

The accompanying cut shows Marshall Wells in his boyhood days making a determined effort to obtain a "Comet," for he, early in life, recognized the fact that it is the finest Wheel in the market, and one on which he could make fast time.