"Ha, 'Eathcliff," he cried, holding out a slender, white hand; "the very man h'I wanted to see. 'Aven't seen you for a fortnight; my 'orse won the Derby but h'I lost it h'll the same night; h'I expected you round but you didn't show up. H'Im sorry to seem pressing, but h'I-ah! h'I say, 'Eathcliff, h'I must 'ave that money you owe me, by to-night, you

"Hush, not a word of that here. Lennox, you'll ruin me." said Heathcliff glancing hurriedly about him. "Ruin you; that's pretty good," cries the young Englishmah going off into a peal of uproarous laughter; "egad, h'I thought you were ruined h'already, 'Eathcliff, h'I believe honestly, the h'only h'objeci belonging to the 'Eathcliff estate which remains h'unmortgaged, is your-

"It is equally sure that no one would lend money on me," returned Heathcliff. "Come into this cafe," he added, knowing the other's particular weakness; and taking this means of ridding himself of him, "and we will have a champagne together."

"No." says Lennox, drawing back, "h'I've sworn h'off to please my mother h'and sisters; h'I've just got over a week's sickness, the result of h'our last champagne together; h'I vowed h'if h'I pulled through that, h'I'd cry quits."

"Nonsense," retorted Heathcliff, impetiently, quoting, with a sneer on his

"When the devil got sick, he devil a monk would be. When the devil got well, the devil a

"That would be more like you Lennox, eh?" taking him by the arm, notwith it for the present.

"I'll see you later, my dear boy," said congenial friends they found there.

when he does say 'no.'" soliloquized. "Irene will wonder what the amusing spectacle.

She was still sitting on the rustie seat | to persuade me to marry him?" she wonwhere he had left her when he drove dered vaguely, taking he thread of hurriedly up to the part entrance.

Irene?" he asked, as he handed her into ready. The very touch of his hand clasp-absorbed in thought, I quite forgot you." She glances at the clock on the wall, and "That is not very complimentary," he perceives with a start of dismay that fifteen remaiked, quickly. He did not tell her that, anticipating her consent, he had already taken out a self-"he was to return in three minutes." special license and engaged the services of | Irene watches with dreamy eyes the a rector, who was waiting even at that throng of people that come and go. The moment to receive them.

church, she was startled by a sudden civ not return. Surely he could not have forfrom his lips, by the sudden pallor of his gotten her, she thinks. face. "Why, Irene," he cried, "do you to the altar in black crape?"

You forget the circumstances of this fairly fly. marriage," replied the girl; "you insisted London within the hour. I could make clearly. no preparations. You were content to Once again the irrepressible Lennox take me just as I am, you said. I had enters, this time carefully brushed offnot thought about the color of my dress." and little the worse in appearance from He was not as he said, a superstitious the dizziness of two hours previous. man, but the idea of his bride standing at the altar beside him robed in black ling to secure the necessary bit of pastecrape, filled him with dismay.

CHAPTER V.

IT WOULD HAVE BEEN BETTER HAD SHE DIED. How gloomy the interior of the dim old church seemed to Irene-with its stained glass windows, marvels of richness and ladies thinks of giving way to the other, color, with figures of saints upon them in the struggle for supremacy to be first; other for some time without saying anywith palm branches and golden erowns. The white-haired minister looked at the to escape the iron railings. couple he was to wed as they advanced. How lovely the bride elect was, and how strangely ill at ease the handsome bride- from contact with the huge boxes and pose," he thought, For the sake of the fair young face he triumph. asked few questions. Yes, it was perfectly, legally right—no business of his. Then smothered titter. he opened his book. For a moment there of birds outside, and the rustling of the Then slowly, solemnly, the words were spoken and the responses uttered that made this fair young girl Karl Meath- the official.

They signed their names in the register shook the bridegroom's hand, wishing him every happiness. "I have never seen a more beautiful bride," he said, " always to what was transpiring about her, her be kind and loval to her."

Irene was startled at hearing the bells peel as they walked down the aisle to she sobbed under her breath. "I grow gether. Karl Heathcliff's face was flushed, anxious, terrified, what can it mean? the very solemnity of those words "Until to twenty minutes of three. death do ye part," that had startled her, married was anything like this; all the pasteboard. people she had ever heard speak of marriage did it with a light, careless laugh as he said, "what's the damage?" though it were some great joke, and here memory of it would always alarm her. "My wife!" - whispered Heathcliff, all accidents." foliage trembling in the summer breeze: the bells filled the air with sweet music; how well Irene remembered every detail newsboys, darting their heads through as of that scene in the dark days that fol- many open windows and doors, singing

"To the railway station, - street," Heathcliff directed the driver; adding "an extra pound if you make it within ten minutes."

