Dr. McRobbie submitted the following minute anent Mr. Hossack's translation, which, on account of having been mislaid, was unwittingly detained. Moved by Dr. McRobbie, seconded by Rev. J. J. Elliott, that in view of Rev. D. C. Hossack, M.A., LL.B., of St. Andrew's church, Orangeville, having accepted a call to Parkdale, Toronto, this Presbytery place on record its acknowledgment of his ability and intellectual attainments as a minister of the intellectual attainments as a minister of the Gospel, and while regretting that he felt it to be his duty to leave our Presbytery, yet we must appreciate his willingness to obey the call of the Church to a larger and more we must appreciate his willingness to obey the call of the Church to a larger and more extended field of usefulness which is ever furnished in our large centres of population. During his ministry of about four years he has shown himself a faithful pastor, a clear and forcible preacher, a kind and sympathetic friend, yet a fearless denunciator of prevailing evil. As a member of the Presbytery he was conscientious in his attendance upon Church courts and energetic in the discharge of all duties devolving upon him, and whilst we, as a Presbytery and individuals, are sorry to part with one so trustworthy, our best wishes will follow him and his to his new field of labour, hoping they may ever enjoy a large share of Heaven's choicest blessings. We desire also to express our sympathy with St. Andrew's congregation, Orangeville, in the loss of a pastor so much beloved, and hope they may soon have another under-shepherd placed over them, and that the Master's work may be carried on as efficiently in the future as in the past. The next regular meeting will be held at Orangeville Sept. 12th, at 10:30 a.m.—H. CROZIER, Clerk. held at Orangeville Sept. 12th, at 10:30a.m.

Sutherland preached a very suit-able and camest sermon on Mark xvi. 15. able and carnest sermion on Mark xvi. 15. He dwelt on the commission given by Christ to preach the Gospel as authoritative and universal, on the naturo and excellence of the work, on the effects which the preaching of the Gospel produces, the trials to be encountered, and the encouragements to constancy and steadfastness in the work, the countered, and the encouragements to constancy and steadfastness in the work, the abiding presence of our Lord, His promises of protection and sustaining grace. Sermon being ended, the Moderator asked the Rev. Dr. MacDonald of Seaforth, who was present representing the Foreign Mission committee to state the principal stops which led to the calling of Mr. K. McLennan. The Doctor stated in substance that the great matter with the committee was that the person be called of God. They inquire as to the suitableness of the persons whom they call, as to their knowledge, motives, disposition, ability in acquiring language and as to whether they possess a good healthy constitution and they felt satisfied that they found a suitable person in Rev. K. McLennan. The questions to be put to Missionaries at ordination were then put to Rev K. McLennan to which satisfactory answers were given. The Moderator then
