GRAZING LEASES IN THE NORTHWEST TERRITORIES

The interview with Mr. C. C. McCall of the Jones & Inderwick ranch, published in Saturday's issue, suggests some interesting questions as to the policy pursued by the government as to the encouragement of the cattle industry in the Northwest territory.

Under the Dominion Lands Act (46 Vic. cap. 17, s. 40) the governor in council is empowered to grant leases of unoccupied Dominion lands for grazing purposes for such term of years as may be deemed expedient, upon the condition, however, that such lease may at any time be cancelled by the minister of the interior upon two years' notice to the lessee.

In 1881 a herd of cattle could be purchased in Montana at $18 per head. To-day few sales are made at a lower figure than $30, and the sudden wealth of so many of the cattle-raisers of Helena and Fort Benton is mainly the result of the large demand to stock our ranches in the Northwest territories.

THE COMING CIVIL WAR

General Sherman is taking a cheerful view of things since his retirement from the head of the United States army.

Mr. Sherman is no fool. At the outbreak of the rebellion he was the man who stated that it would take 300,000 men to suppress it.

These are notable words truly. At the outbreak of the rebellion he was the man who stated that it would take 300,000 men to suppress it.

In such cases there are numerous instances of the leaseholders making compensation to the settler for his labor and improvements, and we firmly believe it is not possible for the settler to carry on his farm for any number of years without making some compensation to the leaseholder.

On one point we agree with the Fort McLeod Gazette; we have no sympathy with speculators who have obtained leases and are making no effort to stock and improve them.

It is not the business of the government to support those who are honestly striving to build up a business and attempt to stock their leases.
