Brother Receives Shocking Announcement From Vancouver.

A DOUBLE BEREAVEMENT
Second Time in Two Days That Grim Reaper Has Entered Family Circle.

Mr. H. B. Archer, of 455 St. James street, received a telegram this afternoon from Vancouver, B.C., announcing the death in that city of his brother Edward, a former Londoner, who went west six years ago.

No particulars are contained in the telegram beyond the fact that the young man met death by accident on January 1.

Well Known in City.
He was twenty-seven years of age, and was well known in this city, having been employed for a number of years with the Dominion Express Company here. Previous to that he was employed as a jeweler at Messrs. Stevenson Brothers & Baker, but gave up his position on account of his health. After several years with the Dominion Express Company here he was transferred to Chicago, later going to Seattle, Washington, and Spokane, Washington, where he had been very successful in business.

Those Who Mourn.
He was a son of the late James T. Archer, and is survived by two brothers and three sisters, H. B. Archer, of this city; Wilfred, of Galt; Miss Annie L., a missionary in Takata, Japan; Miss Alice H., Boston, Mass.; and Mrs. Robert Dege, of Redlands, California, at present in London.
The news of his death came as a great shock to his brother in this city, who suffered another bereavement only Friday morning in the death of his nephew, Mr. John Wright, of 779 Colborne street.
Mr. H. B. Archer has wired for further particulars and is making funeral arrangements.

400 TANGO "STUDENTS"

Is London going tango-mad? The tango in all its versions, the one-step, the grapevine, the hesitation and a dozen others is the rage in London now, and is being danced at practically every society function. Old and young have become infected with the tango germ, and just where the craze will end it is hard to conjecture.

Two large dances during the past week attracted local society, and the dreamy waltz and the ordinary lively two-step were relegated to the back benches while the dancers, young and old, short and tall, thin and fat, disported themselves gaily through the various movements of the tango. Tangoers and tangoesses have succeeded waltzers and waltzesses, and the minuet and the other old-fashioned dances are relics of a by-gone age.

[Canadian Press.]
Winnipeg, Jan. 2.—The report that the Canadian Northern Railway would ask the Canadian Government for $50,000,000 at the coming session was treated in rather a noncommittal manner by Sir William Mackenzie on his arrival here today.

HUSBAND IN JAIL DRUNK WHEN HIS WIFE DIED

Andrew Doan Had No Money to Pay His Fine.

[Special to The Advertiser.]
Windsor, Jan. 3.—Within an hour after Andrew Doan, aged 30, had been sentenced to the county jail for 30 days for failure to produce $9.50, the amount of a police court fine for drunkenness, Mrs. Edith Doan, his wife, died at her father's home in Sandwich, South.

Doan did not know of his wife's critical illness, nor of her death until Friday afternoon. Relatives of Doan called at the police headquarters in Windsor and requested Magistrate Leggett to sign a release for him that he may attend the funeral services today.
This being out of the power of the court, Magistrate Leggett agreed to issue orders for Doan's fine, and is asked orders for his discharge.
Mrs. Doan had been ill with asthma. She had been living apart from her husband the greater part of the past year or two.

MORGAN'S MOVE IN ADVANCE OF LAWS COME INTO FORCE

Committee Recommendations for New Act Would Have Compelled Such Steps.

AWAITING NEXT MOVE

Plan to Abandon Fiscal Agency Agreements, Interlocking Directors and Voting Trusts.

[Canadian Press.]
New York, Jan. 2.—The announcement of the retirement of J. P. Morgan and four of his partners from thirty directorships in twenty-seven corporations and Mr. Morgan's reference to the change in public sentiment in regard to directorships, has called attention to the fact that five important recommendations of the Pudo committee were already being put into effect in advance of legislation requiring them.
They include the abandonment of fiscal agency agreements, such as existed between the New Haven and Morgan & Company; the abolition of interlocking directorates; the abolition of voting trusts; reforms in the stock exchange and reforms in the clearing house.

Still in Steel Corporation.
Whether Mr. Morgan will decide to withdraw from the directorate of the United States Steel Corporation was the subject of a great deal of speculation today. The general opinion was that as the so-called steel trust was the greatest of the Morgan creations, and was considered by the elder Morgan the crowning achievement of his financial career, his son will consider it his duty to remain identified with it in an active way, especially until the government suit has been decided one way or another.
However, the Morgan firm was no less actively identified with the financial development of the New York Central lines for which Mr. Morgan was the banking sponsor throughout the greater part of his career.

