THE ROUT AT TCHATALJA.

London, Nov. 11 .- The Victorious Bul-Jondon, Nov. 11.—146 Victorious mul-garians made one swift, vicious sesault on the fortifications of Tchatalja to-day, and won them. The disheartened Turks are now scattered over the 25-mile district between these captured lines of defence and Constantinople, and the Bulgarians are pursuing them, capturing some and killing others. There is now nothing save these disorganized, fleeing bands of Turks to stop the Bulgarians in their conquering march to wards the capital of their enemies.

Flushed with the increasing total of victories, the Bulgarian troops, under the direction of King Ferdinand, decided this morning that it would not be neceseary to await the arrival of the rein forcements which have already started from Sofia. The grating hatred which the Bulgars feel towards the Turks fed fire to the real of the soldiers, and after testing the metile of the defensive army

The Turks had been yielding to his varied attacks dur-ing these days, and this afternoon he piled all his forces on top of the Turks on a sweeping assault. on a sweeping accault.

The Turks resisted as best they could. The Turks resisted as best they could, but the soldiers, weak from lack of food, disheartened by defeat, and naving endured terrific physical hardships dur-ing the few weeks of the war, at last were pushed from their position. The retreat of the Turks began in confusion, which increased as the Bulgarians preceed home their attacks, and at last the Turks broke into a sprint for their capital, throwing away their made and capital, throwing away their packs and arms to increase their speed.

There are 600,000 Christians in the town normally, and in the event of a marsacre these will in-evitably be wiped out. The feeling against them is caused not by the fact that it was coalition of Christian na-tions who are winning the victories tions who are winning the victories against them, but also because the Mo-hammedan Turks say that the loss of many battless was due to the fact that the Christian soldiers in the Turkish army were the first to break under heavy fire.
