

YOUR CUP OF TEA

Your cup of Tea means much to you. It is more than an item in the daily fare. It is the one thing that "rounds off"—or spoils—an enjoyable repast. Tea is fortunately so cheap in this country that there are few who cannot afford Choice Tea. The cost per pound is only slightly higher than ordinary Tea, while the increased pleasure you get from every cup you make is worth many times the difference. It is true also, that a FLAVOR-FULL Tea like KING COLE Orange Pekoe will actually spend further—that is, make more cups to the pound. KING COLE Orange Pekoe is prepared particularly for lovers of Choice Tea.

Gas on Stomach Won't Let You Sleep

Gas often presses on heart and other organs, causing a restless, nervous feeling which prevents sleep. A BRIGHTER OUTLOOK.

The St. John Globe says editorially: Slowly but surely the clouds of trade depression are lifting. That is the verdict of the trained men on the world's bourse. Some, more optimistic than others, see the early dawn of the days when the hum of industry will be loud in the land. Those more conservative in their judgments declare the recovery cannot be rapid, but they agree that already the brighter prospect is clearly discernible through the mist of depression. Bankers and big men of business have given the lead to politicians, who naturally brightly paint the picture. The semi-monthly letter of The First National Bank of Boston voices this growing feeling of hopefulness, declaring: "A comparison between today and a year ago shows clearly a pronounced betterment in basic trade conditions: more volume; more concerns registering monthly profits; fewer business accumulating losses; fewer business as bankrupt, a distinct improvement in the relation between prices of farm products and finished goods." The same optimistic note runs through all recent utterances by big financial men, although there are many failures, many strikes and rumors of strikes and difficulties in Europe which create causes for anxiety. Discounting these, the men of big business continue to find evidence of a steady business improvement. They point to the decline in unemployment and the lowering cost of living indicated in government returns, and to improved trade figures as reasons for a better spirit. They do not say there is ground for that optimistic confidence which is the first essential of progressive expansion. Far from it. They say all these things teach that sound caution which is the forerunner of a better and more profitable future, preparing the man of business to take full advantage of the opportunities which the brighter day will bring to him.

And Then "Tat-Ended"
An Irishman stood looking at an electrical contrivance, when an inventor walked over to him and asked: "What machine? I wonder who the inventor is?" The Irishman looked at him and replied: "Sure it was a son of the sod. Can't you see his name there—Tat-Pending."

The Jewett Is Here

The Price Is $1585

The New Jewett Light Six is now on exhibition in our show rooms.

To you, and everyone who is interested in motor cars, we extend a very cordial invitation to see this car and arrange for a demonstration.

And we do not hesitate to say in advance that you are going to be surprised, delighted and not a little mystified.

You are going to be surprised because the Jewett is all that you have imagined—and a great deal more.

You are going to be delighted because it is the very car that you have hoped for—and waited for—these many years.

You are going to be mystified because you will, for the first time, view a quality six at the price of a four.

To produce this car and sell it for $1585 f. o. b. Windsor has required years of study and all the ingenuity and resources of the Paige Engineering staff.

It would have been a simple matter to compromise on four cylinder construction and thus achieve a popular price. But mere price was not the aim and the Four can no longer be considered in terms of fine engineering.

This is the day of six cylinders because the six is an inherently balanced mechanism. The natural balance and overlapping power impulses mean, smooth, even, vibrationless riding qualities.

These, in turn, mean maximum economy because friction and vibration are the chief destructive agents in mechanics.

You have only to ride in the best four that was ever built to realize its fundamental imperfections.

The Four must "fight" to get under way. It delivers a series of vicious, stabbing blows on the crank shaft. In consequence, the entire car throbs and vibrates like a tuning fork.

How long, do you imagine, can any mechanism remain staunch and tight under such punishment?

Fours will "run," of course. But how do they run? And how much genuine satisfaction is there in the running?

Is it a nerve racking chug-chug-chug or the soft, thrilling purr of overlapping impulses.

For these reasons, and many others, the New Jewett is a six with a mighty reservoir of fifty horse power.

It will sweep you over the road at sixty miles per hour, if you like, or amble along at three. And, at either pace, you will travel as sensible people want to travel—easily, smoothly, quietly.

In spite of its amazingly low price, the Jewett is a car of rare beauty, finish and appointment. It is a stinging rebuke to the common place designs of the popular priced field.

Best of all it is built as all Paige products are built to serve you faithfully and with deep respect for your pocket book.

But come in and see the Jewett for yourself. Come prepared to ride with us. For that is the one way that you can experience the thrill of commanding a fifty horse power six cylinder motor.

That is the one way that you can actually know and appreciate the Jewett.
