

to be published and gave a summary of its contents, which led all to have a desire to secure a volume when the opportunity will be given. Miss Della Flatt then followed in a pleasing recitation which was well rendered, as were all her readings and she was vigorously encored.

The Rev. Beverly Ketchen, M.A., of McNab street church, Hamilton, gave an interesting address bearing the congratulations of the Presbytery of Hamilton on the auspicious occasion. He referred to the founders of the church, and bore testimony to the faithfulness and many excellent characteristics of the pastor, as one of the Presbytery's most faithful and most beloved members.

The Hon. Thomas Bain was the next speaker. His father had been an elder of the congregation many years ago and he himself was a member, having united when the Rev. Mr. Christie was the minister. He spoke feelingly of the old days, the old pews and the services then continuing for four hours every Sabbath. He bore his tribute of regard for the grand old people who were strong in the noblest of the virtues, and who were an inspiration to the present generation.

A piano solo was then rendered by Miss Peene, A.T.C.M., of Hamilton, who showed excellent technic and fine expression.

The Rev. S. W. Holden, Methodist minister of Copetown, then spoke of the better relationship which subsisted among the different denominations in these later years and extended the congratulations of his people to their friends of the Presbyterian church on their Diamond Jubilee, wishing them every success in the days to come.

The Rev. Mr. Marshall, of St. George, as representing a congregation whose existence was accounted for by the earnest missionary labors of the Rev. Mr. Christie, spoke eloquently of those Pilgrim Fathers in early days whose earnest
