Massinger on War.

If e'er my son follow the war, tell him it is a school. Where all the principles tending to honor are taught, if truly followed; but for such As repair thither, as a place in which they do presume they may with license practice their lusts and rights, they shall never merit. The noble name of soldiers. To dare bodily in a fair cause, and for their country's safety. To run upon the cannon's mouth undaunted. To obey their leaders, and shun mutinies. To bear with patience the winter's cold. And summer's scorching heat, and not to faint. When plenty of provision fails, with hunger. Are the essential points make up a soldier. Not swearing, dice or drinking. —Philip Massinger: "A New Way to Pay Old Debts."

Count Buelow's Task Hopeless.

Rome, Jan. 6.—The new German Ambassador to Italy, Prince Von Buelow, has, it is reported, sent several despatches to Emperor Wilhelm, declaring that any attempt to induce Italy to join the central European Empires against France and England would be hopeless.

It is asserted that Prince Von Buelow went so far as to declare that "even were there an Italian Cabinet formed of German statesmen," the Italian people would not allow the army to fight in defence of Austria and against England and France."

10 Cent "Cascarets" Is Your Laxative

Best Liver and Bowel Cleanser and Stomach Regulator in the world—Work while you sleep.

Get a 10-cent box. Put aside—just once—the Salts, Pils, Castor Oil or Purgative Waters which merely force a passageway through the bowels, but do not thoroughly cleanse, freshen and purify these drainage organs, and have no effect whatever upon the liver and stomach.

"Keep your 'insides' pure and fresh with Cascarets, which thoroughly cleanse the stomach, remove undigested, sour-food and foul gasses, take the excess bile from the liver and carry out of the system all the congested waste matter and poisons in the bowels.

A Cascaret to-night will make you feel great by morning. They work while you sleep—never gripe or sicken and cost only 10 cents a box from your druggist. Millions of men and women take a Cascaret now and then and never have headache, biliousness, severe colds, indigestion, Sour Stomach or Constipated Bowels. Cascarets belong in every household. Children just love to take them.

To Stimulate Recruiting

By this morning's train Messrs. H. E. Cowan, W. B. Grieve, W. J. Higgins and Dr. V. P. Burke went to Carbonara where a meeting will be held to-night with the object of stimulating recruiting. Mr. T. A. Macnab, who also went out by train, will open a recruiting office after the meeting.

Wedding Bells at St. Mary's.

At St. Mary's, on January 6th, a very pretty wedding took place in the Parish Church, before the Altar of the Blessed Virgin. The contracting parties were Miss Annie Hogan, a very popular young lady, and late teacher of the Gaskier, and Mr. Stephen Devine, an industrious young planter. The ceremony was performed in the presence of a large number of guests, by the Very Rev. S. O'Driscoll, P.P., who in a few well-chosen words, explained the sanctity of the Sacrament of Marriage. The bride was given away by her father, Mr. Daniel Hogan, and was attended by her sister Miss Bridie Hogan and by Misses Lizette Whelan and Edie Devine, while Messrs. Joseph Devine and John Hogan did the honors for the groom. Preparatory to going to the Church a luncheon was given at the residence of the bride's parents. After the marriage service the guests drove to the groom's home, where a sumptuous repast was provided, after which the usual festivities pertaining to such an occasion were kept up till the wee small hours of the morning. Among the many presents were a china tea service and a beautiful picture presented by the Sodality of "The Children of Mary," of which the bride was a worthy and honored member. That Mr. and Mrs. Devine may have many happy years of wedded life is the wish of all.—Com.

American Railroads.

THE BALTIMORE & OHIO.
By GEORGE FITCH.
Author of "At Good Old St. Wash."

The Baltimore and Ohio is the patriarch of all railroads. It was the first railroad built for the hauling of passengers and general freight and will celebrate its 100th birthday in 1930.

At the time the Baltimore and Ohio was only fourteen miles long, built of wooden rails with iron straps on them and operated by mule power. Strings of cars were hauled and passengers could travel on it for a trifle less than 2 cents a mile. Since then the railroad business has been so perfected by the use of economy, science and finance that it is no longer profitable to haul passengers for less than two and one-half a mile. In some ways the world seems to advance diligently backward.

The Baltimore and Ohio was built by enterprising citizens of Baltimore to connect the coast trust and to the Philadelphia, passes under Baltimore and through Washington, which city it reached in 1835—repeatedly. Thence it winds westward along the Potomac river, luxuriantly equipped with double-tracked scenery, through Harper's Ferry and into the Allegheny mountains. In the old days the trip through the mountains on the B. & O. was a famous adventure and was often taken by those who could not afford to cross the ocean and get seasick. But in modern times this railroad has spent hundreds of millions, removing curves and stabling large mountains in the thorax with tunnels. It now has a magnificent double and triple track line and passengers no longer exchange berths inadvertently while sleeping.

At Cumberland, Maryland, the B. & O. splits with great emphasis, one half passing through the American reproduction of Hades skilfully produced by the coke ovens of Connellsville and the blast furnaces of Pittsburgh and eventually reaching Chicago. The other half reaches St. Louis. The Baltimore and Ohio hauls tremendous quantities of coal and iron and statesmen and consumes a large amount of the finest scenery in the East. It is prosperous in spite of the fact that J. P. Morgan once sold it to the Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton Railroad in cold blood.

Have You an Itchy Spot?

