Upwards of two hundred from the Educational Institution and town visited Amherst last week on the occasion of the appearance of Madame Nordics at the Empire Theatre.

THE SACKVILLE NEWS LETTER
Town Recovering From Effects of Recent Disastrous Blaze—Total Insurance Not Equal to Loss.

Sackville, Oct. 7.—Business conditions are assuming their accustomed activities in the past few days which were so materially and suddenly thrown out of order in the town by the recent conflagration. Immediate steps have been taken by the town council prohibiting the erection of wooden buildings within the business limits and brick, stone or cement will hereafter be used. Optimism prevails in more or less amount concerning new building operations. Owing to the lateness of the season, however, the work of erecting buildings is being pushed to its extent and temporary quarters are already found by the business houses, while those so suddenly thrown out of business are searching the town for available tenements.
A relief fund has been started for the benefit of the ones found to be in need.
The Sackville bakery and restaurant has been re-opened on York street while C. W. Cahill has also set up his dry goods, millinery and dressmaking business on the same street. Furniture dealers are conducting their grocery and boot and shoe business on the corner of Bridge and Lorne sts., and J. S. Wry has paper, paint and furniture store in the Lorne street building of B. C. Raworth. Work on the foundation of a new brick and stone laundry has been begun by L. C. Corey on the site of the one burned.
The death occurred last week at her home in Mount Pleasant, one of the oldest residents of the place, Mrs. Ellen McSweeney, aged 55 years. Her death was due to injuries received by her fall some time ago. Two sons and three daughters survive.
The total amount of insurance carried by the losers in the recent fire was $20,366.00 with the total loss as appraised by the underwriters $55,000.00.
Mr. and Mrs. Charles Pickard are spending some time in Montreal.
Wesley E. Raymond, the superintendent of the Sackville Foundry Company, has rented the C. N. Real property on Lansdowne street and with his family has moved into the new house.
Mrs. Beal and children are spending the winter in the west.
Miss Julia Hicks left last week for Victoria, B. C., where she will be the guest of her brothers Bedford and Coleman Hicks.
Charles M. Hutchings, deputy minister of justice in Newfoundland, visited Sackville last week. His son is a member of the Junior High School at Allison University and his daughter entered the Ladies' College this year.
Dr. Sangster has returned from a trip to Victoria where he was the guest of his son, Mayor Herbert W. Sangster. Mrs. Sangster and daughter, Mrs. Fowler, accompanied him to St. John.
Mrs. J. Chase and her daughter, Mrs. Schlossinger, left last week for Pennsylvania to spend the winter at the latter's home here.
The Joseph Lowerison property at Mount Whaley has been purchased by Robert A. Hicks, of Brooklyn Road, Leonard Buck, an employe of the Sackville Woodworkers, met with a painful accident while at work Friday. His left hand was caught in a piece of machinery, painfully lacerating the thumb.
Rev. A. Lucas, International S. S. secretary for the West Indies and South America, left on Tuesday for Pennsylvania, where he will spend the summer at his home here.
George Pond has retired from the motion picture business and accepted a position in the brass foundry of Shaw and Mason, Sydney.
The public schools were all closed two days last week, the teachers attending the united institute at Montserrat.
Mrs. Herbert M. Wood and Miss Isla Parvett, who have spent some weeks in company with F. W. Sunn at Montserrat during England, in an automobile, arrived home last week.
Botsford and Westmorland Agricultural Exhibition took place on the grounds of the society at Port Elgin on Tuesday. The day was fine and the attendance well up to the average of other years. This being the first year in which the exhibition was open to the entire county a much larger number of exhibits were seen, although the bad condition of the roads made it hard to bring produce any great distance. The cattle and sheep numbered over two hundred, and the showing of poultry was remarkably fine one. The many perfect specimens of grain, roots and vegetables insure an abundance of good seed stock for next spring. Never in the history of this annual exhibition has there been such a large and creditable showing of articles, proving emphatically that the members of the fair sex in this county are not indulging in idleness. Much credit is due the managing committee of the society, who, in spite of the climatic conditions of the present season, held an exhibition of so successful a nature. The President, William Prescott, of Bale Verte, has held his present office for upwards of thirty years, and it is hoped he will be able to fill it for many future years.

