rat's sake, would have been daunted, the has persevered, and has amply provint that his "Monte Cristo" drew upon but trivial modicum of his abilities. His permance of "Virginius" has at once placed in before the public as the actor most orthy of wearing the title of tragedian, here is no trace of Edmond Dantes in a assumption of Virginius. One can arcely imagine that any actor could give the admirable performances of those two rerse and difficult roles. Mr. O'Neill is from being a one-character actor. He an artist of the highest grade. He has years been the leading romantic actor the American stage. There is every reath why he should become as well the atest tragedian. There is no other play now before the public who is so welled to wear the mantle of those great gedians who have passed from view.

Port Perry, Nov. 3.

A son of George Hall, an Eglinton workman, called a fellow schoolboy named Arthur Britton names and was licked for it. George Hall met young Britton on the street some days afterwards and boxed his ears, whereupon he was summoned for assault. Hall said that he had never slapped a boy before in his life, but Magistrate Ellis fined him $1 and costs or $5.25 in all. Barrister R. J. Gibson appeared for Britton. County Constable Edwards of Eglintor was thrown out of his rig on Teraulay street yesterday afternoon by the hors running away from a fallen shaft. Thorse ran upon the wooden sidewalk and dragged Edwards some distance, cutting hi pants and driving a big sliver of wood int his cheek. The constable's face was swolen round as a ball last night, but no bone were broken.

To Mr. O'Neill every lover of what is best in dramatic art may well pay an honest tribute of esteem. Many actors of repute can be readily recalled who, having once struck the popular fancy by a certain round of plays, or, more often, by a particular characterization, have been content to wear such plays or roles threadbare, with no effort to grow in the practice of their art. For years he played one role, until he became so completely identified with the character that "Monte Cristo" was as much O'Neill in the public mind as was O'Neill "Monte Cristo" It appeared to be O'Neill and anything else. TORONTO OPERA HOUSE.

Large audiences are attending the performances of "Human Hearts" at the Toronto Opera House this week. There will be a "hargain matinee" to-day at 15 cents for the entire balcony and 25 cents for any seat on the ground floor. "Side Tracked," a four-act railroad comedy drama, is underlined for next week. This place was seen here three years ago, and is full of light, innocent fun and amusement, all of a most entertaining order.

A Cumbersome Whaleback Did Not Answer Her Heim Promptly in the Canal.

Thoroid, Ont., Nov. 4.—(Special.)

This morning about 10 o'clock a whaleback consort, while being to whaleback consort, while being towed up the Welland Canal, smashed the G. T. R. steel rail-road bridge. The whalbacks are a very hard craft to steer, and consequently while this one was passing the bridge between locks 25 and 26 it swung around and crashed through one end. A gang of men were immediately sent to repair the damage, but the structure was so badly wrecked that it wil

With a marvelous array of bargain offerings in every section of the store that far surpasses anything heretofore attempted by any retail concern in this Dominion.

OUR LEADERSHIP was most emphatically demonstrated last week, when such a large number of purchasers came in response to the announcement of our Gigantic Clearing Sale. The result was very gratifying to us, and fully indicates how quickly buyers appreciate the advantages of such an exceptional opportunity. To-morrow we enter upon THE SECOND WEEK OF THIS GREAT SALE, and the bargains which will prevail throughout the entire establishment will be simply unapproachable by any other house in Canada. Every department in this popular shopping palace is fully stocked with the most complete assortments of New Fall and Winter Goods, and each will contribute its share of seasonable lines at the most surprisingly low prices. It will be impossible to duplicate many of these extraordinary values, and although we have large quantities of every line the inevitable throng of buyers will undoubtedly close out many of the special lots advertised. The items enumerated below are but specimens of the unusual bargains that will be on sale throughout the store to-morrow and all through the entire week.