Somewhere on your body? If so, attend to it at once. In Eczema—and itchy spots, whether dry and scurfy, or moist and inclined to "weep," are generally eczematous—delays are foolish, allowing the disease to spread and affect more of the good skin. Your best chance for a cure is to use Zylex, which will give almost instant relief, and if used in the earlier stages of the trouble will almost certainly bring a cure, and in any event will greatly ameliorate the trouble. Ask your druggist about it. Price 50c. a box. Zylex Soap, 25c. a cake.

Starting Afresh.

This year I've cut out all the sins that handicapped me in the past; I realize that Virtue wins—the joys of Error do not last. I hope to be so truly good, so steadfast in the cause of right, that to the whole blamed neighborhood I will become a shining light. Admiring folks will to me point, and say, in fervent tones, "By Jings, if justice were not out of joint, he'd have a harp and set of wings." But I would hate to be so good, in righteousness so nobly strong, so clean and spotless that I could not sympathize with those gone wrong. I'd hate to walk so high a plane I could not feel for Jim or John, or try to shoo away their pain because their folly brought it on. I'd hate to reach those heights sublime where men are ever roasting sin, and when they hand a tramp a dime, must throw a moral lecture in. I'll be as good as I know how, and still be human, like the rest; and if I break my New Year vow you all will know I've done my best. —Jan 10, 1915

No Arms or Dum-Dum Bullets

SOLD TO THE BRITISH.

Washington, Jan. 7.—The letter of the Secretary of State, Bryan to Count Bernstorff, German Ambassador to the United States, refusing the latter's request that the United States investigate charges of export of dum-dum bullets for use of the Allies is in part as follows:

"Your Excellency states that the British Government has ordered from the Winchester Repeating Arms Company 20,000 'riot guns,' model of 1897, and fifty million 'buckshot cartridges' for use in such guns. This Department saw a published statement of the Winchester Company, the correctness of which the Company has confirmed to the Department by telegraph. In this statement the Company categorically denies that it has received an order for such guns and cartridges from or made any sales of such material to the British Government, or to any other Government engaged in the present war.

"Your Excellency further calls attention to 'information, the accuracy of which is not to be doubted,' that eight million cartridges fitted with mushroom bullets, have been delivered since October of this year by the Union Metallic Cartridge Company for the armament of the British army.

"In reply I have the honor to refer to the letter of December 30, 1914, of the Remington Arms-Union Metallic Cartridge Company of New York, to Your Excellency, called forth by certain newspaper reports, of statements alleged to have been made by you in regard to the sale by that company of soft-nosed bullets. From this letter, a copy of which was sent to this Department, by the company, it appears that instead of eight million cartridges having been sold, only a little more than 117,000 were manufactured and 109,000 were sold. The latter further asserts that the cartridges were made to supply a demand for a better sporting cartridge with a soft-nosed bullet than had been manufactured theretofore; and that such cartridges cannot be used in the military rifle of any foreign power. The company adds that its statement can be substantiated, and that it is ready to give you any evidence that you may require on these points.

"The Department is now in receipt from the company of a complete detailed list of the persons to whom these cartridges were sold. From this list it appears that the cartridges were sold to firms in lots of thirty to three thousand, and one lot each of three thousand, four thousand and five thousand. Of these only 969 cartridges went to British North America, and 100 to British East Africa."

Doctors and Gas Fires

In an article which recently appeared in the London "Evening News," Mr. W. G. Faulkner stated: "In making my inquiries I discovered one significant fact. This was that one company—the Gas Light and Coke Company—had among their consumers 2,500 doctors who had gas fires installed in their houses, some as many as ten or a dozen; that 1,500 of these doctors had become users of gas during the past three years; and that not one had ever given them up."

Professor G. V. Boys, F.R.S., says, in the "Standard": "Sentiment and inertia are the only obstacles against the general adoption of gas fires and cooking appliances. Wonderful strides have been made, in spite of deep-rooted prejudice. A gas fire, burning with a blue, is an admirable agent for heating a room; and, as a scientist, I fail to understand how such a gas fire dries the air in a room more than any other fire."—Nov 17, 14

Germany Levy War Tax on Courtaid.

London, Jan. 6.—A news agency despatch states that the Germans levied a war fine of $12,000,000 francs (2,400,000) on Courtaid, Belgium, on Monday. The municipal treasury being empty, bonds were issued to raise the money, a third of which must be paid at once. The Germans are said to have requisitioned $5,000,000 in money and goods near Hoog-ilde.

"STARR" HOCKEY SKATES

THE MODERN MERCURY

Mercury the winged messenger of the gods (according to ancient legends) had small wings on his feet to speed over the land with the ease of a bird. But Mercury had no advantage over the modern skater who uses Canadian-made "STARR" Skates.

"STARR" Skates take the place of wings—they are light, strong, comfortable—and enable the wearer to skim lightly and confidently over the ice—whether in pure fun or the swift sport of a hockey game.

The popular "STARR" Micro-Mac Featherweight Hockey Skate (trademark registered at Ottawa) shown at the bottom of this advertisement is a speedy hockey skate, and equally good for rink skating.

It is especially strong, because of the bar connecting the heel and sole plates. The specially welded and tempered steel blades retain their cutting surface longer and better. Very little sharpening is needed. Hitch yourself to a "STARR" Skate and surprise yourself and your friends.

"STARR" Skates are equally good for artificial or natural ice.

We absolutely guarantee "STARR" Skates unconditionally—if they break, take them back, and get a new pair.
