Onintib's Agricultural Prosperity — The Diguity of the Parmer's Calling—Edu cation as We'l as Husele Needed.

With the following address :--GUELPH, Sept. 21st, 1883. To the Hon. A. M. Ross, Commissioner of Agriculture for the Province of Ontario: On bobslf of the Agricultural and Arts Association of Outario, I tender you a hearty welcome to this, our 41st annual exhibition. Canadian farmers had not been slow to stride out in new directions, when eld trodden paths had become obstructed. Farmers discovered that they could not as of old put their main reliance on wheat and grain, and they turned their attention more to stock raising and dairying, and they had found these new lines as profitable as the old. Fruit cul ture was also receiving increased atten exhibition.

We can assure you, that the interest which you and your colleagues have industry had been extraordinary. It taken, in assisting and encouraging this association in developing the agricultural in Canada's exports the article of cheese association in developing the agricultural and mechanical resources of this Prov-ince, has been highly appreciated, and we trust that the substantial benefits which have been conferred upon the whole Dominion through our united ef-forts will afford satisfaction to all who have the interest of the country at the will always be the aim and er deavor of this Association to merit a continuance of all other agricultural pro-ducts, no less than $8,265,000 in value of this product being exported in 1885. It is a satisfaction to us to know that although there are numerous successful exhibitions held in different parts of the Province, this association still has the confidence of not only yourself and your celleagues, but of the great body of the yeomanry of the country.

colleagues, but of the great body of the yeomanry of the country. We gladly recognize the efforts put forth by the Government in encouraging the youth of our country to devote their attention to the pursuit of Agriculture, by placing within their reach the benefits of a sound Agricultural education, and we trust that the institution which has been so eminently successful will conwe trust that the institution which has been so eminently successful will con-tinue to attract the attention of those who like ourselves feel that the prosper-ity of Canada largely depends upon the successful development of our Agricul-tural resources. THE O'DONOHOE DEAL.

The Deceived Senator Tells the Whole Story.

Interviewed on the Lending Political Questions of the Day,

Senator, the Hon, John O'Donohee, of Toronto, who has been spending a few days in Montreal, was called upon at his rooms, at the St. Lawrence Hall, by a Herald reporter. The Senator was found surrounded by his Irish friends of Mon-treal, with whom he is a prime favorite, and who have the higher administration of and who have the highest admiration of his zeal and devotion for the interests of his co-religionists and co nationalists in this Canada of ours. The Senator is not a particularly handsome man, but he is clever and frank and hospitable. being one of us you are suitled to know what is said of you. Here are letters attacking you, which you have a right to, and with that he handed me private ommunications assailing my appointment and criticizing me personally, treating me, as he said himself, as thus "one of us," by refusing to withhold from me the attacks of my enemies, because that as a member of the Cabinet my colleagues could have no secrets from a brother uncillor in regard to matters affecting his personal standing." "Had you any strong personal desire to be a member of the Cabinet ?"