Looking from the window of the carriage, he had seen a face in the crowded thoroughfare that made his own pale alarmingly and seemed for an instant to fascinate him.

And I, loitering here.

tation was so great he had not even heard | me, I procured a bottle and obtained per-The driver whipped up his horses and | without doubt the quickest relief for rheu-

Irene suggested here.

"When we reach the end of our journey we can telegraph her, explaining matters,' He did not think there was any use in telling her the truth just then-that he meant that no one should ever discover whither they had gone. The railway station at this hour was always crowded. Heathcliff found a seat for Irene, murmuring as he bent over

"You shall never regret this step, my darling." Crossing over to the ticket office, he inquired in a low voice-after glancing carefully and keenly at the group of men near him to learn whether or not he was particularly observed-"Can I get tickets here for Edinburgh ?" "No, sir," answers the agent; "get them at the Scotch mail route depot, three blocks down the street; wrong depot." "How long will it be before the expres-"In fifteen minutes, exactly; you'll h very lucky if you catch it, sir."

Heathcliff returns to Irene's side, hur "We are at the wrong depot it seems." he said, "I am sorry I dismissed that cab man so soon; I shall have to get another. Wait here until I return. It is just twelve o'clock now, Irene," he says, comparing his watch with the huge clock on the wall, "we will have bare time to make the train. I shall be back for you within "Had I not better go with you, Karl?

she suggested. He shook his head with smile, hurrying away. As he reaches the doorway, a very dila pidated looking individual in a crushed hat and very muddy cutaway coat, his hardly recognizable, ran directly into Heathcliff's arms. oughed, in a voice thick with wine.

"You had better look out where you are going to next time, fellow," retorted Heathcliff, angrily, brushing the dust face which by no means improved its from his coat sleeve and immaculate shirt front, with his silk handkerchief. The "fellow" looks after Heathcliff, and attempts to utter a low whistle, but it is a failure; he is too utterly "gone" for that. "W-why tha-thats 'Eathcliff, 'pon m-my soul," he hiccoughs. "Guesh 'ee standing the poor fellow's entreaties, didn't rec-rec-nize me. No mat-ter Heathcliff soon had him in the cafe. A (hic)-'ees a mean fellah any'ow that few minutes more, and despite all Len- 'Eathcliff. So mean if 'ee lay in the gutnox's resolutions, he was unable to leave ter, h'I wouldn't pick 'im up with a pitch-

At this juncture, Mr. Lennox, for it is Heathcliff, turning him over to a party of he, is taken in charge by the railway officials, and hurried summarily from the "He is disposed of," he muttered, as he waiting-room, though he protests he gained the street—"a soft-brained fool, wishes to buy a ticket and go on that that, who hasn't the stamina to stick to it | train, much to the amusement of the passengers; even Irene was diverted from

"Have I done right in allowing Karl her communings again "I oh Heaven "Has the time seemed long to you, forgive me, I beginning to repent of it aling mine always sends a cold chill "No," she simply answered; "I was so | throug my heart; I cannot tell why."

minutes have elapsed. "What can detain him?" she asks hermoments drag themselves wearily on, As they crossed the portal of the old but much to her surprise Heathcliff does

The clock on the wall marks the hour know that you are attired in black crape? of one; fifteen minutes more pass then I am not superstitious, but it frightens another half, and with fascinated eyes she me. Who ever heard of a bride coming watches the hands of the great clock creep round to the hour of two. Time seems to

Should she wait longer or return home upon an immediate marriage in order to she is so puzzled, so bewildered, by all catch the outgoing train which leaves that has transpired she cannot think

There is the usual pushing and scrambwhen it is thrown open. "One at a time, sif you please, shouts the official, but neither of the two thus formed with a derisive shout of Lennox watches the spectacle with a "I'll bet on the one this way for a and ask them to act in the matter.

