ST. JOHN STAR.

ST. JOHN, N. B., FEBRUARY 25, 1902

WITH A CLUB.

Everything is not going smoothly with the valued Telegraph, the big bluffer of the St. John press. Despite the support of two governments and the lavish expenditure of emergency capital, added to kaleidoscopic changes of editors, the organ of the minister of railways has not been the success its promoters desired and expected. That is the reason an agent was sent to the public offices to hound the employees of the government and induce them to subscribe. These public servants, while they were faithful in the performance of their duty, exercised their own discretion in the choice of a newspaper, and most of them chose an evening paper, because the evening is the time they have for reading. Some took the Globe, and some the Star, and some the Gazette. Some, no doubt, took the Sun, and there may have been here and there a tolerant individual who for old sakes' sake endured the Telegraph. But of the latter class the number was so infinitesimally small that the public servants were in this respect like other citizens—they had small use for the Telegraph. Therefore the lash had to be applied and each one of them was asked to stand and deliver—forty cents per month. The railway employees, it is said, were given to understand that the list of non-subscribers as well as the list of subscribers would be sent to Moncton, although what relation there could possibly be between the performance of a man's duties in the railway service and his payment of forty cents per month to Mr. Blair's paper was somewhat obscure. However, subscribers must be secured in some way, and the agent was sent. The Globe, which is also a liberal paper, is understood to have lost some readers because men felt they could not afford to take two papers. And it is not open to an agent of the Globe to go and canvass the men during business hours. Moreover it is not the Globe's habit, so far as the Star can learn, to solicit subscriptions with a club. That lofty eminence of strenuous achievement is left for the Telegraph.

It now transpires that the public offices are closed to canvassers, and the Telegraph's emissary has been rewarded for his work by a position in the post office department. Hon. Mr. Mullock can permit the postoffice here to run one man short in the sorting department, despite the protests of good liberals, but a place can be found for the gentleman who waved the axe for Mr. Blair and his paper.

THE GOLDEN EGG.

Great Britain's imports of eggs cost her annually over twenty million dollars. A society called the National Poultry organization has been formed with the object of ultimately diverting these millions into the pockets of English farmers, through the development of the poultry industry. Just at present Russia, Denmark, Germany, Belgium, France and Canada secure the money in return for these products. The hen is evidently no humble assistant in acquiring wealth. In times past her merits have not been appreciated at their proper value, but matters have changed since then. When one country alone imports of her products to the extent of twenty million dollars, it is quite evident that she is a bird to be given no small amount of consideration. The geese at the capitol may have saved Rome, but the hens of the present day are making history and money as they lay their eggs. Great is the hen, and let her praise be sounded from every barn yard, in every country, where her presence means a certain amount of civilization and at least the nest egg of wealth.

FIGHTING LEGISLATORS.

A disgraceful scene occurred in the senate at Washington on Saturday. Senator Tillman of South Carolina charged Senator McLaurin, from the same state with having bartered his vote. Senator McLaurin gave the lie to his colleague, who thereupon rushed upon him and the two fought vigorously until forced apart by other senators. As a result both were suspended by the senate, and denied the privilege of voting until such is the pleasure of that body, and President Roosevelt withdrew his invitation to Senator Tillman to attend the dinner last evening in honor of Prince Henry of Germany.

It is the general opinion of the street that the election to fill the vacancy in York, created by the elevation to the senate of Hon. Mr. Thompson, will not take place for several weeks yet, if indeed before the general elections.

According to reports, immigration from Russia to America has increased during the last few years by 500 per cent. During the three years 1898, 1899, and 1900, the figures were respectively 29,828, 60,982, and 90,787. The analysis of the different "confessions" of the emigrants goes to show, however, that but a very small percentage of them are Orthodox Slavs. For example, of the 90,787 emigrants who left Russia for America in 1900, only 1,161 were Orthodox Slavs, the remainder consisting of 5,349 Russo-Germans, 15,515 Finns, 37,011 Jews, and 32,797 Poles.