Morgan Grieved.
J. P. Morgan's friends say that he has been not only deeply impressed by the change in public sentiment during the last few years but that he has been deeply grieved over the criticism of the firm in connection with the affairs of the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad Company.

DISPUTE IN CHURCH OF ENGLAND MAY BE CAUSE OF BREAK-UP

Vigorous Controversy Continues Caused by Receiving Natives in Holy Communion.

CO-OPERATION QUESTION

Can Church Work With Other Reformed Christian Churches, Is Question Asked.

[Canadian Press.]
New York, N.Y., Jan. 3.—A cable to The Tribune from London says: There is no diminution in the vigor of the controversy which has divided a great body of churchmen, and which threatens a serious schism in the Church of England.

The administration of Holy Communion by the Anglican bishops of Uganda and Mombasa to missionaries of various Christian sects at Kikuyu in the East African protectorate is the centre of the storm, the real question at stake being whether the Reformed Church of England, as a body, with Episcopal government, can in any circumstances officially co-operate with other reformed Christian communities which accept the Bible and the apostolic and nicene creeds, but which reject Episcopacy as a form of church government.

Archbishop Writes Letter.

The principal contribution to the discussion today is a letter from the Archbishop of Canterbury, Ian MacDonald, M.P., written to the Prime Minister begging him to make public his intention as to the nature of the court to which the matters raised by the Bishop of Zanzibar will be submitted. In reply, the Archbishop points out that he has attempted to expedite the bishop's return to England, but that at the present time he is without any specific information as to the exact request which may be placed before him. The Archbishop adds:

"It would cause me genuine satisfaction were the controversialists to see their way clear to lay down their pens and await such formal action as I must myself take for dealing properly with what is referred to me. I refrain absolutely from expressing my opinion before and upon the subjects at issue. It is my duty as my wish to secure that at the proper time the Bishop of Zanzibar should have ample opportunity of laying his case before the proper ecclesiastical authority."

Harvard Professor Who May Come Here As University Head

PROF. R. F. A. HOERNLE

GOVERNORS TALK WITH PROFESSOR ON UNIVERSITY

Professor Hoernle, of Harvard University, Visits Western With Board.

THE PROBABLE CHOICE

While No Definite Offer Is Made Impression Is Favorable One.

Chancellor R. M. Meredith, Dr. Waugh, Capt. T. J. Murphy, Arthur W. White and Philip Pocock, of the Western University board of governors, met with Prof. R. F. A. Hoernle, M.A., B.Sc., of Harvard, at the Tecumseh House this morning relative to Prof. Hoernle's nomination for the presidency of the Western University. Prof. Hoernle is not at present an applicant for the position, and while the presidency has not yet definitely been offered to him, it is regarded as very probable that he will be the next president of the Western University.

Discussed Situation.

The meeting at the Tecumseh House was an informal one, and the university situation was generally discussed between Prof. Hoernle and the governors present. It is understood that the governors were very favorably impressed with Prof. Hoernle, and he on his part intimated that, if after considering the local university situation, he felt he could direct the Western University to successful developments, he would be quite ready to accept an appointment to the presidency. This afternoon Prof. Hoernle, in company with members of the governors board, is visiting the arts department, the medical college, the school of public health and the local affiliated institutions in the city. He expressed himself as being very glad to offer any advice he could on the local university question, irrespective of whether he should be appointed president.

A Desirable Candidate.

Prof. Hoernle holds a leading professorship in the arts department of Harvard University, and representative citizens who heard him speak at the Canadian Club luncheon Friday night have expressed the opinion that it would be extremely fortunate to secure his services as president of the Western University.

Will Administer Oath to Church Members Only

[Canadian Press.]
Berlin, Germany, Jan. 2.—The newspapers here say that the judge of a municipal court has refused to administer the oath to witnesses in a court proceeding because they were not members of the church. The judge said he doubted the validity of an oath administered to such persons.

The incident is considered important because of the general movement throughout the country of members to withdraw from the state church in order to escape payment of compulsory church taxes. The withdrawals reached such proportions last week that scores of extra officials were on duty registering them.