was deep silence, broken only by the songs | place," he says sotto voce to the official, "Lawd pity the poor devil, ah 'as to pay MARRIED IN JAIL. leaves stirred by the wind tapping the for the other 'alf h'of the seat with either. h'of 'em don't you know." "You'd better get your ticket, sir, if you intend to go by this train, suggested Lennox made his way to the small win dow from which the ticket agent's face in the vestry. The old minister touched | beamed out, with alacrity, that is, considthe lovely, pale face, wishing her joy, and ering the dizziness of a head that seemed considerably too large for his hat. Irene was by this time utterly obliviou thoughts were so distracted. "Oh Karl, Karl, what can detain you? Irene's was pale and frightened. It was The hand of the clock on the wall pointed Lennox had been regarding the beau and she trembled as she thought of them | tiful tace of the young girl pacing so rest--such solemn words-such terrible vows; lessly from window to window that he in an editorial about No-To-Bac, the famshe never thought, never dreamed getting had almost forgotten the necessary bit of ous tobacco habit cure. "We know of 13 rounds. Fitzsimmons weighed 1503

"Ticket to Liverpool, my good fellah, "Train hasn't started; can't tell that it proved to be so terrible, so real, that the yet," replied the agent. "Want a life in- bacco makes him sick." No-To-Bac sold apolis in 4 rounds. On July 22 arrange- 17 years. They were the only children was shining, the trees with their green | pool; h'I'll take it straight," he cut in,

"Extra! Extra!" cried half a dozen out in a chorus the startling denouement "Extra! All about the capture of the

More Kind Words From Hamilton Regarding the Great Remedy Which Cures Rheumatism in One to Three Days.

"He here! It cannot be him," he mut- Grath streets, Hamilton: "Several months | terday on board a transport at Kungpai, tered. "Good heavens, if it should be! ago I was affleted with rheumatism, which | near Kingchow. The steamer had on completely crippled me. South American | board a large number of troops, six hun-Irene had spoken to him, but his agi- Rheumatic Cure being recommended to dred of whom are reported killed. fect relief from the first few doses. It is in less than ten minutes landed them at | matism I have ever seen, and I heartily | becomes an easy prey to Consumption, or the railway station, earning the extra recommend it to all sufferers from this Scrofula. Many valuable lives are saved disease." Sold by W. H. Carten, C. A. by using Scott's Emulsion as soon as a de-"We cannot leave in this summary | Burchill and J. M. Wiley. cline in health is observed.

fashion without letting Mrs. Grey know," | most daring and expert robber in London! The startling arrest by a Scotland Yard detective. Extra! Extra!"

There is as usual a rush for the papers. "'Ere lad, lets 'ave a copy," says Lennox, and he secures one,

His eyes begin to stare as he reads the headlines. The shock he sustains as he read further on succeed in completely restoring his rather dazed faculties. TO BE CONTINUED. SAM BEARDSHIS TEACHER. Story of a Bad Boy in a South Amboy

A boy of fifteen and a schoolmaster of thirty-eight were the dramatist personæ, and a ruler and the schoolmaster's whiskers the properties, of a farce comedy, in Raritan, Public School No. 2 of South Amboy Monday morning. The juvenile part was played by Sam Watson, the son of Frank Watson, a machinist, who lives at 92 Second street, South Ambov. The part for the walking gentleman was admirably taken by Principal William L The plot is as follows: Sam Watson is a pupil in the A class of the grammar de partment. He went to school last Mon. day morning, and attended the first recitation of his class, which ended about 9.30. Between the first recitation and the second a half hour and recess intervened. When the recitation was over he walked back to his desk. As it happened he had the second recitation prepared, and so had nothing to do in the interval. Sam has no mean ability at sketching with pen or pencil. Very soon after he had sat down at his desk he began making pictures on a pad. Just as he was putting the finishing touches on the picture of a face so bespattered with mud, he was hand he had drawn, Mr. Heineken entered the room. Looking about at the pupils for a moment, he walked up the aisle to a point just back of Sam's desk. The boy kept on with his drawing, never looking up for a moment, until, as he says, Mr. Heineken hit him across the back with the flat of his hand. Then the fun began. The boy thought that a schoolmate in the seat behind his had hit him. Picking up a ruler which lay on his desk. Sam, with no delicate motion, brought is around back of him. He meant, he says, to hit his schoolmate in retaliation for the blow on the back. The ruler hit something, with a resounding whack. The something, however, was not the schoolmate, but the schoolmaster. The rule landed on the teacher's knuckles, and the > collar, he cried: "Here! you young rascal, what are you doing? What do you mean by hitting me with a ruler?" Sam didn't know until then that he hadn't hit the boy who sat behind him. On learning what he had done he concluded to say nothing and wait for develop ments. Mr. Heineken's knuckles were smarting and the pupils were tittering audibly, neither of which circumstances tended to mollify his feelings. Still holding the boy by the collar, Mr. Heineken said, with much sternness:

