THE HISTOGENETIC SYSTEM.

(Testimonial from Seattle Post Intelligencer, May 12, 1890.)

DR. EUGENE JORDAN,

PALOUSE CITY, Wash.

Dear Sir:—Thinking perhaps it might be beneficial to suffering humanity, it is with great pleasure I add my testimony to the many others in praise of Histogenetic medicines. Tongue and pen cannot express my gratitude, knowing as I do that I owe my life to your medicines. Last October I was taken with quick consumption, that dread disease from which all my people have died. Was sinking very fast. Did not know what to do, knowing as I did that our family, in spite of the efforts of the doctors of the old school of medicine, had one by one succumbed. Hearing your medicines highly recommended I resolved to try them. I had no faith at the time, however. I had partially lost the use of my left lung; could not lie on my left side; would lose my breath instantly; constantly coughing and raising pus. After taking medicine two weeks could breathe freely and rest on left side. In two months my lungs were well. Having received such unexpected relief for my lungs, concluded to use it for my chronic ailments of fifteen years standing. Suffering untold misery from a complication of female trouble; prolapsus and ulceration of the uteri, painful and profuse menses, catarrh of the bladder; palpitation of the heart, and in fact the whole nervous system was a complete wreck. I shudder when I think of the number of poisons I took and the many useless and painful operations I underwent in the hands of the best doctors. It is sad to think of the many thousands who are yearly sent to their graves by the same murderous process. After taking your medicine four months I was entirely well of all my troubles. I can't say enough in praise of them, and expect to devote the most of my time in spreading their merits abroad among the sick and afflicted. If the noble men and women of the profession, who claim their chief desire is to benefit mankind, would investigate your system, they would surely welcome the dawn of the new science and give to its discoverer the honour and confidence he deserves, by dropping the poisons of the old schools (which can only tear down and destroy the tissues) and adopting yours, which builds up the tissues and must be the only true system of healing, which will stand the test of ages and be a living monument to you, its author. If your life has lacked anything of happiness, surely you must have found much of the blessings of living in the gratitude of the thousands you have saved from an early grave. Enough cannot be said for him who can turn misery into happiness.

Wishing you a long, happy life, I am your sincere friend,

MRS. W. P. RAGSDALE.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 6th day of July, 1889.

[SEAL] FRANK MAUPIRS, Notary Public.

I have been a great sufferer from a female weakness of long standing. I have been treated by several physicians, and also been under treatment in the Toronto General Hospital, but all failed to cure me. I saw a medical book explaining Dr. Jordan's Histogenetic System, and resolved to give it a trial. I consulted Dr. Rear at 17 Queen Street East, who prescribed these medicines, and assured me they would cure me. I had my doubts, but was determined to try once more. I took two weeks' treatment, and am utterly astonished at the result. I am nearly well, and no language can describe how thankful I am that my life is spared. This testimony is voluntary, and I give it hoping that hundreds of my sex may try the remedies and receive the same marvellous good that I have. They are good to take, and unlike any medicine I ever took before, leave no bad effects.

Sparkles.

THE little Boston boy walked in and sat down with a grieved and disappointed look on his face. "Why, Osgoodson," said his mother, "what is the matter? Have you quarrelled with little Elliot Field-James?" "I have not, mamma," answered Osgoodson, wiping his glasses thoughtfully, "but I cannot associate with a person who chews gum."

"THE demand is good and it is giving satisfaction to our customers," write N. C. Polson & Co., druggists, Kingston, regarding the great Blood and Liver medicine, Burdock Blood Bitters.

"Do you think your sister likes me, Tommy?" "Yes. She stood up for you at dinner." "She stood up for me? Was anybody saying anything against me?" "No; nothing much. Father said he thought you were a good deal of a mule, but sis right up and said you wasn't, and told father he ought to know better than to judge a man by his looks."

Minard's Liniment is used by Physicians.

LADY (to tramp): If I have a good mind not to give you anything. Why do you always come to this house? Tramp: Madame, the woman in the next house is such a wretched cook that I couldn't eat anything she'd give me. Lady (sweetly): Come right in, sir.

THE ink used by the Saxons was superior, it is claimed, to that used in the present day, but they needed the Esterbrook Pen to write with it.

FARMER (to new hand): Hans, you may give the roan critter a jag of feed. Hans: Vot? Farmer: I thought you said you could understand English. Hans: I can English a little unners'-and." Farmer (endeavouring to Germanize it): Well, throw the horse over the fence some hay.

SHUN harsh purgatives. To regulate the Bowels, act upon the Liver and restore a healthy tone to the system, take the milder and more natural means, Burdock Blood Bitters.

MRS. DELLA CREME: What in the world is that awful racket in the library? Somebody being murdered? Mrs. Calvin (calmly): No; that is my husband. He is discussing revision with Deacon Oldschool.

"O, CHILDREN! You are so noisy to-day. Can't you be a little stiller and better?" "Now, grandma, you must be a little considerate, and not scold us. You see, if it wasn't for us you wouldn't be a grandma at all."

Minard's Liniment for sale everywhere.

MISTRESS of household (to suspicious character): What do you want? Suspicious character? (thoughtfully): Well, I dunno; what yet got?

ALGIE DUDSON (who has been carrying little Tommy on his shoulder): There, Tommy, how did you like that? Tommy: Pretty good, but I had more fun the other day riding on a real donkey.

"We have never sold a medicine that has given such general satisfaction as Burdock Blood Bitters," says Joseph Coad, of Frankville, Ont.

FROM Judge Cunningham, a well-known Anglo-Indian, came the following story in illustration of Indian politeness: A judge, who was a very bad shot, had been out for a day's sport, and on his return the man who went with him was asked: "Well, how did the judge shoot to-day?" "Oh," he replied, "the judge shoots beautifully, but heaven was very merciful to the birds!"

Minard's Liniment cures Dandruff.

"WHAT is your favorite flower, Mr. Hayseed?" asked Miss Lillybud. "The tuber rose, marm, the tuber rows," said the good old man, for it was he, shouldering his hoe and marching down to the potato patch.

IT is no wonder that invalids lose faith in all specifics when so many worthless medicines are advertised to cure various diseases, but which, when tried, are "found wanting." We have yet to learn, however, of the first failure of DR. WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY to cure coughs and pulmonary disease.

"WHAT kind of a memory have you?" "Bad—very bad." "In what particular?" "It remembers things that were better forgotten."

IT restores the bloom of health to the pallid cheek. Burdock Blood Bitters acts on the Blood, Liver, Kidneys, Skin, Stomach and Bowels, purifies, regulates and strengthens.

"WHY, Pipelet, this letter must have arrived yesterday. How is it you only bring it to me now?" Clerk: "You see, sir, I thought there was no hurry, as it's about an appointment for next week."

Minard's Liniment relieves Neuralgia.
