

NOT HAVING SEEN HIS SHADOW THE BEAR STAYS OUT

The terrifying Cossacks are now on German soil. They expect to picket their horses on the Unter der Linden, in Berlin; and they seem more likely to do it than the Kaiser's Uhlans are to let their steeds graze on the boulevards of Paris. Russia has 60,000 of these terrible cavalymen.

Part of the Russian "steam roller" now pushing on to Berlin. Russian infantry always march with their bayonets fixed.