"I want you to understand, sir, that you do not come to school to waste your time drawing pictures. Put up that pad this noment and study your next lesson." "Got my next lesson," replied Sam,

"Well, it won't do any harm to get i over again. At any rate, put up that pad

"Don't have to," drawled Sam. "You didn't buy that pad. I bought it with my own money, and I'll do as I please with it. You can't make me put it up, either." "You're the stuff!" yelled one of the other boys, whom Mr. Heineken is still trying to identify, Then the whole school laughed outright.

"Can't I make you put it up?" cried the teacher. "I'll see about that." With this he made an effort to seize both of the bov's hands. The effort was successful as far as one hand was concerned, but Sam was took with the other. According to the story told by several of the pupils, the boy jumped up as soon as the teacher caught his left hand, and with his right grabbed his teacher's whiskers which have an abundant if stubby growth on his chin.

For a few moments it was teacher and board; and amidst the throng two un- boy all around the room. Neither broke wieldy ladies, weighted down with in- his hold, according to the story, until the numerable bundles and boxes, make a whiskers gave way. Then the part of the rush for the door that leads to the trains, whiskers which wasn't on the teacher's chin was in Sam's hand. Some of the whiskers, it is said, the boy has yet.

When the teacher and the pupil had broken away the former glared at the each holding her parcels high in the air thing. Sam hadn't any remarks to make, so he didn't make any. But the expres-One small boy sets an example to the sion on his face might have been interamused bystanders; he lowers his head preted as, "Come on if you want any groom appeared. "It is all right, I sup- bundles, and scoots through the archway want any more, but he told Sam to go more." The teacher apparently didn't home and not return to school until he was told to come.

Mr. Heineken will report the matter to the South Amboy Board of Education

A marriage took place at the jail las Tuesday evening, the ceremony being performed in the jailor's office by John R. Weed, Esq., the contracting parties being Charles Duplissea, Fredericton, N. B., and Lydia Dyer, from up-country town, who was serving out a sentence for some mis demeaner, and whose time expired last Saturday. The bride was the recipient of many useful presents given by some of our prominent citizens.—Houlton Pioneer. [Duplissea does not belong to Fredericon, but served as a soldier here in the R. R. C. I. He was a tough character, and was finally dismissed from the corps. He hails from Sunbury county.—HERALD.]

YOU DON'T HAVE TO SWEAR OFF

Says the St. Louis Journal of Agriculture surance ticket, too, sir? Insures against and guaranteed by Chas. A. Burchill ments were made for a match with Hall at of Mr. and Mrs. Chesley. handing her into the carriage. The snn | "No, my good fellow, ticket to Liver- Remedy Co., 374 St. Paul St., Montreal.

THE ONE MAN POWER.

[Toronto Globe.] In York county the opposition carried the last elections, and Wednesday they were again victorious by a large majority. This is accounted for by the work of Alex. Gibson, the leading lumber and cotton mill man of New Brunswick, who stood at the polls all day.

TERRIBLE LOSS OF LIFE. LONDON, Oct. 17.- A despatch from Mrs. Phillips, sr., corner Hunter and | Shanghai says an explosion occurred yes-

When the system is run down, a person knock out victory for Fitzimmons. Hall 9. On the 25th of the same month he

History of the Two Great Fighters Who knocked out Phil Mayo, of C.eveland, at are to Meet Oct. 31st at Hot Springs, Arkansas

