

The Council and the Manufacturing Interests.

We don't know what to make of our Town Council in the matter of encouraging manufacturing enterprise in Guelph. Some two or three weeks ago they passed a resolution holding out inducements to manufacturers who were desirous of starting business in the Town. They adopted by an unanimous vote the report of a special committee presented at a subsequent meeting, which recommends that in every case where a manufacturer proposes to establish himself in the Town, and when the enterprise is of sufficient importance and magnitude to warrant them giving aid, that such establishment shall be exempted from taxation on the land and buildings for five years, and also that the Council should give any other encouragement which it may deem desirable to offer. The Clerk was moreover instructed to advertise to the world that the Council was prepared to hold out the encouragement named, and he has done so. Yet, in the face of this, we find that at the meeting last night, a resolution for granting the small bonus of $3000 to Mr. Rainer, of Whitby, was thrown out on the bare technical objection that a rule of the Council did not allow such a motion to be brought up, and when a motion to suspend the rule was moved, only three members supported it.

Mr. Rainer proposes to remove his piano manufactory from Whitby to Guelph. Thirty of the ratepayers have subscribed $3000 in $100 each, which they give him as a loan for a term of years, at a low rate of interest. Mr. Rainer asked for $1000, and Mr. Massie by his resolution, which was ruled out of order, proposed that the Town should advance the other $2000 for five years, at six per cent interest.

Mr. Massie, in moving his resolution, may not have gone exactly by rule, but he was acting in the spirit of the offer made by the Council. True, Mr. Rainer had sent in no application to the Council for assistance, as he was required to do by the report of the Council. Still, the Council, instead of rejecting the motion, might have so amended it, or brought in another resolution, instructing Mr. Rainer how to act, and giving him ground to hope that he would receive the required aid after due consideration of his application. We do not say that the Council should break through all rules in order to suit one particular case, but at the same time the members should not even give the appearance of stultifying themselves by adopting a resolution one night, and then on the next night rejecting another which is designed to carry out the requirement of the one first passed.

We fully believe and hope that the Council had no such design. But they failed to show this, and they leave the public to draw the inference that what they say one day they are prepared to do, they show by their action the next that they have no intention of giving effect to their promise. If such applications are to be entertained and bonuses given, the Council must, in the interests of the ratepayers, see that they are granted to enterprises worthy of encouragement, and after careful examination made, and proper safeguards applied. But they might at least, by resolution, have, while rejecting Mr. Massie's motion, instructed Mr. Rainer how to make his application, and informed him that they were willing to entertain it on the terms of the offer advertised by the Council.

Canada and the States.
ADDRESS BY THE REV. ALEX. SUTHERLAND.
At last Saturday's session of the Methodist General Conference, at the Brooklyn Academy of Music, the Rev. G. R. Sanderford and the Rev. Alexander Sutherland, delegates from the Wesleyan Conference of Canada, were introduced and made brief addresses. Mr. Sutherland said he saw reference occasionally in the papers to the annexation of Canada, and sometimes our good friends, the Fenians, had undertaken to invade Ireland by means of Canada. (Laughter) He had not much anxiety on these occasions, because he thought the religious sense of men in this country was large enough to prevent the greatest calamities that could befall the civilized world—a collision between Great Britain and America. But since he had been privileged to see this great country, and since he had felt the kindness of so many of the brethren, he was beginning to fear that they would conquer his country by love. Many Methodist ministers had come over to view this goodly land, and had returned no more; and he felt that the wisest way for him was to hasten away from the enchanted ground, lest, like Bunyan's Pilgrim, he might forget whence he came. He said he felt as if he were going to return. He was afraid there was some misapprehension regarding the character of Canada; they thought it was a dull, bleak, cold, sterile place, not much larger than one of the States of the Union. But he begged to inform them that Canada contained 120,000 square miles more of territory than the United States. (Laughter.) Well, it was true that some parts of the country lay near the pole, but it must be recollected that if the United States boasted of possessing the "Hub of the Universe," Canada possessed one of the axes. (Laughter.) But below this region of ice and snow there was a rich and fertile belt of land, capable of maintaining a population of 70,000,000 or 80,000,000. While Canadians were firm-ly attached to their own institutions, they had a fervent and generous admiration for those of the United States; and their feeling was: "Let there never be strife between thy herdsmen and mine, for we are brethren." The speaker then referred to many interesting particulars in regard to Canadian Methodism—the desire for consolidation, the conflict with the "compact, restless, aggressive Dominion" of one of the Provinces, and the mission of the Indians.

The Great Musical Jubilee.

The music of the great Peace Jubilee has been published in paper covers, by Oliver Ditson & Co., of Boston. The selection is one of great variety, and seems to be well adapted to the needs of a great chorus. There are few brilliant pieces; but some of those printed must be taken at a much slower tempo than that at which they are usually sung to be performed by so many thousand singers. The book contains several of the best choruses from the oratorios, among which are "Sleepers, Wake!" and "To God on High," from St Paul; "The Hallelujah Chorus," from the Messiah; "Thanks be to God," and the magnificent "He watcheth over Israel," from Elijah; "Inflammatus," from Stabat Mater; and "The Heavens are telling," from the Creation. There are two chorals from Bach's Passion Music; and several old pieces, which are sure to be popular. Mr. Dudley Duck has written a Festival Hymn, both words and music, which is a graceful and noble movement, with a beautiful accompaniment. The music of the programme which is likely to be most effective and most universally enjoyed, however is that of the old-fashioned hymn tunes, of which we are to have "Eplody," (Rock of Ages), "Hebron," "Bethany," (Nearer my God, to Thee), "Nuremberg," "Old Hundred," and many others. It is easy to believe that these church tunes will have a magnificent effect when performed by so grand a chorus. At any rate, the musical blood of Boston is up, and we may expect that the Jubilee will be such a performance as the world has never seen.

Terrible Disaster at Sea.

WRECK OF A BRIG AND FORTY-FIVE LIVES LOST.
The Harbour Grace papers contain details of a fearful disaster which has occurred at Labrador. On the 11th of March, the brig Huntsman, commanded by Capt. Robt. Dawe, sailed from Harbor Grace with a crew of 62 men, on a sealing voyage. When off Cape Charles, Labrador, on Sunday, April 21st, in company with the Rescue, Vesta and Lord Clyde, and near Bottle Harbor the Huntsman having forged ahead, a gale from the north-east sprung up suddenly at nine o'clock in the evening, and she was driven upon the rocks. Before she struck three seamen saw the rocks and jumped overboard to try and save themselves, but were killed instantly by the rush of floating ice. The remaining 53 took to the rigging, but in five minutes boats must be bent over six feet from the deck, and only 17 escaping drowning. Of these, all but three were more or less injured by having arms and legs broken and bodies bruised. They managed to reach the Rescue by crawling over the ice a distance of half a mile. Forty-five men were lost, most of them leaving families at or near Harbor Grace. The other vessels escaped with little damage.

Spectacles unequalled by any for their Strengthening and Preserving Qualities.
Too much cannot be said as to their superiority over the ordinary glasses worn—there is no glimmering, wavering of the sight, dizziness, or other unpleasant sensation, but on the contrary, from the peculiar construction of the Lenses, they are soothing and pleasant, causing a feeling of relief to the wearer and producing a clear and distinct vision as in the natural and healthy sight. They are the only spectacles that preserve as well as assist the sight, and are the cheapest because the best, always lasting many years without change being necessary.
