HAMILTON HAPPENINGS

SAYS FATHER VAUGHAN'S ATTACK IS THE LIMIT

"Unintelligent Effrontery" is What Buffalo Lutheran Calls It.

HAMILTON, Sept. 14.—(Special.)—In an address on what Protestantism has done for the world, in Trinity English Lutheran Church to-night, Rev. Dr. Kaehler of Buffalo declared that of all the unintelligent effrontery he has heard for some time the statements of Father Vaughan that Protestantism was going to decay because of irreverence, immorality and atheism was the limit. He said the English divine had the temerity to compare these northern states with South America, where it was not necessary to get a divorce. He described the Spanish-American war as a meeting of Protestants against Romans, in which the former won a complete victory. This was a victory, he said, for right. He considered that the millions that were devoted annually to foreign missions was an evidence that Protestantism was not dead or useless. That was a bad accident this afternoon at Ollman's brick yards in the west end of the city, as the result of which Thomas Teifer had to have one of his feet amputated. He was working about a brick press, when one of his limbs became entangled in it, with the result that the foot was crushed to a pulp. He was taken to the City Hospital.

Appointments to Police Force. The police commissioners this afternoon appointed four men to fill vacancies on the police force. They were: Winter Shackcloth, 27 North Bay-street; John Chappell, Shedoke, George Outerson, Toronto, and William McClure, 157 Oak-avenue. A petition was presented from the force for increased pay, but it was filed. Judge Snider stated after the meeting that he would have to be convinced that the men were not receiving as much in comparison with those of other cities before he would vote for an increase. It is understood that Mayor McLaren takes the same stand, while Magistrate Jelfs favors an increase. No mention was made of the appointment of a deputy chief of police. The commissioners approved of the appointment of ex-Sgt. Finch as special officer for the S.P.C.A., so that he will have authority to act under the Children's Protection Act.

More Fees for Jurors. That jurors should receive larger fees was the opinion of the jury which to-night considered the evidence in the inquest into the death of George Cooper, who was crushed between two cars at the coal yards of the Gillies Guy Company on Monday. Coroner Griffin said everyone had to make sacrifices, but he advised them to lay the matter before the members of parliament at election time. The jury returned a verdict to the effect that death was due to being crushed, and that the car on the siding was not far enough away from the switch to allow the car on which the deceased was riding to pass safely. The annual sports of the Hamilton Hospital for the Insane were held this afternoon, and were a complete success.

Fire at Fearman's Factory. Fire broke out in Fearman's Pork Factory on Rebecca-street, about 11 o'clock to-night, and only the good work of the firemen prevented a bad blaze. The fire was in the spoke house, and was making good headway when discovered. The firemen rushed to the scene, and succeeded in checking the flames before more than $500 damage was done. Adam Zimmerman, ex-M.P., has been appointed as collector of customs of the port of Hamilton.

At the police court this morning Fred McCullough, the asylum attendant who pleaded guilty to assisting in the escape of Moir and Taggart from the local asylum, was released on $500 bail, to appear for sentence when called on. George Corbin, a young man who obtained $51 from a girl he was courting, named Florence Birmingham, and used it to defray the expenses of his marriage to her, was sentenced to 18 months in Central Prison by Magistrate Jelfs. An epidemic of infantile paralysis is reported from Glanford, and the disease is so prevalent that the school trustees are considering the advisability of closing the school. So far about a dozen cases have been reported, but no deaths have occurred.

Death of Friend Caused Suicide. Sorrow over the death of her dearest friend, a girl of her own age, with whom she was raised as a baby, and spent her childhood days, caused Emily Cole, 18 years old, to commit suicide last night in exactly the same manner as her chum ended her life a week ago. Beatrice Stoker was Emily's chum. She lost her position in a department store a week ago, and after bidding her lover, who accompanied her home, good-by at the gate, she went to the rear wall and plunged to death. Her brother found her hat floating in the bay. In the same spot last night the Cole girl's brother picked up his sister's hat. The body was recovered early this morning.