Chicago in 4 rounds. At Baltimore on May 30, he knocked out Warner in 1 round. He next met Jack Hickory at pion of the world, first saw the light of Newark on September 5 and defeated him day in San Francisco, on September 1, was with Joe Choynski, at catch weights was that peaceful one of a bank clerk until 1886, when he launched upon the until 1886, when he launched upon the sea of pugilism. He fought Billy Welch, Kellar was next to fall before "Bob." He then the amateur middleweight champion for a gold medal at San Francisco, and was defeated in 4 rounds. Previous to 2 rounds. On September 26 he fought that he met and conquered Capt. J. H. Daly, 2 rounds; Mike Brennan, 3 rounds; Martin Costello, 3 rounds; Prof. Wm. Miller, 6 rounds and Frank Smith, 4. He the enactment of which raised high jinks drew in a contest with Duncan McDon- accidentally killed his sparing partner ald. In 1886 he met Billy Welch a second time and was knocked out in 1 the jaw during their set to at Jacob's round. On August 27, 1887, he met Jack Burke at the Olympic Club and drew after an 8 round contest. His next opponent was Frank Glover, whom he met within the cranial cavity, causing com-June 30, 1888, and drew in 3 rounds. On pression of the brain. The coroner's May 30, 1889, he was matched to meet jury exonerated Fitzsimmons from all Joe Choynski, near Fairfax, with 2 oz. gloves for $1000 a side. After fighting 4 rounds the police interfered. On June 5 of the same year the interrupted contest was resumed on a barge in the river near Benecia, Cal. / Choynski weighed 172 lbs. and wore skin gloves. Corbett tipped the scale at 180 and had 2 oz. gloves. The referee was Patsy Hogan. Corbett won after 27 rounds. On July 15 Choynski and Corbett met for the third time, at San Francisco, Choynski was bested Marysville, for instance, where Mr. Gibin 4 rounds. On July 29, at Portland, son reigns supreme is worthy of special Ore., Corbett fought a draw with Dave study. It was as follows: Campbell in 10 rounds. "Jim" had the best of the contest but agreed not to knock out. He next sparred Jack Kilrain for Whitehead .......14 Black ....

at the Southern A. C., New Orleans, the contest was for $3500. Both contestants It will hardly be pretended, we think, wore 5 oz. gloves. Corbett weighed 183 that there could have been a free ballot lbs. and Kilrain 201. On March 20, of where such a result was achieved. There the same year, he sparred a 3 round ex- are a few country people who vote at hibition with Mike Doncvan at New York. Marysville, but all the others are em-On April 1J, Dominick McCaffrey fell a ployes and tenants of Mr. Alex. Gibson. victim to Corbett's prowess in 4 rounds This person, it is hardly necessary to refor the gate receipts at the Casino, Brook- mark, is opposed to Mr. Blair. lyn. On May 21, 1891, he fought with Marysville was looked after on election Peter Jackson. Corbett weighed 182 lbs. day by Mr. Gibson's sons and others near and Jackson, 198. After 61 rounds the to him, but Mr. Gibson himself stood at and Jackson, 198. After 61 rounds the fight was declared no contest and each man received $2500. On June 26, he sparred four rounds with John L. Sulli Gov't Candidates.

One of Candidates.

One of Candidates.

One of Candidates. sparred four rounds with John L. Sulli | Gov't Candidates. van, then the world's heavy weight Thompson .... champion, August 5, he sparred 4 rounds Anderson... with Jim Hall at Chicago. Corbett's next Coburn.... teacher felt it. Grabbing the boy by the contest was with Ed. Kennedy, whom he defeated in 4 rounds at Chicago October 8. At a fistic carnival in New York he Gibson influence, and there the vote was defeated Bill Spillings and Bob Caffrey, as follows: each in one round. He also contested with Joe Gorman, but no decision was Thompson ...............60 Black .... meeting with Sullivan June 26. Corbett appeared in a new role. He had a speak that these three polling districts in which ing part in Sport McAllister which was Mr. Gibson's influence is so powerful, gave then at the Bijou theatre, New York. the opportunity a majority of 633. Such Corbett's title of champion dates from September 7, 1892, when he met and con under the existing arrangements is pracquered John L. Sullivan, who had been ticully under the control of Mr. Gibson, a champion for twelve years. The contest was for a purse of $25,000, and $20,000 stake money, and took place at the Olymclub, New Orleans. Corbett's weight was intelligence to those of any other part of 178 lbs. and Sullivan's 212 lbs. Both men the county of York, the vote stood as wore 5 oz. gloves. The referee was Prof.

John Duffy. Corbett's seconds were Bill

Gov't Candidates. Delaney, Jim Daly and John Donaldson.

