RUMOR THAT GOVERNMENT MAY BUY A NEW HOUSE

The Jas. Neill Residence in Fredericton May be Purchased Instead of Repairing the Old Government House.

For some time past engineers and architects have been inspecting the old Government House in Fredericton, estimating the probable cost of repairing the building and preparing it for occupancy by the Governor. The reports of the men have been received, and it is also ascertained that the Government feel that it will not be advisable to repair the building as the estimated cost is so high.

Another alternative is left, to purchase a house, and it is now thought that James D. Neill's residence at the corner of Church and Charlotte streets will be bought.

Mr. Neill's house is one of the finest in Fredericton, and is located in one of the choicest districts of the city. It is not very distant from the Legislative Buildings, and is quite large enough for the Governor's use.

The house is a wooden one, and is a fine piece of architecture. The grounds are also spacious. A new wing is now being added to the Queen Hotel, Fredericton, and a suite of rooms for the Governor will be laid off from the new part. Until a Government House is acquired the Governor will make his headquarters there during the session of the Legislature.

WEDDINGS.

At Lorneville this afternoon Miss Lena, the daughter of Capt. Grandmark, one of the best known sea captains along the coast, will be married to Harry Ring of the West Side. Rev. Mr. McLean will perform the ceremony. The happy young couple will reside in West St. John.

BOONE-McLEEE. Miss Matilda McLee, a resident of Boston, will be married to Charles Boone, of the West Side, this afternoon at three o'clock.

Mr. Boone is a teamster in the employ of A. C. Smith and Co. After the ceremony, which will be performed by the Rev. G. F. Scovil, the young couple will leave for Fredericton and other points on their honeymoon. After their return to St. John they will take up their residence on the West Side.

BONNELL-McLEAN. In Queen Square Methodist church this afternoon, a marriage which has been looked forward to with no little interest will take place, when Miss Jessie E. McLean, daughter of Mrs. Annie E. McLean, of Elliott Row, will become the bride of Mr. Frank S. Bonnell, now of Vancouver, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Bonnell, of St. John. The ceremony will be performed at half-past five o'clock by Rev. H. D. Marr.

Miss McLean, who will be given away by her uncle, Mr. E. R. Machum, will be attended by her sister, Miss Florence E. McLean, while the groom will be supported by his brother, Dr. F. C. Bonnell.

The bride's costume is of Alice blue silk with trimmings of Dresden appliques and a cream hat with tawny and cream plumes. She will carry a bouquet of cream roses. The going-away gown is of brown cloth with hat to match. The bridesmaid will wear cream Panama cloth with Dresden silk trimmings and hat to match, and will carry a bouquet of cream carnations.

The ushers are: Harry J. Machum, cousin of the bride and Kenneth F. Bonnell, brother of the groom. The church has been very prettily decorated for the occasion.

After the ceremony, the newly married couple will leave by C. P. R. for St. Stephen and points in Maine. On their return they will make a short visit in St. John, previous to their departure for Mr. Bonnell's home in Vancouver.

Very many beautiful presents have been received by the bride, among them being a suitable remembrance from her former associates on the teaching staff of Aberdeen school. The groom's present to the bride was a diamond and ruby ring and to the bridesmaid a pearl ring.

TWO GOOD STORIES.

Sophy of Kravonia, by Anthony Hope, to Appear in the Star—The Master of Slair in the Sun

On Saturday next the Star will print the first installment of one of the most readable and entertaining stories offered to St. John people. The rights for this serial have been secured by the Star for the territory.

The story is entitled "Sophy of Kravonia," and is a new tale by Anthony Hope, whose Zenda stories rank among the most popular of the period. In this latest publication the author adopts the style of modern romance which has made him famous, for though Sophy deals with a period before the recollection of the present generation, the incidents involved are still of historical freshness. Sophy's life, from her childhood in England, through the exciting days of Kravonia, is followed in detail, and the author in his well known vigorous and original style draws numerous pen pictures of personalities and incidents connected with the tale. The book will be found of much interest and is recommended to all readers of the Star.

The Sun will in a few days begin the publication of an engaging serial, The Master of Slair, by Marjorie Bowen. This is a thrilling Jacobite story, and will be found of absorbing interest.

WOMAN DROPPED DEAD ON WENTWORTH STREET

Mrs. Elizabeth O'Brien, widow of Thomas O'Brien, dropped dead on Wentworth street about 11 o'clock this morning. She had left her home on Sheffield street a few minutes before, and then appeared to be in her usual good health. She was seen to stagger and fall when opposite the Home for Incurables. Officer Bowes was near at hand and he summoned Coroner Berryman. When the doctor arrived Mrs. O'Brien was dead. Dr. Berryman states that heart trouble was the cause of death. Mrs. O'Brien was about 40 years of age. She leaves no relatives residing in the city. The body was taken to the morgue.
