Wm. Karley,

THE GREAT BLOCKADE

The snow fall of last week and high inds proved altogther too much f r the B. W. & N. Rv., and as a result many travelers were storm staved and Athens and all points west along the were without mail service from Brockville from Thursday to Tresday noon. Such a deprivation of mail service never before occurred, and business men are seeking to learn the cause and have the proper remety applied.

The railway managers placed gangs of men working with trains from each end of the line, but they made slow progress in litting the bl ckade, as the drifting snow filled in behind them wa proceeded. The depth of snow before ast week was such that even on the level the trains passed through a narrow avenue between walls three and four feet in height Into this narrow way the snow was driven and packed by the high wind so that forcing a passage without shoveling was almost impossible throughout a large part of the line.

While it has been apparent that the railway men were doi g their best o open up the line, the question of why Athens was deprived of mail service for such a long period remains unanswered. The highway between this willage and Brockville has been open to traffic, and arrangements could easily have been made to send mail to Athens and office- served from this by the carrier of the mails be tween Brockville and Glen Buell. A little departmental red tape may have prevented this, but we are informed that negotiations are now in progress to prevent a repetition of this stoppage of His Majesty's Mails.

At 9.40 a.m. on Monday a train left Brockville, and it was expected that a clear run could be made to Westport, but heavy drifts were encountered after passing Athens, and working in conjunction with the east bound train, which left Westport at the same time, was not until Tuesday evening that he line was opened between Westport and this place.

On Wednesday morning about 9 clock the cheering sound of a train whistle reached Athens and shortly after a train from Westport ploughed its way to the station. It carried a number of passengers and a gang of shovelers. A second train with ano her gang of shovelers had left the terminus ten minutes later, and the men were engaged in clearing up the track as they proceeded. After heaving Athens the train ran only to Elle before being stailed, and it took all the rest of the day before a passage was gang of men from Brockville were working this side of Clow's cut. At 7.40 r train arrived from Brockville bringing about twenty bags of mail matter and express to Athens and continued on up the line. This ended the blockade.

Those who have not been in the blockade have little idea of the difficul ties the railway company had to encounter. The oft repeated drifting storms had necessitated the formation or great embankments of snow by the showlers in some places, so that in removing the last blockade it was necessary to station men up the side of the embankments and handle the snow three times before it could be thrown clear of the track

The B. W. & N. offi ials have put up a great fight, under most difficult and disheartening conditions, and the success that has attended their efforts my been quite equal to that achieved by many of the older railways of the

Death of George Webster

Died on Saturday the 18th at his youngest son of the late John Webs-About a week ago he contracted a cold, which soon developed into a serious case of pleura pneumonia, and which, in spite of the most careful tursing, ended in his death. Of a genial disposition, he won many friends, who join in extending their friends, who join in extending their sympathy to the be eaved sisters and brother, viz.: Mrs. Robt. Maud of Oak Leaf, Mr. Wm. Webster of Smith's Falls, Mrs. J. D. Latimer of Lansdowne, and the Misses Eliza and Tillie at home. The funeral, was conducted by the Rev. Mr. Patterson, rector of Christ Church, in the Preshy. rector of Christ Church, in the Presby-Main St. Athens, and country attended the obseques.

Medal Contest

As was expected, the medal contest. held under the auspices of the W. C. T. U. on Monday evening, gave a very pleasing entertainment. Rev. S. J. Hughes presided and seats near the platform were occupied, on invitation, by Revs. R. B. Patterson, I. N. Beckstedt and L. M. Weeks. The ladies had nicely arranged the vestry of the Methodist church, so it presented quite a cozy and inviting appearance.

The musical part of the programme consisted of the following, every number of which was strictly high class :-Solo--Miss E. Hugh Duet-"Morzowski Spanish Dances (Op 12 No. 5) by Misses Culbert and Weeks. Soio-"The Bridge" (Lougfellow)

y Miss Culbert. Solo_"Rocked in the Cradle of the Deep" (Emma Willard), by Mr. B. S. McConnell.

Duet-"March du Diable" (Suppi 5) by Misses Marie and Bessie Weeks. Trombone Solo-"Saved by Grace" (F J. Crosby) by Mr. S. Manhardt. The piano accompanists were Mi-s Weeks and Miss Taplin.

The contestants were as follows and spoke in the ord r named: Miss Edna WcBratney, Miss Hazel Rappell, Miss Helen Le gett, Miss L. Green, Miss Crystal Rappell, Miss Leita Arnold.

All the numbers were heard with closest attention, and as the speakers were above the average as elocutionists the selection of the one pre-eminent was not an easy task; at least this was the experience of the judges, who were Mrs. Deitrich, Mrs. D. Fisher and G. F. Donuelley. On retiring, the judges compared totals and by adding the separate results found that No. 6 (Miss Arnold) led by a plurality of 1. On one in Sturday the 18th at his the judges returning and announcing their finding, Miss Arnold was called to the front and Mrs. (Rev.) We-ks, after a brief, but truly eloquent and impressive address, presented her with the medal offered by the Union. Then the national anthem, heartily sung, and the prononncing of the bene diction brought the meeting to a close.

Here is Pointer

Any man who wants a good overcoat and who would like to keep half or a third of his money, had better come and see our stock-taking sale and see what's going on. There isn't anything to look out for. No sir! Not at our store. For our overcoats are as good as any tailor made overcoats. To anybody who isn't satisfied with his bargain we'll be glad to give your money back if you want it. You see some of our overcoats are half price. They are the overcoats we are anxious to sell. Perhaps the very overcoat you are most anxious to buy. Our reason for all this? Because we want the room for our spring goods. Our store is getting too crowded with goods, and we must get rid of the few odd lines of winter goods. No use to mention price on paper, but