His bottleholder was Mike Donovan, Whitehead .......678 Pinder. "Bat" Masterson acted as time-keeper. Anderson ..... In the betting Sullivan was the favorite at | Coburn...........642 Pitts...... 4 to 1. Corbett won in 21 rounds. He Aside from the personal vote given to drew first blood in the fifth round. On Mr. Black, Fredericton gave the govern-October 3 he made his debut as Gentle- ment a majority of 232. In that city man Jack in Elizabeth, N.J. Arrangements there was a free ballot, and there is no were early in 1893 for a meeting with one individual powerful enough to control Charlie Mitchell, the English champion, or intimidate its electors. Mr. Blair must who was desirous of wrestling the laurels now see that he committed an error, when from Corbett's brow. On Feburary 24 the dealing with the constituencies in a recent money for the contest was posted. After bill, in withdrawing that provision, which a length correspondence and an unusally would have given Fredericton a separate large amount of talk, articles were signed member. The capital of the province for a contest between Corbett and Jack- should not be at the mercy of any one son for $10,000 a side. The match after- man, however enterprising and able, yet wards fell through. On January 15, 1894, this is a danger to which it must always the Corbett-Mitchell contest was pulled be exposed so long as it is joined to the off under the auspices of the Daval athletic districts on the east side of the river. club at Jacksonville, Fla. Mitchell was Fredericton should be made a separate knocked out in three rounds in easy style. | constituency, and, indeed, it would seem Corbett sailed for England on April 12. to be proper to divide the whole county of On September 7 he fought 6 rounds with York into ridings, so that the existing Peter Courtney of Trenton, N. Y., at the evil might be localized, and its people Edison's laboratory at Orange, N. J., for given an opportunity of being represented the kinetescope. On October 11 arrange- by men of their choice, and not by those ments were made for Corbett's contest whom they do not trust.

a purse and the championship of the Fitzsimmons' Record.

with Bob Fitzsimmons for $10,000 a side,

New Zealand, in Jem Mace's competition, the amateur championship of New Zeachampionship of New Zealand. feated Dick Ellis, of New Zealand, in four terpretated a few words spoken by the old rounds. On Febuary 10, he was defeated woman. by Jem Hall in 4 rounds at Sydney. On ( "Why have you come to this country?" May 10 of the same year he arrived at San he asked. Francisco. Seven days later at the California Athletic Club he sparred with Frank a smile. Allen; Fitzsimmons broke Allen's wrist. Mrs. Coffey remembers the famous bat-On May 29, he met and defeated Billy tle of Ballinamuck, in 1798, when the McCarthy, of Australia, for a purse of French troops, under General Hoche, land-$1,250, in nine rounds. His next opponent | ed on Irish soil. was Arthur O. Upman, whom he knocked out in 5 rounds at the Audubon Athletic Club, New Orleans. On January 14, 1691. he fought Jack Dempsey at New Orleans son and Daughter of Recorder Chesley, for the world's championship and a purse of $11,000. Dempsey was knocked out in many cases cured by No-To-Bac, one 2 lbs. and Dempsey 1471. On April 28th of Lunenburg, N. S., Tuesday night. The prominent St. Louis architect, smoked the same year he knocked out Abe Cougle son and daughter of Recorder Chesley, of and chewed for twenty years; two boxes in Chicago in 2 rounds. On May 1 he met Lunenburg, found a watery grave. The cured him so that even the smell of to- and defeated "Black Pearl" at Minne- young man was 19 years old and the girl lelic Club forfeited $3,000 to the "scrap- from Luner and succeeded in knocking out Maher in blowing a gale.

Godfrey, Jerry Slattery and Millard Zeu- harbor. It was found to be the remains der were knocked out in succession. In 1893, on March 8, he fought with had started for home, the boat capsized Jem Hall at the Crescent City Athletic and both were drowned. The body of Club in New O:leans. The result was a the girl has not yet been recovered.

Highest of all in Leavening Power.—Latest U.S. Gov't Report

LOSS OF FLESH

prevent serious illness.

Dan Creedon for a purse of $5000 at the Olympic Athletic Club, New Orleans. Creedon was knocked out in 2 rounds On November 17 last year Fitzimmons but it is absolutely true. "Con" Riordan by a blow delivered on Don't be persuaded to accept a substitutef

Opera house, Syracuse, N. Y. Scott & Bowne, Belleville. 50c. and $1. Riordan was in poor condition at the time and the blow caused homorrhage

SOME STRIKING FACTS. Showing that Wednesday's Election was Won by Alexander Gibson. (St. John Telegraph.) The York election presents some features which are worthy of particular attention at the present time. The vote at Gov't Candidates. Opp'n Candidates. ..17 Howe.....

...90 Howe .. Whitehead . ..79 Black. Nashwaak is another district under the

Gov't Candidates. Opp'n Candidates. ..193

It will be seen from the above figures | to the echo, and it was with difficulty he Does not Think Much of Dr. Stockton's a result shows that the county of York power too great we think, to be entrusted to any one man. In Fredericton where

......678 Black ...... ...651 Howe ...