FREDERICTON.

Preparations for the Opening of the Legislature.

FREDERICTON, Feb. 24.—It has now been decided that the opening of the legislature will take place at 2.30 o'clock, as is customary, but that the proceedings will be altogether of a formal character, and will consist only of the reading of the speech from the throne and the address of the mover of the address in reply, and the speech of the speaker.

From four o'clock to six Governor and Mrs. Snowball will hold a public reception at the assembly chamber, at which all who wish may be presented to his honor and lady. Gentlemen will wear afternoon dress and ladies' will appear in evening dress. An orchestra stationed in the gallery will furnish music, and the function promises to be one of brilliancy and will be but the first of many social events to be given by the governor and his hospitable wife.

Preparations are now being made by Private Secretary Barker for the first state dinner to be given by Governor Snowball. As the repairs and alterations making at his honor's residence will not then be completed the first dinner will be given at the Queen hotel. It will be given on the evening of March sixth, the day of the opening of the house. About thirty-five guests will attend, all gentlemen.

Carpenters are fitting up the lieutenant governor's stables for his horses. He will have four at the stables during his residence here, and they will be brought from Chatham on Wednesday.

Some minor repairs are to be made to the house at present and more extensive alterations after the session, as the time before the session is so short that the changes intended by his honor cannot now be carried out.

The exterior of the house is to be painted, too, as soon as the weather will allow this to be done.

COURT GRAND BAY, I. O. F.

High Chief Ranger Chapman, accompanied by High Marshal G. W. Mullin, A. O. Mabey and W. A. Erb of Court Loyalist, J. R. Hamm of Court Rockwood, and J. V. Russell and A. M. Belding of Court Log Cabin drove out to the installation of officers of Court Grand Bay, I. O. F. The two officers first named conducted the installation ceremony, after which there were speeches by officers of the court, the St. John men, and Harry W. Woods and Merritt McKenzie of Court Westford. Refreshments were then served in handsome style, and the St. John visitors had a pleasant return drive to the city.

The officers of Court Grand Bay are: C. M. Hamm, C. R.; Henry Hamm, V. C. D.; Chesley Stevens, R. S.; G. C. Hamm, P. S.; J. A. Gulland, Treas.; Charles Stevens, C.; Charles Hamm, S. W.; W. H. Stevens, J. W.; Stephen Stevens, S. B.; W. E. Hamm, J. B.; W. J. Usher, C. D.; Dr. Patterson, C. Phys.

The court has only seventeen members, and since 1898 it has erected a hall 23x40 with court room, stairs and public hall on the ground floor, has purchased an organ, and is free from debt. The visitors last night spoke in high praise of the work of the court, and of what it had achieved. A concert will be given soon under the auspices of Court Grand Bay.

PARLIAMENT.

John Charlton Tells His Old Friends, the Liberals, Some Plain Truths.

In parliament at Ottawa yesterday, Mr. Charlton moved a resolution and made a speech which was often applauded by the conservatives, but received in absolute silence by the liberals. He declared that Canada had not been making satisfactory progress, and had been losing the very flower of her population. He thought the time had arrived to stop this drain and adopt a progressive policy. Touching upon the alleged preferential tariff, he pointed out that last year our average duty on imports from the United States was 24.83 per cent, while from Great Britain it was 24.87 per cent. Notwithstanding the British preference, the Canadian tariff was 3.5 of 1 per cent, more favorable to the United States than to Great Britain. This should not be. There has been a remarkable growth of our imports from the States as compared with Britain. The burden of Mr. Charlton's remarks was, that if reciprocity on favorable terms could not be secured, Canada should meet the United States tariff with equal self-production at every point.

After several members had discussed the question, Mr. Fielding said he would state the government's view of the matter later. The debate was then adjourned.
