

TABLE OF CONTENTS

	Page
Introduction	3
Procedures for Duty-Free Entry to the United States	3
1.0 Exporting to the U.S. Department of Defense	5
1.1 General U.S. Requirements	5
2.0 Arranging Duty-Free Entry of Canadian Defence Supplies	5
2.1 Federal Acquisition Regulations (FAR)	5
2.2 U.S. Military Procuring Activities	6
2.3 U.S. Defense Contract Administration Services Region (DCASR), New York	6
2.4 U.S. Defence Prime Contractor or First- or Lower-Tier Subcontractor	6
2.5 Contract Administration Office (CAO)	6
2.6 U.S. Customs Service	6
3.0 Documentation	7
3.1 Documents Required by U.S. Customs	7
3.2 Shipments to Military Installations and Domestic Contractors Plants	7
3.3 Temporary Entry of Articles into the United States	7
3.4 Packing List	7
3.5 Marking Packages	7
4.0 Routing and Shipping Documentation	8
5.0 Using Customs Brokers	8
6.0 Problems Associated with Eligibility for Duty-Free Entry	9
6.1 No Duty-Free Entry Clause in Subcontracts	9
6.2 CAO is Not Notified	9
6.3 Duty-Free Entry Not Authorized	9
6.4 Dollar Value Reported is Too Low or Late Delivery of Goods	9
7.0 Remission and Refund of Customs Duty and Sales and Excise Taxes	10
8.0 Documents Required by Canada Customs	10
8.1 Distributing Documents	10
8.2 Bid Sets Containing Drawings, Blueprints, Specifications, etc., Temporary Admission Permit E29B	10
8.3 Articles Shipped to Canada for Further Work — Invoice Forms	10
9.0 Other Documents That May Be Required	11
9.1 Returning Goods from the U.S. to Canada for Repairs, Alterations, Adjustment or Testing	11
9.2 U.S. Customs Form 4455 "Certificate of Registration"	11
10.0 Suggestions for Faster Customs Clearance	11
Appendices	13