A New Union Station. Following the conference here yesterday between Vice-President McNicol of the Canadian Pacific Railway, President Beckley of the Toronto, Hamilton and Buffalo Railway, and other prominent officials, it is believed that an official announcement will shortly be made regarding the new union station for which the companies have already acquired several blocks of land along Hunter-street near the present T. H. and B. station. William Magee, Sydney-street, was arrested to-night on a charge of keeping a disorderly house. His twin brother, Stephen, residing at 141 and 143, and Sarah Mann, were also taken into custody, and charged with being inmates. Frederick James and Andrew Schuller, who were found in the place, were also locked up. Fire has broken out in the Duncan Lithographing Works on South Mc-Nab-street, as a second alarm has been rung in.

Railway News.

Vice-President McNicol of the C. P. R., and Superintendent Osborne left yesterday afternoon to inspect the construction work at Victoria harbor, on the new C. P. R. line from Peterborough to a purely Canadian body. But, while there was a strong feeling in the convention in favor of organizing western miners, careful investigation was advised by the federal government, which was strongly opposed by several delegates.

That our steam railways will ultimately be electrified, is the assertion of Prof. R. R. Keely, in an article devoted to the electrification of steam railways that appears in the September number of The Canadian Engineer, to be issued to-morrow. Prof. Keely, in comparing the relative merits of the two methods, mentions seven advantages to be secured thru electrification and two disadvantages. Some of the points cited in favor of the change are: smoke elimination, higher capacity of speed, economy of operation, and increased life of plant, due to the absence of gases in the smoke. It is claimed that sixty million dollars is being spent in the electrification of steam roads in the vicinity of New York City.

A Kingston traveler, who signs himself "Disgusted," writes: "Keep up your fight against the railways. Here's my case. Train an hour late leaving Kingston and all the passengers crowded into one car in order to save sending two trains to the Junction as usual; ladies had to stand, some of them on the outside platform, which is against the G. T. R.'s rules. Train one hour and a half late at Toronto and ladies and men had to stand all the way. Another train in consecutive three-quarters of an hour late. Next day to get to destination; train one hour and a quarter late and cars overcrowded; one trunk thru arrived with white and black smashed in."

On Sunday afternoon the West End Chicago Temperance Society will hold a meeting, to be conducted by railway men. Superintendent Osborne of the C. P. R. will preside, and among the speakers will be G. T. B. Hay and F. P. Roper of the G. T. R.

STRONG FEELING IN FAVOR OF PURELY CANADIAN BODY

But Careful Investigation Advised Before Organizing the Western Miners.

MONTREAL, Sept. 14.—(Special.)—To-day's sessions of the convention of the Canadian Federation of Labor were noticeable for continuance of attacks upon American unionism. Deputy McNell, reporting for the committee appointed to report on the possibility of extending provincial workmen's associations to miners all over Canada, so as to have a united body, independent of United States interference, denounced the methods of American organizations in the Cape Breton coal fields strike. The report favored the formation of miners into a purely Canadian body. But, while there was a strong feeling in the convention in favor of organizing western miners, careful investigation was advised by the federal government, which was strongly opposed by several delegates.

Delegate, Teague of Ottawa, who brought forward a resolution that the convention should approve of the naval policy of the government, was strongly opposed by several delegates.

TRIED TO DO THE CUSTOMS Had to Pay $3000 on Goods Which Originally Cost $1900.

NEW YORK, Sept. 14.—Eugene Higgins, the millionaire carpet manufacturer of Yonkers, who ran foul of the customs authorities yesterday when he returned from Europe, arrived at a settlement to-day, by which he was allowed to pay the foreign value of the articles seized, plus the duties. In all, it cost almost $3000 to regain possession of the goods for which he had paid originally $1900. Dr. Adolph Menn of Chicago, a passenger on the same liner, who failed to declare jewelry valued at $70 to-day on wearing apparel he declared yesterday at $200, and on which he had to pay $180 at the pier, but the jewelry is still held by the government.

