The "New Model" Empire Typewriter

The "Empire" Keyboard comprises but 30 keys. Each key is used for 3 distinct characters. Thus, with but 30 keys to memorize, you are given a range of 90 characters. Other standard typewriters give you a maximum of but 84 characters, with 42 keys to memorize.

All the numerals from 0 to 9 may be written on the "Empire" without the use of a shift key. On all the other standard typewriters the numerals 2 to 9 only may be so written, while to write the 1 and the 0 necessitates a shift to the letter keys.

When punctuating with the "Empire" commas and periods are written without the use of a shift key, whether using capitals, small letters, numerals or special characters.

The United States Authorities have Removed the Duty from Solignum.

This is indeed a triumph for a British Preparation when a foreign country, with a Protective Tariff like the United States, removes the duty from a British manufactured article, it is not a case of "pull" with the authorities, but a case of real merit. This speaks for itself. And Solignum is only