A CENTENARIAN IMMIGRANT.

The oldest immigrant ever landed at Robert Fitzsimmons was born in Elson, New York and probably the oldest person Cornwall, England, June 4, 1862. His who ever made a trip across the Atlantic C. A. Burchill and J. M. Wiley. first appearance in the ring was at Timaru, ccean, was discharged Wednesday in the person of Mrs. Mary Coffey, who gave her in which he defeated four men, winning age to the immigration authorities as 104 Kent, backed Mr. Phinney in his cam- legislature in favor of Mr. Phinney, who land. The following year in the same daughter, who is fifty-six years old, on from the victorious government candilis not much probability of Mr. Black docompetition he defeated five men, among the Cunard line steamer Abrania, which dates when he runs his next election. them Herbert Slade, the Maori. While arrived on Wednesday. They left the in Australia he succeeded in defeating Jem next afternoon for Plainfield, Ct., where Crawford, Bill Slavin, Starlight, Arthur the daughter lives with her husband. Cooper, Jack Murphy, Brinsmead, Jack Mrs. Coffey speaks no English, only the Greentree, — Conway, Prof. West, Pablo old Gaelic tongue, which she learned in Frank, Jack Riddle and — Eager. He the County Kerry, Ireland, her birthalso defeated Dick Sandall for the amateur place. Peter Gordon, an Ellis Island detective, who was born in the west of In Sydney, on December 17, 1889, he de | Ireland and understands the dialect, in-

"To get a husband," she replied, with

SAD DROWNING ACCIDENT. of Lunenburg, Lose Their Lives,

No cure, no pay. Book free. Sterling St. Paul for $13,000. The contest subse- The two went in a sail boat for a day's quently fell through and the Minneapolis outing at Ritcey's Cove, a couple of miles pers" on that account. Fitzsimmons' next party did not return, but this caused no contest was with Peter Maher for $10,000 uneasiness, for the parents concluded the at the Olympic Club at New Orleans. young people had decided to stay for the Fitzsimmons was favorite in the betting night at Ritcey's Cove, as the wind was 12 rounds. Then followed a series of vic- Wednesday morning a body was seen tories for "Lanky Bob," Jim Farrell, Joe floating at the wharf in Lunenburg of Mr. Chesley's son. The young people is weakening. You cannot afford to fall below your healthy weight. If you will take Scott's Emulsion of Cod-liver Oil with Hypophosphites of Lime and Soda when your friends first tell you you are getting thin, you will quickly restore your healthy weight and may thereby Persons have been known to gain a pound a day by taking an ounce a day of Scott's Emulsion. This seems extraordinary;

KINGS REJOICES

Over the Triumphant Election of the Whole Government Ticket.

We are pleased at the result of this election and congratulate Messrs. White, Scovil and Fowler on their splendid victory. A very fierce and bitter canvass was carried on against them by foes within and foes without, but the result of polling gave evidence that the majority of the fair-minded electors of this county could not be swayed from their determination of doing justly by those men who have been abused so persistently by the opposition press of St. John. A very Married a Maine Man last March, bu noticeable feature of the conflict was that a full score of opposition speakers were brought into the county from St. John their own in the fight with their numerous opposers. Sussex was ablaze with bonfires Wednesday evening. Everybody appeared to for reasons of their own the marriage was he pleased at the results, and those who kept secret except from a few very intimate were not, swallowed their disappointment friends, until quite recently, and as Mr. and went with the crowd. The Citizens' Emerson was called away from Bucksport. band serenaded the Solicitor General, it was decided to have a formal reception as with him. He was frequently inter-rupted by cheers, and when he finished Mr. Emerson, who has been the ble speaking, was warmly congratulated by as many friends as could get near enough to shake hands. Early in the evening word was received from Mr. Fowler that have made many friends who wish them all have made many friends who wish them all have made many friends who wish them all he would be up in the late train and a have made many friends who wish them all big crowd waited for him. When he ar- the happiness their relations can give them. rived the boys went mad. They had After the oysters were served, an hour o another bonfire ready for him, guns and more was passed in social conversation and torpedoes were fired and as he stepped whist. from the car platform the crowd sei him and carried him to an inpromptu plat-form, where he thanked them all for could get away.

