WHY CRIME IS INCREASING
Sir Nevil Macready's Belated Admission of Facts—Explanations.
Sir Nevil Macready, the Chief Commissioner of Police, is coming round. He is now prepared to admit that the amount of crime is greater than it was before the war.

"History shows that there has been an increase in crime after nearly every great war," continued Sir Nevil Macready. "It was so after the Peninsular War, and probably so after the Crimean War. One man, again, is responsible often for many crimes. Ten burglaries do not necessarily mean ten criminals. We have a case where one man is known to have been concerned in eighteen burglaries."
