COMMUNITY SALES

Community Sales are a feature of modern commercial development. One of them has recently been tried out in St. John, N.B. with much success. The plan seems to be that one or two representative stores in each line of merchandise agree to have special bargain sales during a certain week. The management of these stores combine to advertise the event in a wholesale fashion and the result is that the community as a whole gets a big bargain. The plan seems to be that one or two representative stores in each line of merchandise agree to have special bargain sales during a certain week. The management of these stores combine to advertise the event in a whole-sale fashion and the