Ocr. 15.—The weather has been warm and dry and in every way favorable for trol of Mr. Fred Sumner, the alleged oppoare much larger than usual.

elected by acclamation. chard and Miss Annie Gunter have gone to Portland. Me., to spend the winter nowhere in evidence during the campaign. to Portland, Me., to spend the winter. castle to take charge of the school there. and the actual work was being done, the of the Baptist church on Sunday last. tend holding their annual exhibition on shown no evidence of ability to leadthe 17th of October.

HEART DISEASE OF TWENTY

YEARS' STANDING RELIEVED IN A DAY. Mr. Aaron Nichols, Who Has Lived on One Farm for 70 Years, Tells What He boom yet, which he hopes to get down the Knows of Dr. Agnew's Cure for the end of this month or the first of next. F.

bottles of Dr. Agnew's Cure for the Heart left nothing undone to get the logs in, but for my wife, who has been troubled for the water has failed him. At the first rise the past twenty years with heart disease. The first few doses gave relief, and she has had more benefit from it than from all the doctoring she ever did. The remedy acts down for a good damp rain things in general the doctoring she ever did. like magic on a deceased heart. I am ral will take a move on. - Wood pleased to give this certificate. Aaron Despatch. Nichols, Peterboro, Sold by W. H. Carten years. She came over with her youngest paign in Kent, and will probably hear was so badly defeated in Kent, but there

Wilev's ... EMULSION.

COD - LIVER - OIL.

The Best

Gives Best Results. Purest and Best Materials Preparation used in Manufacture.

Best Value for the Money. in the Market Cts. Readily taken by Children. PRICE No preparation equal to it. For Building up the System.

JOHN M. WILEY. Manufacturer

196 Queen Street, Fredericton.

Featherbone Skirt Bone. For Giving

A light, phable, elastic bone made from quills. It is soft and yielding, conforming readily to folds, yet giving STYLE and SHAPE proper shape to Skirt or Dress.

The only Skirt Bone that may be The Celebrated Featherbone LADIES' DRESSES. Corsets are corded with this mater-

For sale by leading Dry Goods Dealers,

A FREDERICTON YOUNG LADY the fact has only lkaked out now.

(including Stockton and Alward) while a small but very pleasant gathering at the Messrs. White, Fowler and Scovil sought Summer and Winter hotel, Bucksport, Me., no outside aid, but were content to do Wednesday evening, the occasion being the their own talking, and results have shown wedding and farewell reception in honor of that they must have more than held the marriage of Miss Ada M. Pond, of Fredericton, and Edward H. Emerson, of Ellsworth, and the leaving of the groom for Ellsworth. Although the wedding cere mony occurred in Rockland, March 6th, yet

Leadership or York's Opposition Four The Moncton Times, hitherto a stout opposition newspaper, is now in the con-the farmers to gather in their crops, which sition member for Westmorland, and this is what it says of Wednesday's elections: Quite a large number of people went to "The want of good leadership on the Gagetown on nomination day. Our two part of the opposition both in the legislaformer members, Mr. L. P. Ferris and ture and in the campaign has, indeed Hon. A. G. Blair, who have so ably represented us in the past three years, were government party as anything that Mr. Mrs. Duncan Cameron, Miss Kate Or. sition, beyond making one or two set Mrs. Gordon Knight has gone to New- When the candidates were being selected Mr. W. Wright, who is teaching at opposition was like the mariner at sea Chipman, spent a few days with us last without a compass. The government won on nomination day. Looking at the com-Rev. B. N. Hughes occupied the pulpit position of the opposition party, we see little Rantist church on Sunday last The Cambridge Agricultural society in been selected in St. John, but they have > ments that make a party great." THE LUMBER HANG-UP.

The opposition ticket in York, which has been successful, does not contain the els-

Fred Moore says there are about ten Woodman, of Saint John, one of the directors of the boom company, was in town This is to certify that I have bought two last week, and he says that Mr. Moore has

A RICHIBUCTO despatch in the Sun says that a rumor is current there that Mr MR. MACINERNEY the Tory M.P. for John Black will resign his seat in the

FINE

Latest Cloth for

Suitings,

-AND-

THE TAILOR

Guarantees good fit, and first-class

materials in his MAKE UP

Come in and see my Cloths and hard

NEXT BLOW C. P. R. OFFICE.

LANDING-

pan prices. It will pay you to do so.

Back

Oatmeal.

Cornmeal.

For Sale Low.

A. F. RANDOLPH & SONS.

THIS SPACE

BELONGS TO

McMurray & Co.

... WATCH IT ...