SATURDAY, January 15, 1916.

The Coal Question.

Mr. W. J. Herdyp, in his kindly reference to our efforts, and in doing so would like to point out that the policy now being carried out was adopted by the Government after consultation with Mr. J. M. Kent, Leader of the Opposition, Mr. W. F. Coaker, leader of the Union Party, and editor of the Evening Telegram. These members of the Opposition undertook to back the Government in the House of Assembly in their policy which was decided upon. It is therefore only fair to give recognition to both Government and Opposition for the policy they will have to assume responsibility for its inauguration in the House of Assembly. We are in receipt of a letter from Mr. John Dempsey, in which he asked if the Government is going to stand the difference between the eight dollars now being paid for coal on January 15, and the direction of the Committee and the Ten dollars and eighty cents, which certain Coal Merchants fixed as the price of coal on January 15. We have no hesitation in stating that the Government has no intention of paying the coal merchant the difference of two dollars and eighty cents, between the sale price fixed by the Government and that fixed by the coal merchants referred to.

Whatever legislation is needed to indemnify the Government for the action taken last Monday will be supported by the Opposition, but there is no intention of making a present of two dollars and eighty cents to the coal merchant on the coal which has been commandeered. The coal merchants will get the rate of profit they were receiving before December 31st, 1915, on the coal which they had imported before that date, and nothing more.

The Committee of the community who were invited to see to the distribution of this coal responded heartily. They are performing an irksome task gratuitously and for the general good. They should be aided by citizens generally in their undertaking, and they deserve the thanks of the community for accepting the task which they were asked to undertake. They accepted in a spirit of good citizenship, and we have confidence their work will be undertaken in the same spirit.

The fact that there was not one of the first six citizens asked to undertake this onerous duty declined speaks well for the public spirit prevailing in the city. The first six citizens asked are the six citizens now serving. That public spirit is akin to the duty of service which has sent so many of the young men of the Empire to the front. Noblest of obligations.

FOGOTA HERE.—The s.s. Fogota, Capt. Dalton, arrived in port from North Sydney at 9 p.m. yesterday with a cargo of coal. After discharging she will be put in readiness for the coastal service and will sail on the Fogota mail route at 10 a.m. on Tuesday next.

Lieut. Donnelly's Distinction Gazetted.

In the London Gazette for December 21st, is the official record of certain distinctions gained by soldiers. Among them is the award to Lieut. Donnelly. It runs as follows:—

"His Majesty the King has been graciously pleased to confer the Military Cross on the undermentioned officers in recognition of their gallantry and devotion to duty in the field:—

Lieutenant James John Donnelly, 1st Battalion, 1st Newfoundland Regiment. For conspicuous gallantry and determination on the night of 4th-5th of November, 1915, on the Gallipoli Peninsula. He occupied, with eight men, a knoll, to which our firing line was extended the next day. By his coolness and skill in handling this small party, which was reduced to five by casualties, he repelled several determined Turkish bomb and rifle attacks on his front and flanks, and held his own during the night."

BRIGADE ORDER!

PRaises Nfld. Regiment.

The appended Brigade Order recently given by Brigadier General D. G. Cayley, C.M.G., will be read with appreciation in Newfoundland. It has been published already in British papers at home:—

"The C.O.C. wishes to place on record his appreciation of the excellent work done by the Newfoundland Regiment during the last few days. By their conduct in this their first important work, they have brought distinction to the Brigade, and have proved themselves to be possessed of self-reliance, bravery and tenacity, the first qualities of a good soldier. C Company has gained honor for its Battalion and for Newfoundland. At the same time, it is a certainty that other companies will do equally well when they get their chance. The whole Battalion has been called upon for special exertions during the past week, and it has responded finely. Thanks to Newfoundland, an appreciable advance has been made against the enemy."
