SYNOD OF HURON.

AN ELOQUENT CHARGE BY BISHOP BALDWIN.

Resolution of Condemnation on the Death of the Premier - The Financial Under Discussion.

The Lord said a word into Jacob, and it hath lighted upon Israel.

The eighth verse of the first chapter of Isaiah was the text from which Rev. Principal Miller, of Huron College, preached the opening sermon to the delegates to the Synod in St. Paul's Church yesterday.

The "Word of God," as Christ was called, was revealed in the Scriptures, the preacher said, with marvellous fidelity, harmony and clearness. The scriptures combined and revealed the mind and heart of the one inspiration.

It was in view of the mixed authorship of the book that all its parts should harmonize as they do. One writer took up the pen after another and continued his part.

Now a history, now a song and now a prophecy, and across all the chasms of time and the gulfs of years that intervened between its chapters, that Book was a complete, harmonious, undivided whole, showing that the words were all of one inspiration.

In the Gospels the words of Christ are written; and if any of the great thinkers who had impressed the world with their philosophy had been held in silence it would have been a great loss to the world.

But think of what the world would have been if Christ had never lived and His words had never been uttered. Here was a teacher who spoke his words into the air, as it were, neither writing them down nor having any record of them.

But think of what the world would have been if Christ had never lived and His words had never been uttered. Here was a teacher who spoke his words into the air, as it were, neither writing them down nor having any record of them.

THE MEETING OF SYNOD.

The annual meeting of the Synod of Huron began yesterday afternoon in the Chapter House, the Bishop of Huron presiding.

The Ven. Archdeacon of Grey opened the session with prayer.

After roll called during which a very general response of ministers and laymen was made.

Rev. Canon Richardson was proposed and elected Clerical Secretary.

Mr. William Swainland, of Glencoe, was elected Lay Secretary.

Mr. Andrews - Messrs. George F. Jewell and C. F. Complin.

Rev. Canon Richardson read the report of the Committee on Certificates and Synod Assessments, which showed that 218 congregations had reported for the election of 263 lay delegates; 21 congregations had failed to comply with the rule for the election of delegates at the Eastern Vestry meeting.

A number of congregations in arrears asked for remissions of a part or the whole of their synod assessment. Ninety congregations had elected delegates without the formality of paying their dues.

Mr. Grey censured the Committee for not recommending some action in regard to the arrears. If the practice were allowed to continue it would result in the demoralization of the whole church system.

The Committee recommended something be done in regard to the arrears.

Mr. Jymond said the committee had reported the facts, and done its duty; it was now for the Synod to act on the information presented.

The report was received and adopted.

On motion of Rev. Rural Dean Mackenzie the arrears were referred to a committee to be named by the Bishop.

His Lordship named Revs. Rural Dean Mackenzie, Canon Smith, Canon Hill and Rev. John Downie as the members of the committee.

In the meantime the representative from Enfyry was allowed to take his seat on payment of the current year's dues.

THE BISHOP'S CHARGE referred to the old and familiar facts missing at this session, and acknowledged the goodness and mercy of God that had followed throughout the year.

Two old and highly valued members of the Diocese, Rev. William Davis, Rector of Woodhouse, and Rev. John Gemley, Rector of Simcoe, Rev. Mr. Davis was ordained by the late Bishop Croly in 1844, and had a long and honorable record as an industrious faithful minister. Rev. Mr. Gemley was an honored member of the Methodist communion. He was ordained a Priest of the Church of England in 1873; he was for some time associated with Dean Innes as Assistant Minister of St. Paul's in this city, before being appointed to Simcoe. His Lordship paid a high tribute to both of these deceased gentlemen. He also spoke highly of another deceased minister, Rev. Henry Banwell, formerly of Essex, and more recently of Port Stanley. The financial report, while in some respects gratifying, called for anxious solicitude and care. The receipts showed an increase of over $1,000 as compared with last year. The overdraft on the Maintenance and Mission Fund was referred to and the attention of the Synod invited to it. The clause providing that the Synod pay out of the Mission Fund $10 for every clergyman on the list, while the canon providing for an increase in the stipends of the clergy at the rate of $100 for every five years of service up to $1,000, tended to increase the expenditure, and unless the revenues were made a little more elastic a grave financial crisis would meet their administration in a few years. The clergy were deeply indebted to that canon, and should support it by every means in their power, and be zealous in supporting the collections of the synod. His Lordship gave a lot of statistics showing that this Diocese had more members than any other in the Province. The address also outlined the scheme for the consolidation of the Church of England in B. N. A., as set forth by the conference held in Winnipeg in August last. You cannot create a new governing body without subtracting power from the old; were we ready to support this by diminishing of the Provincial system, whose abolition he was far from advocating. The unification of the church was a grand aim, and all he desired was to see the fact before them first, and before they committed themselves to it. He thought personally that a simpler plan might attain the result aimed at. His Lordship paid a high tribute to Huron College and its new faculty. Rev. Principal Miller and Rev. Professor Armstrong. There were now upwards of twenty students too many for the present building and staff of two men to do full justice to. The dependence of the Diocese on this College for supply of young men was pointed out, and the possibility of adding to it. A University was alluded to. He commended the institution to their care and support, speaking of patronage, he did
