

Westminster Fair.

The Pioneer of Middlesex Again
a Great Success.

Probably the Best Exhibition of Roots in Canada.

Although Old, the Fair Is Yet Vigorous and Healthy.

Two Men Who Were at the First Westminster Show—The Attendance Numbers 2,000.

The Westminster Agricultural Society fall show, the pioneer exhibition of its class in Middlesex was held yesterday on Andrew Routledge's farm at Lambeth. It was just as successful this year as in former years, the attendance reaching about 2,000 during the latter part of the afternoon. The weather was delightful. Good weather is absolutely necessary for the Westminster fall show as all the exhibits are laid out on the ground, and if rain prevailed the show would have to be postponed. This fair is charmingly free and easy, and attracts many Londoners. Farmers exhibiting at the show bring along their stuff and lay their vegetables evenly in a row along the inside of the low fence. Of course people who are near enough to do so can get just as good a look from the other side of the fence, but few try it. Then after attending to the vegetables the farmer, if he has any, can stand his chicken coop along with the other egg producers in the fence corner. If he has cattle he can turn them to graze in the orchard, and if he shows horses there is a third of a mile track freshly made through stubbles and corn. And when the farmer goes home, late in the afternoon, he takes all of his things home with him. Judges stand up and shout loudly for the class of cattle or horses they seek to judge, and are not at all proud or weak-lunged. Of course there are no trials of speed at this fair. Oh, no! The law will not allow that. But in judging horses the law does not say that "style, speed and value" shall not be taken into consideration, and the Westminster Agricultural Society generally manage to offer a "special class" of prizes in roadsters. And to test the speed in awarding the prize the track is made up and sometimes very exciting heats are necessary. But of course there are no trials of speed allowed. The showing of horses, particularly of a light and general purpose character was not quite up to former years. Cattle, sheep and swine were well up to and in some instances slightly above the average, while the vegetable display was unequalled at any fair in Canada. This is accounted for by the fact that the roots have had nearly three weeks longer growth than those shown at early fairs, and the time was when the roots grew best and most. There was a fairly good supply of fruit, considering the season, but a considerable part of it was plainly noticeable in the ladies' work. One of the chief contributors to this display, Mrs. (Dr.) Routledge, is said to have not shown this year owing to the very serious condition of Mr. Routledge's father.

The Westminster Fair has been bobbing along serenely for about 50 years, and a couple of old gentlemen were on the grounds yesterday who were present at the very first of these fairs. "I well remember the day," said Mr. James Beattie, of con. 6, Westminster, yesterday. "I was quite a young boy then, and made 25 cents driving a yoke of oxen to the fair for old John Elliott. It was a bitter cold day, but ten were plentiful, whisky was about in abundance, and large log fires were kept burning. Any hotelkeeper was permitted to sell whisky on the grounds in those days, and they came from miles around to sell. The first prizes ever given by the society were quantities of whisky. Mr. Robert Nixon, of con. 1, was another old resident who was at the first fair and at the exhibition yesterday. Both Mr. Nixon and Mr. Beattie look hale and hearty, and are evidently good for many more fairs.

This year's show was held about ten days earlier than usual. Many farmers are still threshing, some are plowing, and many digging potatoes, and this kept not a few away. Robert Boston M.P., was among the spectators. Secretary John Thornicroft was a very busy man during the day, and the "Advertiser" is indebted to him for the following portion of the prize list, secured before the horses were filled in:

GOOD SHOWS.

At Essex, Mitchell, Ingersoll, Forest and Kincardine.
ESSEX.—The tenth annual fair of Essex county closed on Thursday and in every respect has been the most successful in the history of the great Southwestern.

MITCHELL.—The Mitchell show was held on Thursday. The exhibit in roots and vegetables was in excess of any previous year, and of excellent quality. The display of beef work and domestic manufactures was the finest in many years, while the show of live stock was fully up to that of former years. There was a very large attendance. Hon. Thos. Ballantyne, ex M. P., and Wm. Pridham, M. P., were present. Financially, it was a great success. Entries, 1,200.

INGERSOLL.—Fine weather favored the Ingersoll fair, and the attendance at the annual show of the North and West Oxford Agricultural Society was larger than for many previous years. All the classes were well filled, and the exhibits were very superior in quality as well as quantity. The display of horses and cattle was very fine. There were large numbers of Jerseys in the latter class. In roots the display was large and of most excellent quality. The show of fruit was not large, owing to the devastation caused by spring frosts, but the specimens shown were exceptionally fine. Taken altogether, it was certainly the best show that has been held in Ingersoll in many years.

KINCARDINE.—Fine weather favored the Kincardine Agricultural Society Wednesday, the second day of their annual exhibition. A procession of 500 school children marched from the market square to Lansdowne Park, where the exhibition was held. A large number of farmers, their wives and children were also in attendance. The display of roots and cereals was the best ever seen here, while live stock in all classes was ahead of former years. The attendance was 4,000, the gate receipts, exclusive of members' fees, being $983.

WEST ELGIN.—Fine weather favored the thirty-fifth annual exhibition of the West Elgin Agricultural Society, at Wallacestown on Wednesday. The crowd was larger than for many years past and the exhibition was a decided success.

Why Not You?
When thousands of people are taking Hood's Sarsaparilla to cure the weakness and languor which are so common at this season, why are you not doing the same? When you know that Hood's Sarsaparilla has power to cure rheumatism, dyspepsia and all diseases caused by impure blood, why do you continue to suffer? Hood's cures others, why not you?

