In time it will produce such symptoms as the following: Nervousness, weakness in the back, untidy limbs, tired and exhausted feeling, pains in the joints, irritation of the bladder and kidneys, sediment and loss in urine, emulations at night with lewd dreams, sexual weakness and decline of manly power—these symptoms gradually develop into NERVOUS DEBILITY and IMPOTENCY. OBITUARY

In the cemetery at Cardinal, on the evening of Tuesday, August 2nd, the remains of the late Rev. G. Metzler were removed from the vault and placed in the grave, in the presence of his sorrowing widow and daughter and a number of old friends and sympathizers. The sun shone brightly as it sank in the western sky, the old tower of the original St. Paul's cast its shadow upon the marble slabs and granite blocks, which mark the graves of former parishioners. The waters of the beautiful St. Lawrence were a calm and peaceful appearance as they flowed by on their course to the sea. All nature seemed to blend its beauties with the inspired and comforting words of Holy Writ from the burial service, which were read by the Rev. Mr. Lindsay as the remains were borne to and laid away in the grave, near those of his loved ones gone before, in the spot once occupied by the chancel of the old church, a fit place for one who worked so faithfully and effectually in the church of God, to await the joys of the resurrection morning.

Mr. Metzler was an energetic, hard-working clergyman, who followed closely in the footsteps of our Divine Master. He was an earnest and impressive preacher, but it was in his daily, quiet pastoral work that he was most effective and engaging; none could be more sympathetic than he; none touched more tenderly and successfully those sensibilities which needed to be soothed and invigorated. His cheerful disposition and bright geniality endeared him to all classes and all persuasions. He was educated at King's College, Windsor, N. S., and was ordained deacon in 1869, and priest in 1871. His wife was a daughter of the late Rev. J. Forsythe. His first parish was Antigonish, N. S., where he entered vigorously on his clerical duties. In 1875 he was appointed chaplain to the General Mining Association at Sydney Mines. At North Sydney, through his efforts, a pretty church was built, and a parish organized, which might be compared to the grain of mustard seed. In 1882 he removed to Chrysaler, Finch, Ontario, where he found the church in a dilapidated state, and at once set to work to raise money to build the handsome brick one which is now an ornament to the village. The material was all on the ground, the church partly built and a new bell hung when he was appointed to Cardinal in 1885, although he would have preferred to remain and complete the work. He afterwards placed a handsome font in that church as his gift. Having moved to Cardinal in the early part of 1886, he at once proceeded to improve the rectory, which he did by parochial aid and contributing liberally of his own means. The cemetery next received attention, being very much improved while in his charge. A Sunday School house and receiving vault were built, owing to the generosity of a wealthy parishioner, and a handsome and costly fence was placed around the church grounds, all of which received his personal attention in every detail.

He was in Cardinal but a few months when he was called upon to mourn the loss of his eldest child, Lotie, a bright little girl 14 years of age, who died of cerebral spinal meningitis. A few years later his son, Arthur, was stricken with tuberculosis and died. Shortly afterwards his oldest son, William, contracted the same disease and passed away, to be followed a few months later by the youngest and only surviving son, Sydney.

Sorrow stricken and heart broken, in 1900 he was removed to Westport, where he did good work and was much appreciated. In 1902 he was appointed to the parish of Leeds Rear, where he was doing an excellent work. His health failed last Easter, and he gradually sank until the evening of Thursday, July 14th, when the silver cord was loosed, the golden bowl was broken, and the spirit took its flight. On the morning of July 16th the funeral service was conducted at Lyndhurst by Rev. Rural Dean Dobbs, of St. Paul's Church, Brockville, assisted by a number of neighboring clergy, six of whom acted as bearers. A memorial service was held at Cardinal on the evening of the same day, Rev. J. E. Lindsay officiating.

Now the laborer's task is o'er,
Now the battle day is past,
Now upon the farther shore
Lands the voyager at last.
Father, in Thy gracious keeping,
Leave we now Thy servant sleeping.

There the tears of earth are dried,
There its hidden things are clear,
There the work of life is tried
By a juster Judge than here.
Farther, in Thy gracious keeping,
Leave we now Thy servant sleeping.

Diminished Vitality

Some people talk very flippantly about diminished vitality. They don't stop to think that vitality is the principle of life—that it is that little understood something on which every function of their bodies depends.

Diminished vitality is early indicated by loss of appetite, strength and endurance, and Hood's Sarsaparilla is the greatest vitalizer.