STILL UNIDENTIFIED But a Possible Clue Has Been Discovered for Enquiry.

Coroner Singer opened an inquest at the morgue yesterday afternoon into the death of the unknown man who was found at Duke and Princess-streets Monday morning. A clue which may lead to the identification of the body was found yesterday. It is a label on the inside of the coat, showing that the garment was made for F. McGregor in April, 1908, by J. J. Follett, the Yonge-street tailor. A laundry mark, "734," was found on the neckband of the shirt.

CANAL AT GRAND RAPIDS Earl Grey Suggests, Would Make Saskatchewan a National Highway.

OTTAWA, Sept. 14.—The secretary of state received to-day from Prof. R. W. Brock, who was with Earl Grey's party to the far north, another despatch giving a further account of the trip. Upon landing at the mouth of the Saskatchewan, a half-breed, on behalf of his comrades, presented an address of welcome, which for penmanship and phraseology could hardly be improved on. Few white towns could have excelled in such a function. In reply Earl Grey expressed the hope that in the not-distant future a canal round the Grand Rapids might render the Saskatchewan a national highway.

The Shadow of the Cross

For thirteen years there has been on exhibition in all Christian countries a painting, which is undoubtedly a miracle—a phenomenon unexplained and seemingly inexplicable. This is Henri Ault's picture (in oils), entitled "The Shadow of the Cross," now being exhibited in Toronto at Paterson's studio, 322 Yonge-street, for the benefit of the Newboys' Home fund. Ault's painting, it seems, has been confounded with Holman Hunt's famous picture, which was exhibited at the C. N. E. The latter is named "The Shadow of Death," and the cross, which it is so mysteriously in the background, is actually painted there. In Ault's mysterious picture the cross does not appear on the canvas when seen in the light; the artist did not paint it there and somehow conceal it from the eye. But the moment the lights are turned out, a cross is seen, in the background, while the whole painting radiates a brilliant opalescent luminosity.

At first one is inclined to think that there is some trick employed, but there are two reasons to doubt this: (1) the shadowed cross varies in distinctness of outline, now being full and clear, and now indistinct and wavering—just like a shadow; (2) for twelve years the artist has sought to duplicate the phenomenon, but without success, and being a very poor man, it is only reasonable to suppose that if he could repeat himself he would do so. Mr. Ault relates that the picture is really an unfinished "canvas." One evening, after the day's work on it, he went into his studio for a roll of music and to his astonishment the picture reflected an opalescent light and the mysterious shadow of the cross. He then decided not to finish the painting but to sell it as an art curiosity. A well-known collector and a philanthropist bought it for $400, and has leased it for public exhibition under the stipulation that a certain percentage of the receipts must be given to promoting philanthropic work. Hence its being exhibited in Toronto for the Newboys' Home fund.

Ault's picture has been praised by clergymen of all denominations and artists of all schools, and declared to be not only a fine work of art, but a positive miracle. It has been seen by over four million people and has been made the theme of hundreds of sermons and homilies. As a phenomenon in the art world it is unparalleled; and no art-critic, connoisseur, collector or anyone interested in art and culture should lose a moment in seeing this wonderful, wonderful spectacle. It is totally different from any image of Christ painted by any other artist. J. D. Logan.

INSURANCE AGAINST ANARCHY Lloyd-George's Views on Question of Anglo-American Alliance.

LONDON, Sept. 14.—David Lloyd-George, chancellor of the exchequer, makes the following reference to the question of an Anglo-American alliance in the course of a remarkable interview published in The Review of Reviews: "I am enthusiastically in favor of everything that will draw the two great halves of the English-speaking world into fraternal union. Think for a moment what might not be effected for the welfare of mankind if the empire and the republic together addressed themselves to the solution of great problems, which make for the world's peace. "No other state could regard such an alliance as a menace to its safety or independence. It would be Anglo-American, an Anglo-American corporation against international anarchy, international brigandage and international lawlessness in any part of the world. Its moral influence would be immense."
