Celebrated Belfast Case. Celebrated Belfast Case.

Mr. Coburn quoted a letter written by a woman from Belfast to the Earl of Aberdeen, lord lleutenant of Ireland, in which she appealed to him to assist her, as she had been married in a Presbyterian Church by her own clergyman to a Roman Catholic. During the time until her second child was ing the time until her second child was born there had never been any difference between husband and wife in religious matters, and after that she was visited by a Roman Catholic priest, who told her she was not married at all, was living in open sin and her children were illegitimate. He threat-ened her that it she did not comply with his request by being married no peace in the house. She refused. and her children were taken away from her and she even was bereft of her furniture and clothes. In her misery she appealed to Lord Aberdeen, stat-ing that she was penniless and longed to see her bables. "Does not this let-ter," concluded the preacher, "show clearly that the No Temere clause breaks up the home, and is it not time to rise up and protest against this iniquitous measure that is bringing misery and ruin to our very doors?' Next Sunday the Rev. Mr. Coburn will continue to speak on this question, taking as his subject, "Rome and the Invialability of Marriage."

BURNED TO DEATH.

HALIFAX, April 9.-George Leo Ryan, the 4-year-old son of Chief Stewart Ryan of the steamer Boston, was burned to death yesterday. The Boston was due to arrive to-day, but was detained by the weather, so that the father is yet unaware of the terrible affair. The mother of the child went out for five minutes to purchase groceries. During her absence the child's clothing became ignited at the kitchen stove and so badly was he burned that he died in an hour.
