ADJUTANT PHYSICIANS

Science of Surgery Has Made Great Strides During War
Behind British Lines in France, Nov. 23.—(Correspondence of The Associated Press)—The American doctors who are now at work in various parts of the British front find that army surgery has advanced just as rapidly since the beginning of the war as any other branch of war's activities. In the early days of the war, wounds were of an average gravity far beyond that expected from the experience of previous wars, while tetanus, gas-gangrene and severe suppuration, were general and hindered the comparatively trivial injuries for lack of early and adequate treatment.
This situation has now been altered almost beyond recognition. Serud treatment has almost done away with tetanus, while earlier and more energetic surgical treatment has largely defeated gangrene. More and more of the major surgical work is being carried out in the casualty clearing stations, and some of the clearing stations, and some of the fighting lines. The enemy has endeavored to counter this by persistent bombing of the advanced hospitals, but the saving of life is more than worth the loss of life, and suitable defensive measures are being taken.
The doctor, as distinguished from the surgeon, has also accomplished wonders in this war. The small mortality from disease in the British and French armies is due to his constant vigilance. His two great weapons have been sanitation and prophylactic inoculation. In a scene of unparalleled confusion and in an area of quite primitive sanitation, his exertions have resulted in an astonishing record of sanitary efficiency. Refuse is destroyed or deeply buried, battlefields in many cases are cleaned up within a few days; pure water supplies are provided, and in order behind him the immediate front, order and cleanliness are the rule.
The rules of the Army Medical Officer is not always welcomed by the non-inhabitants, but it works with magnificent success, until camps and health resorts. The routine of these medical officers has probably saved more lives than all the other medical work of the war.
Preventive inoculation has robbed typhoid and dysentery of their terrors, although in all previous wars these two causes were responsible for far more deaths than shells and bullets.

CLUB ROOMS FOR NURSES

(Associated Press)
Paris, Nov. 23.—Club rooms for American nurses and other American women engaged in war relief and recreation work in France will be opened soon by the Women's War Relief Corps. An option has been obtained on a suite of rooms in a hotel centrally located on the Grand Boulevard. Tea and reading rooms will be opened first and later if the demand warrants, meals will be served. The increasing influx of American women in France has emphasized the need of suitable recreation facilities and the relief corps lost no time in providing them.

PIAVE MAIN ARTERY

(Associated Press)
Italy, Nov. 21.—(By the Associated Press)—Gabriele D'Annunzio addressing a meeting of soldiers fighting on the Piave, made a patriotic and impassioned appeal, saying that the waters of the river must be for them a regenerating water.
"The Piave to-day," he said, "is the main artery of our life vein, springing deep from the heart of the Mother country. If it is cut the heart will cease to beat. Enemy possession sully each drop but each one of us is ready to buy it back with his blood."
Captain D'Annunzio urged his comrades to re-conquer all the land in which so many heroes have been buried within the last two years.

FRENCH LOSSES LIGHT.

By Courier Leased Wire.
Paris, Nov. 22.—One French ship of more than 1,600 tons and two fishing vessels were sunk by subs or mines last week. One ship was attacked unsuccessfully.

RICE CROP.

(Associated Press)
Tokio, Nov. 23.—The Department of Agriculture and Commerce forecast the rice crop at 55,000,000 bales (koku), showing an increase of 1,000,000 bales over last year, or 6,000,000 over the average years.
In Korea the crop is estimated at 12,333,153 bales, showing a falling off of 207,856 bales due to the drought of last winter and spring.

QUIT MEAT IF YOUR KIDNEYS ACT BADLY

Take tablespoonful of Salts if Back hurts or Bladder bothers.
We are a nation of meat eaters and our blood is filled with uric acid, says a well-known authority, who warns us to be constantly on guard against kidney trouble.
The kidneys do their utmost to free the blood of this irritating acid, but become weak from overwork; they get sluggish; the eliminative tissues clog and thus the waste is retained in the blood to poison the entire system.
When your kidneys ache and feel like lumps of lead, and you have stinging pains in the back or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment, or the bladder is irritable, obliging you to seek relief during the night; when you have severe headaches, nervous and dizzy spells, sleeplessness, acid stomach or rheumatism in bad weather, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning and in a few days your kidneys will act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys; to neutralize the acids in urine so it is no longer a source of irritating salt, thus ending urinary and bladder disorders.
Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink, and nobody can make a mistake by taking a little occasionally to keep the kidneys clean and active.

HORSE CHESTNUTS USED IN MUNITIONS

Amazing Harvest Gathered By School Boys in the Old Land
Associated Press.
London, Oct.—The British school boys' horse-chestnut harvest is one of the amazing war activities of this autumn. Some time ago an appeal was issued to the school boys, stating that the government could use unlimited quantities of horse chestnut and acorns in the manufacture of munitions. The quantities that have been turned in have exceeded all expectations, and the harvest is only about half it. One small London school has collected 24,000 pounds. A record is kept of the number of nuts collected by each boy, and the best record so far is 21,175. One school room of twenty boys has gathered 115,700.
Generally the school room is used for collecting and drying the nuts, which must be brown-ripe, dry and free from husk. If allowed to "heat" while in storage the nuts are useless for the purpose required. They are therefore not kept in sacks but spread out on dry floor space not more than a foot thick and turned over occasionally with a fork or shovel.
Farmers who have large quantities of acorns find them a profitable crop this year, as the government pays $18 a ton for them on the spot.
