

SAL

E NEEDS

Some of today is not without electrical tools. Let us show you time-saving and articles for toasting, cooking and Y'S 11-17 King St.

Cement
Best kind of Belting
for Saw Mills

- BELTING Shipped
N LIMITED
MANUFACTURERS
HN, N. B.—BOX 702

Stoves

ON, FLORENCE, STAND-AND OPTIMUS
Oil Heaters at Lowest Prices.
Gas Stoves and Water Heaters.

Campbell & Co.
Prince William St.

Shingles

to 2 in.
(wood shingles).
M. loading.
1-23 Broad St.

ONES

ND
TS
U. S. A.
Leading Codes Used.

S, $4.00
and Shade.
C CO.
91 Germain Street.
Phone M. 2152.

R RN
OFS

Clear Cedar Shingles
$4.75 cash with er.
for Shingles Phone in 1893.

Christie Woodworking Co., Ltd.
186 Erin Street

ainless Extraction
Only 25c

ston Dental Parlors
Office Branch Office
Main St. 85 Charlotte St.
Phone 683 Phone 38

J. D. MAHER, Proprietor
Open 9 a. m. Until 8 p. m.

After the Jones Baby has yelled for about two hours

Atholston-Tarte Case Is Settled

Apology Made in Court— Could Not Find Evidence to Back Statements.

Montreal, June 20.—The Atholston-Tarte case, in which Lord Atholston, publisher of the Star, is suing Louis and Joseph Tarte, publishers of Le Patriote, for approximately $50,000, which was to have come up for hearing today, has been settled out of court. The sum involved was the alleged amount of three promissory notes.

The Messrs. Tarte made the following statement in court:

"The case of Lord Atholston against Le Patriote, L. J. and Eugene Tarte, was settled this morning to the satisfaction of the plaintiff. We published in connection with this matter certain statements of a derogatory character against Lord Atholston. We believe it to be our duty to declare that those aspersions were unjustifiable. Indeed, we had pleaded among other things that the plaintiff had received from third parties the payment of his claim, but we find that this cannot be supported by evidence.

MODIFYING TARIFF.

Washington, June 20.—The House ways and means Republicans have so modified the provisions of the tariff bill for a tariff on lumber from Canada that the duty will apply only to longed and grooved lumber which is also planed. This is not satisfactory to opponents of a tariff, but is regarded as some improvement. The matter is still tentative and there will be another controversy over it.

COGGINS-SWEENEY—Heirs wanted of Thomas Coggins, and wife, Frances Sweeney, emigrated to New Brunswick, had three daughters; later came to the United States about 1830. Address Nelson H. Tunnicliffe, 51 Chambers street, New York.

"Le Patriote Publishing Co., Ltd.

"Per Joe Tarte, J. L. Tarte, and President Tarte."

Sir Robert Borden was in court as a witness.

Weddings

Elliot-Ring. Miss Emily Lewis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. T. Ring, Sydney street, and John Scott Elliot were married in St. Luke's church last evening at a quarter after six. Rev. R. P. McKim, rector to the church performed the ceremony. Miss Sarah Ring, the bride's sister was bridesmaid, and Nanford Brown, Boston, acted as groomsmen. Mr. and Mrs. Elliot left on the evening trip for a trip to Boston.

HIS FLESH HORRIBLY BURNED. His Druggist sold him a cheap Acid corn remedy, instead of giving him good old reliable Putnam's Corn Extractor, which has been for fifty years the Standard remover of corns and warts. "Putnam's" never fails! It is always a success. 25c. everywhere. Refuse a substitute.

EDMOND EARL DEAD. Yarmouth, N. S., June 20.—Edmond Earl, of Pleasant Lake, who suffered a fractured skull Saturday afternoon when a car in which he was driving was struck by a train car, died in hospital here this morning.

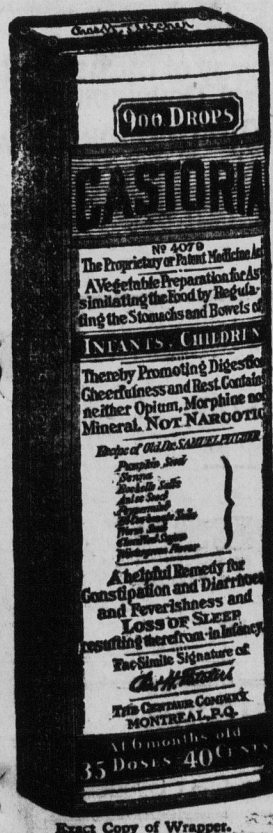

Some More Truths.

WOULD you use a steam shovel to move a pebble? Certainly not. Implements are built according to the work they have to do.

Would you use a grown-up's remedy for your baby's ills? Certainly not. Remedies are prepared according to the work THEY have to do.

