THE SCARCITY OF LABOR RETARDS WEST END WORK

The great scarcity of men is keeping back the wharf building on the west side to a large extent. D. C. Clarke, Clarke & Adams and Director Peters could all find work for about twice the number of men now employed but they can't get them.

D. C. Clarke is making good headway with his contract considering this drawback and is now ready for the floor stringers on Nos. 3, 4, and 5 crabs. The flooring will probably be put on in the course of a few days. The piling for the warehouse between the north and south crabs has been driven and the capping is nearly completed. The upper work will be pushed ahead as rapidly as possible and probably by the end of the present month the construction of the warehouse can be commenced by Clarke & Adams. The warehouse contractors have for some time, however, been getting the frame work of the warehouse ready and a considerable portion of it will be ready to put in place as soon as the wharf is completed. They are making good headway with the building of the crabs for the extension to the Clarke wharf, but could use more men if they could get them.

Director Peters who is superintending the rebuilding of Union street could likewise utilize many more men if they were procurable.

A BUSY WEEK AT CITY HALL

Several Important Meetings To Be Held During the Next Few Days.

A meeting of the treasury board has been called for tomorrow afternoon to consider a request from the school trustees for permission to increase the bond issue of $40,000 for the new school building to be erected on the Weldon lot, to $35,000 or $30,000.

Following this meeting the general committee of the council will sit, and the Report of Robert Baxter, the assessor, of Halifax, will be read and discussed. It is quite likely that this meeting will be productive of some interesting comments on the manner in which the investigation and the report were handled.

YOUNG GAMBLERS FLED FROM POLICE

Case of Card Playing Discovered Yesterday, but No Arrests Made Yet.

A case of Sunday card-playing was discovered yesterday by the police, but up to the present no arrests have been made.

A guardian of the peace, on learning of the matter, made his way to the Ballast wharf, where he had been told that a group of boys and young men had selected a nice, secluded spot and settled down to spend an hour or two in manipulating the "pasteboards."

The officers evidently "got the tip" that the police were after them, for when the patrolman reached the rendezvous there was no evidence of card-playing in sight.

THE SALVATION ARMY

(Montreal Witness.)

Brigadier Howell, head of the Salvation Army's immigration department in Canada, with headquarters in Toronto, was at the Canadian Pacific Railway office this morning, on his way to England, in connection with the army's next year's programme for directing British workmen into Canadian fields of industry. He stated to a Witness representative that the present year's work in regard to immigration, had proved highly satisfactory. Already something like 13,000 people had been brought over from England and settled in various parts of Canada—the majority of them in Ontario and the Northwest, but a number also in the Maritime Provinces.

Next year, he said, it is expected that this number will be much exceeded. Indeed, the brigadier said the Salvation Army's immigrants would only be limited by the amount of steamship accommodation which it would be possible to get. The demand for British labor in British Columbia is insistent, and Mr. Howell said that next year the army for the first time in its history in Canada, would do something to meet this demand, by extending its field for immigrants to the Pacific Coast.

CHIPMAN HOUSE SOLD

The historic old Chipman house in which the present king of England has slept, was on Saturday last, sold by Auctioneer Landrum at Chubb's Corner, to Harry J. Garson, fuel and junk dealer for $28. The conditions were that the building be torn down or removed within six weeks from date of sale and the base ment filled up level with the surrounding surface. There seemed to be but little interest in the sale and the mahogany banister and two Franklins brought only a small sum.

Mr. Garson says he will call for tenders at once for the tearing down and taking apart of the ancient structure. The brick and such parts of the wood as are valuable will be sold for building purposes and the broken pieces of wood will be sold for kindling.

Thus an old landmark of the city will be removed.

LOTS OF STRAWBERRIES

(Montreal Witness, Friday.)

The feature of the market today is the abundance of strawberries, and dealers who have followed the market for years say that the quantity has seldom been exceeded. The fruit is of a very good quality, being grown for the most part in the vicinity of Montreal, and consequently in fine condition when offered for sale, and prices range from 8c to 12c per box, with the bulk of the sales at 8c and 10c. There will be a big demand during the next few days to meet the requirements for preserving, and in three weeks strawberries will be scarcer than they have been since April.
