A Japanese sketch entitled 'In A Pagoda" was played last ewening in St. Andrew's Sunday School partor by Mr. W. B. Horie's Ladies' Bible Class and drew a large crowt.

Mr Horie and the members of his class were all in the costume of the Land of the Rising Sun and the ladies occupied the quaint kneeling posture of the Orientals.

The pretty decorations of Japanese lanterns, the tintinabulation of the music, and the hide-and-seek of the shoes in the shuffing rapid movements of the fair performers all joined in lending interest. The individual numbers were rendered as follows,—
