

and his Varied Privations and Admirable Character.— Hardships of the Early Settlers.—National Types and National Characteristics.—The Loyalists Down by the Sea.—Colonists of all Kinds.—Simcoe, Talbot, Selkirk.
 —Mennonites, Highlanders, Germans.—Home Life of the Loyalists.—Gradual Growth of Comfort and Civilization in the Forests of the New Land.—Newark and York.—The Eastern Townships.—The Indians and the Slow Advance of the White Man.—The Fur Trader and the Great West.—Schools and Churches Appear Here and There.—Ships and Commerce in an Embryonic State.—Isolation of Settlers Becomes Less Severe..... 34

CHAPTER III.

ELEMENTS IN THE MAKING OF A NATION.

Position of the French-Canadians.—The Pivotal Period of Canadian History.—Diverse Principles and Characters of the Loyalists and the French.—Early Political Evolution.—Character and Scope of the First Migrations from the British Isles.—Wright, Talbot, Burwell, and Dickson.—Settlements in the Maritime Provinces.—The Irish and Scotch Elements in Canadian Colonization.— Galt and the Canada Company.—The Huron Tract and the Eastern Townships.—The Poorer Class of American Immigrants.—Republican Sentiments and Evil Influences.—Political Results from these New and Varied Elements.—Formation of Canadian Thought and Gradual Evolution of a Public Opinion.—The Migratory Movement from the British Isles in 1834-41.—Land Grants and the Indians.—Distribution of Indian Population.—Lord Selkirk and the Hudson's Bay Company.—The Red River Settlement and its Bitter Struggles.—The Formative Period of Canadian History..... 57

CHAPTER IV.

THE WAR OF 1812-15.

Its Influence in the Upbuilding of Canada.—Importance of its Place in History.—Position of Great Britain and the U

 Norm
 Ambi
 yet S Repul
 Mere!
 Small Spirit
 ments
 Short
 The C Sheaff
 and Pi
 and th
 McDo
 Time.
 Retali
 Prevos
 Mariti
 Landin
 Ghent

E.
 Foundati
 the Va
 mercia
 —The French
 Pleasu
 Quebec
 tancement.-
 Interes
 and th
 almost Aristoc
 in Log
 Scatter