WHERE ARE THE ORIGINAL TEN COMMANDMENTS?

Ark of the Covenant and Tablets of the Law given by God to Moses are said to be preserved in Ancient City of Axum and worshipped secretly.

Where are the tablets of stone upon which Jehovah carved the Law for the Jewish people, and the lightnings of Sinai?
Maybe you think one might as well ask, "Where is the rod that turned to a serpent, Aaron's banner, or, And yet, a recent discovery makes it appear that these ancient tablets, the most famous documents the world has ever seen, are still preserved.
They are said to be hidden in a cathedral in the ancient city of Axum, in the Abyssinian province of Tigré.
The story of their removal from Jerusalem and their preservation by the Abyssinians is one of the strangest tales ever told.
The Abyssinians have long maintained that they possessed the authentic Ark of the Covenant, containing the Tablets of the Law. This by the translation into English, for the first time, of the sacred Scriptures of Abyssinia, the "Fetha Negast," or "Glory of Kings," written in a language so old that only a few of the Abyssinians are able to read it.
This wonderful Bible, of which there is but one copy, not only tells of the bringing of the Ark of the Covenant and "Tablets of the Law" from Jerusalem to Abyssinia, but also attributes the founding of the royal line of Abyssinians kings to King Solomon himself, through the "Queen of Sheba."
Here, briefly, is the ancient story of the theft of the Tablets of the Law.
Magda, Queen of Sheba (later called Ethiopia and Abyssinia), had gone to Jerusalem, as the Hebrew Scripture tell, to see the glory and hear the wisdom of Solomon. She abode in Jerusalem six months, talking with him daily and seeing his wonderful works. The King and Queen were joined in wedlock. After she returned to her own land she bore a son, whom she named Balmekhem, "Son of the Wise Man."
When Balmekhem became a man he was told that Solomon was his father. Then he left his mother and went with a retinue of young men to Jerusalem.
He was like unto Solomon, so that as he entered the city the people bowed down, saying, "Lo, the King!" And Solomon, hearing of him, sent messengers and received him, saying, "Thou art like unto my father David, in the flower of his youth." And Balmekhem showed Solomon the ring that Solomon had given Queen Magda for a token and Solomon knew him for his own son and named him "David," and would have made him heir to the throne of Israel.
"It were better for thee," said Solomon, "to stay in this country, where stands the House of the Lord, where are the Tablets of the Law, And God dwells with us."
But David besought the king to send him back home, for he pined for the mountains of the land of his mother, which he called "paradise." So King Solomon consented. And Solomon taught him all the law of Israel. And Solomon chose out some of all the counselors and priests and judges and men of war of Israel, to return with King David and rule with him in Ethiopia as their fathers ruled with Solomon in Israel.
These young men were sorrowful at leaving Jerusalem. And Azareas and Elmesas, the sons of Zadoc, the high priest, took counsel, saying, "We are sad because of Zion, the Ark of the Covenant, our Patron." For they believed that the God of Israel dwelt in the Ark, and they feared to lose the Ark, and she should be taken to Ethiopia.
And Solomon returned, knowing that it was the will of the Lord.
But he gave word that no man should tell that the Ark of the Covenant and Tablets of the Law had departed from Israel, lest their enemies should mock them.

DAY BY DAY.
Day by day we shall build and brighten;
Making a pleasant world more fair;
Day by day we shall lift and lighten
All of the burdens men must share.
It is for us to loose each fetter,
Roll the stone from the path away;
Making the good of the world still better,
Day by day.
Day by day in our sphere of duty,
These shall shine forth as we march along,
More of the spirit of love and beauty,
More of the joyous strength of song.
Each glad morn, with a faith new-given,
We shall go singing on our way,
Leading us nearer still to heaven,
Day by day.

SEE IF YOUR CHILD'S TONGUE IS COATED
If Cross, Feverish, Bilious Give Delicious "Syrup of Figs" to Cleanse Its Little Bowels.

