Erickson's Pretty Bride Refused to Milk Cows.

Des Moines, Sept. 25 .- Two Swedes, Olson and Erickson, bought adjoining farms in Central lowa. Erickson wed a rosy cheeked Swedish girl, who had been in service in this country for a few weeks previous to her marriage. Now, Hulda had ideas of her own. She married Erickson in order to become "a real American lady."

The first difficulty arose when, much to the amazement of poor Erickson, she refused to milk the cows. Her husband waxed emphatic and punctured his remarks by kicking the new milk pail, beating the cow and threatening the bride, but all to no avail. Hulda would be a lady.

In desperation he appealed to Olson, his friend and neighbor. The good Ol-son's frau was an able bodied dame from son's frau was an able-bodied dame from Holland. Not only did she milk the cows and plough the corn, but upon occasion she worked in the hay field as well. Katrina. too, had reared three stalwart sons of Holland thrift, but Katrina had not roses in her cheeks . Her rina had not roses in her cheeks. Her waist line was no longer trim and neat nor her eyes an enticing blue.

Mr. Olson grew a bit far sighted. He could spy Hulda's blonde head and print dress across a ten acre field, hence he was most ready o (sympathy when his friend Erickson approached him with tales of domestic woe. In fact, he encouraged the confidences and promised labor with Hulda concerning the marlabor with Hulda concerning the martial difficulties. Katrina seemed to grow suddenly very old. Her thrift was often annoying and she was overpar-ticular about hours.

After commaning much with Erickson and more with Hulda together they hit.

one fine morning Mr. and Mrs. Erickson, with Mr. and Mrs. Olson, climbed into the Olson wagon and drove to the country seat. Mr. and Mrs. Erickson, with Mr. and Mrs. Olson, in the Olson wagon, drove, beek that evening by the new milk pall, and Olson remembered how Katrina had, half heartedly, compelled him to sleep in the barn when he had returned a bit late from a chat with his friend Erickson.

That same evening as Katrina sat patiently milking Mr. Olson led over to his friend Erickson the finest of his heifer calves—because, as any may see, "a trade is a trade, and should be fair."

Last month the Ericksons sold out to go further west, Katrina wanting more land, and no one was so sad to see them go as their old friends the Olsons.

Ottawa, Sept. 25.-Canada's fifth cen us, begun in June, has been completed and the official figures will be made public in a few days, as soon as the returns are in from the far-off Yukon and Northwest districts. First among these is the fact that Canada's total population is well under the eight-million mark, which enthusiastic prophets had foretold. The returns show that Toronto and Montreal have made the largest gains to population. The former has the greatest percentage of gain and the latter est percentage of gain and the latter the largest gain in numbers. The Maritime Provinces, New Brunswick and Nova Scotia have not grown as have Quebec and the other provinces, has that they have more than held their own is about as strong as the census officials will put it.
