boating and bathing facilities so near, the girls should have an ideal time.

As the Rector expects to be away from home to-morrow (Thursday) the usual evening service in St. Mary's Church, Belleisle, will not be held. Instead, the Women's Auxiliary of the church will hold their annual social gathering and ice cream sale in Belleisle hall.

fare of the neighborhood gave some help to this worthy object. Perhaps others of the generous, well to do, citizens of Lawrencetown may feel like giving to this real need.

Lawrencetown Creamery is doing well, 1120 pounds of butter made on Tuesday. One week the output was 4066 pounds. The owners speak well of the quality of the cream sent or brought in. Friday morning the children of Mrs. Corkum's Primary Department said farewell to the old school room. The room was decorated with wild flowers very nicely arranged.

The day was wet but nearly all the little pupils were out. All bowed their heads and repeated the "Lord's prayer" as the signal was given. Then a grading song was given, expression fine, words clearly pronounced, and perfect time kept by the young singers. Another song, two parts, well rendered. These children are taught to sing by note. "Longfellow's poem 'Rain in Summer'" was recited by the out going class, or graduates. Cards were given, also a resounding yell, then Mr. F. Bishop and the faithful janitor appeared with a monster pall of ice cream, and all were helped to cones. The children did all their work well. Average about 8 years.

Mrs. John Weizel has gone to Hampton to visit relatives and friends. All are glad to know that Mrs. L. Brown is recovering from her severe illness, though it will be long before