DOCTORS FEARING RABIES TAKE PASTEUR TREATMENT

Suspecting Hydrophobia Former London Medical Men, Home For Visit Adopt Precautionary Measures After Suspicious Death of Pet Dog.

Fearing that a pet dog which they had been treating for a mysterious illness was suffering from rabies, Dr. John Hunt, of Port Arthur, and Dr. Will Hunt, of Port William, both sons of C. B. Hunt, of this city, left yesterday for Toronto to take the Pasteur treatment.

The dog died and the body was dissected at the Institute of Public Health, but all the symptoms discovered were neutral, and there was nothing to show from what cause the dog died. The only suspicious symptom was paralysis of the hind legs, which is one of the symptoms of "dumb rabies." Both young men decided to take no chances, however, and left for Toronto Friday to take the Pasteur treatment. Neither were bitten by the dog, but Dr. Will Hunt received a scratch on the hand while playing with the animal and Dr. John Hunt fears contagion through a slight wound on one of his fingers which may have become infected.

Valuable Animal.

The dog was a valuable English bulldog, and won prizes in his class at the Western Fair this year. He was a family pet, and his owner C. B. Hunt, who resides at "Merri-ville," Wortley road, was concerned when the dog first showed symptoms of illness about two months ago. He became paralysed in both hind legs, but a veterinary surgeon who was called in, and also the keeper of the dogs at the Kennels, both failed to find any cause for his illness. Treatment was prescribed, and the dog partially recovered. The paralysis disappeared, but the dog continued to grow thinner and weaker.

When the two sons came home on vacation, they took an interest in the case and began treating the animal.

Sent for Examination.
Despite their efforts, it grew worse and finally died, and doubt arose in the minds of both young men as to whether or not the animal died of rabies. They accordingly sent the body to the Institute of Public Health for examination, and in spite of the fact that no positive symptoms of the dread malady were discovered, decided to take the Pasteur treatment as a precaution.

As medical men, they had both seen cases of the disease, and are accordingly anxious to fight possible contagion. Both are in apparent good health and were not feeling any effects when the left.

WILL LEAVE TO HUNT MISSING NEPHEW

London Man Will Go to New York in Search of Detained Relative.

Henry Goldberg, grocer, 218 Ottawa avenue, will go to New York to endeavour to locate his nephew, Nathan Goldberg, a young Pole, who arrived there a week ago on Wednesday and was held up by the immigration authorities at Ellis Island for the reason that he had only $23 in cash instead of the $50 required by the regulations.

Officers of the Hebrew Immigration Society took the matter up and wired his uncle here. The latter immediately sent a cheque for $30 to make up the necessary amount. However, the immigration people were still reluctant to let their prisoner go, contending that he should have had the full amount before leaving the old country. The steamship agents in Poland were blamed for not having acquainted the young man with the regulations before selling him a ticket.

In desperation, Henry Goldberg applied to the Immigration Department at Ottawa, but got no satisfaction from that source. Later he appealed to the local authorities, and the mayor, taking it on himself to make the city of London responsible, another telegram was sent to New York.

Henry Goldberg confidently expected that the nephew would arrive Friday night, and he met several trains. But no "nephew" appeared, and Uncle Henry is getting anxious, hence his determination to go to New York.
Young Nathan speaks no English, and it is feared that he may have become lost in the wilds of the Long Island village.

PERSEVERING HAMILTON MAN FINDS HIS WAY TO A CELL

Gets Himself Arrested, Presents Evidence For His Conviction, Walks to Jail With His Commitment Papers and Works Hard to Arouse Officials.

William Knox, a Hamiltonian, 66 years of age, arrested himself Friday, received a sentence of fourteen days for vagrancy, took his commitment papers in his hand and delivered himself at the county jail.
He gave himself up at the police court as a vagrant, claiming that he had no friends, no money and no place to go. Magistrate Judd committed him, and giving him his papers started him off for the jail all alone.

Arriving there, he hunted out all the push-buttons in sight, and rang them all, not to mention several electric buzzers he discovered. He accompanied this with a tattoo on the door with his fists. As a result turnkeys responded from all parts of the building, and to the astonished group Knox smilingly presented his credentials, and was received into the hospitality of the