All this is preliminary to reminding you that Fletcher's Castoria was sought out, found and is prepared solely as a remedy for Infants and Children. And let this be a warning against Substitutes, Counterfeits and the Just-as-good stuff that may be all right for you in all your strength, but dangerous for the little 'babe.

All the mother-love that lies within your heart cries out to you: Be true to Baby. And being true to Baby you will keep in the house remedies specially prepared for babies as you would a baby's food, hairbrush, toothbrush or sponge.

Children Cry For Fletcher's CASTORIA

Your Friend, the Physician.

The history of all medicines carries with it the story of battles against popular beliefs: fights against prejudice: even differences of opinion among scientists and men devoting their lives to research work; laboring always for the betterment of mankind. This information is at the hand of all physicians. He is with you at a moment's call; he is the trouble trifler or great. He is your friend, your household counselor. He is the one to whom you can always look for advice even though it might not be a case of sickness. He is not just a doctor. He is a student to his last and final call. His patients are his family and to lose one is little less than losing one of his own flesh and blood.

Believe him when he tells you—as he will—that Fletcher's Castoria has never harmed the slightest babe, and that it is a good thing to keep in the house. He knows.

MOTHERS SHOULD READ THE BOOKLET THAT IS AROUND EVERY BOTTLE OF FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

GENUINE CASTORIA ALWAYS

Bears the Signature of

Chas. H. Fletcher

It Took All The Grit Mason Had To Stick It Out

"Every time I go out on a run now I feel thankful to Tanlac for I've convinced it kept me on the job," said William W. Mason, 1924 McClellan street, Philadelphia, for the past nine years a motorman for the Rapid Transit Co.

"I had stomach trouble in a bad form for three years and was going down hill fast. Nothing I ate agreed with me and after every meal I was sure to have heartburn, dizziness and sometimes awful cramps. I got in such a nervous condition my hand shook like a man with the palsy and at night my sleep was broken and restless. In the mornings I felt so miserable I used to dread the time to come for me to take out my car, and it took every ounce of grit I could muster to stick until quitting time. Finally I got so weak and was so discouraged I was ready to give up."

"This was my condition when I started taking Tanlac, and I owe all my present good health to this wonderful medicine and to nothing else. The first thing it did for me was to whet my appetite and I soon found I could eat anything without fear of bad after-effects. It's a fact, four bottles made a new man out of me. My nerves are quiet, I sleep like a log and wake up in the morning feeling fine. Then I eat a big breakfast and go to work whistling like I used to long ago. If people knew Tanlac like I do the clerks in the drug stores couldn't wrap it up fast enough to supply the demand. It's great."

"Tanalac is sold in St. John, by The Ross Drug Company and leading druggists."

ITALIANS STAGE PISTOL BATTLE

One Pair Overtook Two Others Unseen and Suddenly Opened Fusillade.

New York, June 20.—Two young Italians strolled slowly through Delancy street between the Bowery and Christie street at 11:20 last night, their demeanor giving no hint that they could have expected trouble. They were walking east. As they reached the middle of the block two other men fell into line behind them. No one noticed from where the second pair came. The two behind quickened their steps until they were almost upon the first two.

Pursuers Open Fire.

Then two pistols cracked. Before children playing in the street could scatter, or women could get up from the doorsteps of tenements or men could duck from windows the air seemed full of bullets. The two men in front whirled toward their assailants. As they did so, one dropped dead with a bullet through his eye. The other clutched his side, staggered, reeled into a doorway and collapsed, badly wounded. So far as those in the neighborhood noticed, neither of the two young men was armed or had time to defend himself in any way.

The pair who had crept so stealthily after them until they were within certain range, fired wildly despite the nearness of their victims. Each emptied his weapon.

Women Are Shot.

In the doorway of 16 Delancy street sat Mrs. Anna Waxman, with her two daughters, Nina, 22 years old, and Bertha, 18. The three women came into the line of the fusillade and had no chance to move.

Screams told the hundreds who came pouring from the tenements that the women were hurt. At first they thought all three had been injured, but examination showed that Bertha escaped, while a bullet had buried itself in one of Mrs. Waxman's legs, and Nina had been similarly wounded.

One Is Arrested.

Police men of the Clinton street station ran up in time to see a man running as hard as he could go toward the Bowery, apparently having wheeled after making sure his fire had been effective. The man was seized with a pistol still in his hand, his barrel hot.

Fearing that the excited mob which was growing every moment, he ranks swept with hysterical excitement, might attack their prisoner, the police rushed him to the Clinton street station without stopping to learn his name.

WAS RUN OVER BY SHIP, LIVES TO TELL STORY

Relates Sensations While Passing Through This Experience.

SUCTION HELD HIM CLOSE TO VESSEL

Did Not Realize When He Reached Surface—Clung to Buoy Until Picked Up.

