

imports, 479; opposes power of States to tax imports, 480; thinks States may levy export duties to pay charges, 557; favors power over militia, 426; explains power over militia, 452; favors national control of militia, 453; thinks good militia necessary, 454; moves State appointment of officers of militia, 454; favors having money bills originate in Senate, 97; opposes originating money bills in first branch of legislature, 207; opposes provision for money bills, 362, 366; thinks Senate may diminish money bills, 391; objects to ratifications of treaties, 456; suggests distinction in power to make treaties, 459; moves amendment to treaty clause, 469; proposes treaties of peace by majority of Senate, 530; opposes power to use force against a State, 37; favors ratification of constitution by conventions, 59, 308; moves words "on partition" be added to resolution guaranteeing republican government and territory to each State, 89; passed, 89; supports convention's powers, 120; against Patterson's plan, 120; thinks States will increase on national government, 141; discusses rights of States, 164; moves guaranteeing States against violence, 281; favors property qualification for office, 328; favors franchise for freeholders, 353; thinks seat of government must be fixed, 382; favors liberal policy towards foreigners, 384; thinks obligations of States are obligations of Union, 386; thinks bills of credit should not be tender, 413; moves to strike out punishment with reference to piracies, 415; moves power to define piracies, etc., 416; proposes power over lands, new States, Indiana, seat of government, incorporations, copyright, university, inventions, forts, 420; moves power to create offices, 430; favors power to define treason, 430; thinks it should be confined to nation, 431; favors restriction of treason, 434; on committee on navigation acts, 448; thinks provision to fulfill engagements of old government necessary, 450; objects to slave trade, 467; opposed to idea that there can be property in men, 469; would prohibit violation of contracts, 479; thinks

States should not lay embargoes, 479; thinks commercial system too complex, 480; moves legislature provide for execution of judgments, 482; favors navigation acts by majority, 488; insists new States shall be admitted on equality, 487; opposed to mention of Western country, 492; thinks ratification must come from majority, 496; favors conventions to ratify, 497; thinks vessels may clear in different States from that to which it is bound, 591; on committee on postponed measures, 508; on committee on style, 538; moves mode of amendment, 540; opposes suspension from office of persons impeached, 561; proposes universality, 564; proposes power to grant charters, 564; favors precaution against army in time of peace, 565; proposes account of expenditures be published from time to time, 566; thinks commerce ought to be under one authority, 570; extract of letter to Thomas Jefferson, 589; extract of letter to Edmund Randolph, 590; letter to George Washington, 592; note on the Pinckney plan, 606; remarks on question of suffrage, 619.

Manufacturers, encouragement of, by imposts, 479.

Maro and reprisal, letters of, 421.

Martin, Alexander, N. C., attends, 17; seconds motion of ineligibility of members of first branch of legislature and for one year, 152; seconds motion against seat of government at State capital, 332.

Martin, Luther, Md., attends, 79; moves election of executive by electors, 270; moves to consider eligibility of executive to second term, 274; favors ineligibility of executive for second term, 282; moves ineligibility of executive for second term, 287, 313; moves ratio of electors be committed, 289; proposes term of eleven years for executive, 314; seconds election to legislature by State legislatures, 142; on committee on representation in Senate, 205; wants report of committee on representation voted on, 206; asks basis of ratio of representation, 224; opposes voting per capita in Senate, 310; thinks Senate should be paid by States, 403; insists on appointment of judges by Senate, 275; opposes inferior judicial tribunals,