Hood's Pills are prompt and efficient, 25c. b. York county, Me., farmers are telling of a snow-white deer that has been seen in that region several times of late.

THERE IS NOT A MORE DANGEROUS class of disorders than those which affect the breathing organs. Nullify this danger with Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil—a pumonic of acknowledged efficacy. It cures soreness and lameness when applied externally, as well as swollen neck and crick in the back; and, as an internal remedy, possesses most substantial claims to public confidence.

Still at It.
Deputy Reeve Murdoch Will Not Sign
London West's Tax Bylaw

Unless the Reeve Resigns—Another Meeting of the Council, at Which a Plain Talk Is Used.

"I will never sign that bylaw as long as Mr. Macdonald is reeve of the village. Let him resign his office and I will sign it right away."

Such was the declaration of Deputy Reeve Murdoch at the meeting of the London West council last night in the presence of about 30 ratepayers. The meeting was called specially to allow of the signing of the tax rate bylaw, and filled with the expectation and hoping that the document would be signed, and the last scene in the monotonous tax rate show enacted, the village ratepayers turned out in half-dozens. It was known that the signing of the bylaw would not go on the bylaw, but it was common talk that Deputy Reeve Murdoch would attach his name to it and order the filling of the collector's rolls. But when Mr. Murdoch declared himself in the above terms there was disappointment on some hands, while other men were unconcerned.

Reeve Macdonald was not at the meeting, neither was he on Tuesday night. Mr. Murdoch took the chair and called for the bylaw, which had been prepared fixing a general rate at 17 3/4 mills, and a school rate of 3 1/4 mills. It was produced and opinions on the question of signing it were asked. As these were not forthcoming the councilmen began to talk over the absence of the reeve. "It is very plain that he doesn't want to be here," Mr. Murdoch thought it was only a piece of stubbornness on the part of the reeve because he could not have his own way. Mr. Murdoch made his declaration re the bylaw, and as though to emphasize what he said he brought his fist down on the table.

Not a word was said for a time, the ratepayers looked at each other. Councillor Hamilton looked at Councillor Andrews with one eye and winked the other at the deputy, while Councillor Moore, who sat alone in the matter, caught his wind.

Finally he urged the signing of the bylaw, but Mr. Hamilton considered it would be more manly for the reeve to do it.

Mr. Murdoch thought the reeve had acted in a very unmanly way. Mr. Moore—Then why do you want him to do something you will not do yourself? You dare not sign it yourself.

Mr. Hamilton—We dare do it ourselves, but we want the reeve to do his duty.

Mr. Murdoch—But he is so pigheaded that he will not give in. Mr. Hamilton—Well, he will have to be either a man or a mouse.

Mr. Moore reiterated previous statements made that the reeve would not sign the bylaw unless he was struck at 33 mills, which he claimed would make ample allowance for the striking fund. "That is all bluff," said Mr. Hamilton.

"And I am not going to do Macdonald's dirty work," was the deputy reeve's reply.

Mr. Moore (leaning over the table and shaking his head)—You "dare" not sign it, although you told your colleagues that you would if the reeve persisted in his refusal.

Mr. Murdoch—Never, as long as Macdonald is reeve; never!

Councillor Moore once again declared that the debentures be consolidated and the rate fixed at 23 mills.

There was no second, and the crowd flew out as some person shouted "Adjourned!"

Too Much Medicine.
The People Are Too Apt to Imagine Themselves Slaves to Disease.

It is a Mistake to Pour Down Medicine for the Simple Ills of Life.

Common complaints are often the most dangerous. This is so because they are generally disregarded and untreated. Chronic, or, at least, more serious complications. Take, for example, constipation of the bowels. There is no more general complaint known to man, and yet it is lightly thought of and passed over. The fact remains that thousands of our best men and women are slaves to supposed diseases, which baffle all skill, because the seat of the trouble is not reached. Nature needs nature's remedies, which is common sense, as all will recognize. Would our symptoms be out of order most of the time were it not for our stomachs and what we take into them? Ask your physician the most common of all foundations for the ravages of disease and from which grows languor, dizziness, nervousness, headaches, sallow and bad complexion, and in fact almost all the ills that afflict mankind, and he will tell you, "CONSTIPATION." To cure it permanently it must be done carefully and without the use of violent drugs, and only safe and best cure known at the present time is Karl's Clover Root Tea, which is composed entirely of herbs, nature's greatest remedies. As a spring medicine it cannot be equaled, and the words below from a well known Ohio man testify to the facts.

New Vienna, May 12, 1894.
Messrs. S. C. Wells & Co., Le Roy, N. Y.—Gentlemen: For some years I have been troubled with a skin disease, several so-called blood purifiers, but with no avail. At last I was induced to try Karl's Clover Root Tea, and am happy to say it was just the medicine I needed. My doctor was astonished at the cure, and says there must be great merit in such a medicine. Karl's Clover Root Tea is marvelous in its effect, and deserves all the praise given it. I cheerfully recommend it to all sufferers from any of the bowels, and cutaneous affections. Very respectfully yours, A. H. HUDSON.

The American projectors of this boon to mankind have unbounded faith in this great regulator of the bowels, and from the wonderful cures worked by it as attested by hundreds of testimonials, unhesitatingly recommend it to all sufferers.

Karl's Clover Root Tea may be obtained at W. T. Strong's, Samples free.