Many men have been run over by a wagon or a carriage and survived; some men have been run over by a motor-car and lived to tell the tale, and one man, at least, has been run over by a man-of-war. That is what happened to Harry C. Johnson when he fell from the jibboom of the U. S. S. Annapolis.

"The next thing I remember after falling," he says in the Wide World Magazine, "is striking the water on my back with my hands and feet in the air. The great curving cutter, striking me on the top of the head, rolled over me and passed on. Up to that time I had had literally no time to think. Opening my eyes under the water, I found myself directly beneath the ship, half on my back and half on my side with that black hull above me moving at express-train speed.

Tried to Swim Clear.

"My first thought was to swim clear. In spite of my efforts, however, the suction drew me back against the ship, from the bottom of which I quickly boomed off like a cork.

For what seemed hours I lay beneath the ship, striving to escape the powerful suction. All the time the swirl of the propeller, drawing nearer and nearer, and the thumping of the propeller shaft, turning over and over in the shaft alley, drummed in my ears and considerably increased my apprehensions. At last I reached the stern and was sucked helplessly toward that whirling propeller. My body wrenched from head to toe. Everything grew black before my eyes, and I felt myself going down—down—down—down!

Wanted to Breathe.

"Hitherto, I had not thought of breathing. Now the effort to hold my breath and the desire to exhale maddened me, and I tore at the water frantically in a desperate effort to reach the surface. My vision cleared somewhat, but my bursting lungs seemed to lose all their power, and I exhaled. A million bubbles rolled over my face and eyes on their way to the surface. I did not dare to inhale. I held my breath through sheer will power, but it was torture. But there is a limit even to will power, and at length almost involuntarily I inhaled deeply. Instead of the choking salt water, a rush of sweet, fresh air filled my lungs. I opened my eyes, afraid that I was suffering from a delusion. My head was above the water!

"After the first shock of the blow from the propeller, my wounds did not bother me, in fact, but for a dull ache I should not have known that I was injured. Having breathed my fill of air, I glanced about me. Straight ahead, about a hundred yards away, floated a copper life buoy—one of those big affairs, lighted up with phosphorus, that are carried by all men-of-war. Being a good swimmer, I immediately set out for it. When I got to it I was quite exhausted, owing to the shock and to the amount of blood that I had lost. But I clung desperately to the life buoy, until I was picked up by one of the lifeboats that had set out from the ship shortly after I had fallen overboard."

Obituary

Mrs. Ellen Ryan, friends in the city and elsewhere will be sorry to learn of the death of Mrs. Ellen Ryan, wife of the late Patrick Ryan, which occurred on Sunday at Ryan Settlement after a short illness. She was a lifelong resident of that place and much respected. She is survived by four sons—Rodney, Hugh and Arthur, in the lumber business, and John of this city, also one sister, Mrs. Catherine Devine of Hillsdale, Kings County. Many friends will sympathize with them in their great loss.

SALE of HOUSE DRESSES

In Print, Chambray and Gingham

What is more desirable than a dainty and serviceable House Dress in which you can feel comfortable in warm weather and still feel dressed up.

These we can give you in any of the following materials.

Print Dresses in striped or plain colors.

Chambray Dresses—Colors Blue, Grey and Pink.

Gingham Dresses in all the newest plaids. These are all piped with White Pique and are made of the best quality of gingham.

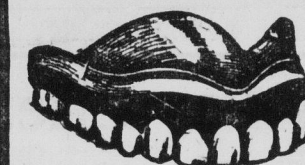

Maids' Dresses—Colors Black or Blue.

Also a full range of Nurses' Uniforms.

Prices range from $2.75 to $6.00.

Showing in Mantle Room, 2nd Floor.

Macaulay Bros & Co.
LIMITED

After Considerable Experimenting

We are now offering to the public lower suction plates that holds as rigidly as an upper. Also a roofless upper.

EXTRACTION 25c

Maritime Dental Parlors

38 CHARLOTTE STREET

Hours—9 a. m. to 9 p. m.

PHONE—Main 2789

Use the Veterans'

Motor Car Washing

Service

They have their own shops, with every appliance for efficiency and promptness, and they'll do the work well. Once they've washed your car, you'll want them to wash it always.

MEMORIAL WORK SHOPS

Water Street, Nearly Opposite Customs House
Phone Main 3681

TRIED - APPROVED

It is not every product on the market that has the approval of men and women who have made a scientific study of food values. Magic Baking Powder has. Not merely because it contains no injurious ingredients, important as this fact may be, but because it is efficient, healthful and pure.

MAGIC BAKING POWDER
CONTAINS NO ALUM

It is a pure phosphate baking powder, and since food scientists tell us that phosphate is a valuable element in food, its importance in Magic Baking Powder will be realized.

MADE IN CANADA