Look at the tongue, Mother! If coated, it is a sure sign that your little one's insides, the stomach, liver and so forth, are clogged up with undigested food, and that the bowels are sluggish, through cleansing at once.
When your child is listless, drooping, pale, doesn't sleep soundly or is cross, irritable, feverish, stomach sour, breath bad, has stomach-ache, diarrhoea, sore throat, or is full of cold, give a teaspoonful of Syrup of Figs, and in a few hours all the foul, and contaminated waste, undigested food and sour bile will gently move on and out of its little bowels without nausea, griping or weakness, and you surely will have a well, happy and smiling child again shortly.
With Syrup of Figs you are not drugging your children, being composed entirely of laxative figs, senna and aromatic it cannot be harmful, besides they dearly love its delicious taste.
Mothers should always keep Syrup of Figs handy. It is the only stomach, liver and bowel cleanser and regulator needed. A little given today will save a sick child tomorrow.
Full directions for children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly printed on the package.
Ask your druggist for the full name, "Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna," prepared by the California Fig Syrup Co. This is the delicious tasting, genuine old reliable. Refuse anything else offered.

An Artful Approach.
"Son, why don't you play circus?"
"It's great, but, first, you make a sawdust ring."
"Where'll I get any sawdust, dad?"
"Here's the saw. Just saw some of that cordwood into stove lengths. You can have all the sawdust you make."
Now that it has been settled that the Boston Americans are to win their league pennant, the public can begin to give some serious consideration to the question: "Who is to win the presidential election in November?"

GENERAL OUT-BREAK OF WAR
The note was as follows:
"The governments of Russia and Austria declare to the Balkan states: First, that the powers energetically will make collectively to the Sublime Porte a measure susceptible of causing a rupture of the peace."
Second, that, leaning on article 23 of the Treaty of Berlin, they will take in the interest of Balkans, the realization of reforms in the administration of European Turkey, if the powers will make collectively to the Sublime Porte representations similar to the above declaration.
In declining to concur in the views of the two powers, the Montenegro government declared that its patience was exhausted. For over two months it had been protesting in vain to Turkey and resort to arms was the logical sequence. Even if Montenegro stood alone, was added, she will be unable to act differently.
An explanation of the Balkan union is given by an official who understands the situation thoroughly.
An alliance properly speaking does not exist. For instance, Montenegro is not allied with Servia. But Bulgaria, after signing a treaty with Servia concluded a second treaty with Montenegro, and a third with Greece. Bulgaria therefore stands as the link binding together the Balkan states, and it is Bulgaria that plays the leading role.
It will be fine when swords shall be beaten into ploughshares, and spears into pruning-hooks, but it will be better yet when the metal is made into tools rather than weapons in the first place.

NEARLY DROWNED
Bathers and Negro Pastors
Rescue Two Noviates Who Are Carried Away by Seas at Immersions.

New York, N. Y., Oct. 8.—While Carmel Baptist church, of Arverne, Mrs. Clary, to whom nature was unusually generous, was awarded a victory, she felt the underfoot was the surf and she stood in a long while, and she shouted, "Murder!" as the Rev. J. W. Dudley plunged her into the water. She did not assist her to the surface, and the vulgar shouts from the Boardwalk vialy perturbed the earnest pastor, who as he prepared to immerse the noviate, and as his strength bent her forward the crowd heard him say: "Now sing 'Glory, Glory, Glory,' the rest was lost as a rising sea hit Mrs. Clary and swept her off her feet. She was carried to the life line where the pastor and some bathers overtook her and carried her back to safety.
At the same time the Rev. J. P. Hiram was baptizing Dennis Ford. He too, was off his feet before he could proclaim his faith. He was about to be immersed again when the monster sea which stole Mrs. Clary from her spiritual guide struck him a savage blow and sent him scrambling up under the Boardwalk. The undertow caught him and was dragging him out to sea when several bathers went to the rescue and took him ashore.
Both pastors then held a conference under the Boardwalk while the united congregations sang jubilant songs and the collection plates that were passed through the crowd were filled by spectators.
Being baptized in the surf at Arverne yesterday Mrs. Lucy Clary and Dennis Ford were snatched by a tumbling sea from the grasp of two negro Baptist pastors and just escaped being drowned. More than 3,000 spectators, composing a large section of the Sunday excursionists to Arverne, crowded the Boardwalk between Remington and Summerfield avenues, and the irreverent expressions of hilarity of some of them almost silenced the singing of jubilant hymns by the combined negro congregations of Rockaway, and the Mount Pleasant Baptist church.
