FOR THE YEAR

Birthday At Windsor

Celebration Largest in Many Years With the Exception of the Jubilee.

A Great Family Gathering and Gorgeous Pageant in Queen's Honor.

Glad Voice of the Kingdom Carried to Her Majesty by Electrophone.

By Associated Press.

London, May 23.—The gathering of the royal family at Windsor Castle to-morrow to celebrate the 80th birthday of Queen Victoria will be the largest, with the exception of the Jubilee gathering, that has assembled there in many years. Not only will four generations in succession be present, but there will be a great gathering of children and grandchildren of Her Majesty.

The return of sunshine to-day is a happy augury of the success of the celebration. The royal household is already in gala dress. The country itself is brilliant with lilacs, chestnuts and laburnum blooms, while the grey old castle is gay with the royal standard and other British flags. Everything points to the success of a gorgeous pageant of military knights, the Scots Guards, choral societies and holiday makers.

THE BIRTHDAY AT WINDSOR.

Simple but Pretty Celebration at the Home of Her Majesty—in European Capitals.

London, May 24.—Torrents of rain to-day ushered in Queen Victoria's eightieth birthday. At Windsor, where a general holiday is being observed, the town was decorated with flags and the church bells were ringing at 7 o'clock in the morning.

The scene was the national anthem and a choice programme, comprising the late Bishop of Wakefield's Jubilee hymn, "Four-part song, and two specially written madrigals, "To the Queen." Finally the Eton boys gave three lusty cheers in honor of Her Majesty and the Duke of Connaught came to one of the windows and thanked those present in the name of the Queen, who herself, looking to be in excellent health, came forward and bowed repeatedly.

During the afternoon the Queen planted an oak sapling on the east lawn of Windsor Castle, driving along Kenneth drive to the spot. She was accompanied by the Duke of Saxe-Coburg and Gotha, and all the members of the Royal Family witnessed the ceremony.

The Military Knights of Windsor presented an address to the Queen at noon in the corridor of the castle and received the warm thanks of Her Majesty.

A pretty incident was the presentation to the Queen this morning by each of her grand and great-grandchildren, now at the castle, of a tiny bouquet of flowers. These descendants of Her Majesty, who were deeply touched, also kissed her.

Mr. Joseph H. Choate, the United States ambassador, telegraphed his congratulations to the Queen and Her Majesty sent a graciously worded reply. The ambassador also attended the birthday service held at the Chapel Royal, St. James' Palace, yesterday.

Although official birthday celebrations in London were postponed until June 3,

On Making and Spending Money

How Clifford Sifton Tapped the Dominion Treasury for His Friends.

Mr. Wade of Yukon Fame in This Too-Liberal Shirk Inquiry.

Ottawa, May 17.—In this world of uncertainties it is pleasant to have a few points fixed, and this week has fixed two more points for me at any rate, definitely.

(1) That Sir Wilfrid Laurier's party is not in power to make money for Canada, but to spend it. (2) That I would rather be a doorknocker in Her Majesty's loyal opposition than a British Columbian representative on the government side of the house.

As a good Conservative I ought to rejoice over the profound abyss of contempt into which the "irreverent reverend" has disappeared over the butchered babes of Bostock and Melnes (firstlings and such little ones at that) and over the remorse which is wringing Alway Macneil's hair into a wild and unruly fashion.

But I have no pity to spare now, from that abject fellow who sits by himself, in the front benches of this strange political curiosity shop, labelled "the first customer, to be sold at cost again."

Vienna, May 24.—Emperor Francis Joseph, wearing the uniform of the First Dragoon Guards, the British crest of a gorgeous pageant of military knights, the Scots Guards, choral societies and holiday makers.

Manila, May 24.—The United States commissioners and many United States officials, celebrated Queen Victoria's birthday to-day on board the British first-class cruiser Powerful.

London, May 24.—The respondent of the Morning Post, at the League says: "The question of international law is likely to be discussed by the conference.

An eminent professor says that international law has never been officially recognized, despite the resolutions of peace congresses, nor can any international agreement be made without the consent of all nations.

The code prepared for submission to the conference provides that the autonomy of nations is inviolable; that there is no right of conquest as between them; that they possess the right of legitimate defence, and are subject to the same principles of law and equity as individuals.

The measures to preserve secrecy of the deliberations have been redoubled. Only the delegates and secretaries are admitted to the precincts of the Hague.

The Hague, May 24.—The Queen received M. DeStaal, president of the peace conference, at 4:45 p.m. to-day and the latter presented her with a letter from the League of Nations.

The reception of the chief delegates to the conference, which opened at 10 o'clock to-day, was a court and the delegates were presented alphabetically. The reception lasted 40 minutes.

Fights Against His Hanging

One of Galician Murderers Revives Priest Who Brings Him Message.

The Other Speaks Cheerfully of Approaching Change of Scene.

Special to the Colonist.

Winnipeg, May 24.—Yesterday Sheriff Inkster received word from Ottawa that the law would be allowed to take its course in the cases of the condemned murderers Simeon Czuby and Wasyl Gusezak, who will be hanged to-morrow morning.

He notified Governor Lawlor of the provincial goal and the Governor instructed Father Kalvas, a German priest, who has been visiting the two men, to inform them that they could look for no alternative, but to prepare for death. Gusezak received the message calmly, and said he had not anticipated any other result.

When the priest told Czuby that he must prepare to die, the prisoner broke into loud lamentations, protesting his innocence and declaring that he must have a trial before he could be put to death.

The priest's efforts to calm him only made the condemned man more frantic. He accused the priest of having been instrumental in bringing him to his present position by his influence with the government.
