Mr. Hunter.

A reference to some sharp remarks made by the Montreal press caused the reporter to ask if Quebec was as much troubled by these small societies as Ontario.

"No, there is not so much loose capital there," was the reply.

"What about the patrons of these societies that drop out?" was another question asked; to which the reply was that if they still felt confidence in their society they could forward their money to the American headquarters, but that there would be no local organizations.

Since Jan. 1 there have been four destru-tive wind storms, killing nearly 200 person tive wind storms, killing nearly 200 persons, viz.: April 1, Missouri and Kansas, 75; May 16, Texns, 15; May 27, Wellington, Kan., 53; June 16, Southern Minnesota, 50. In the same period there have been four great floods, viz.: April 11, Tombigbee River, 250; May 18, Sioux City, Iowa, 35; May 20, Lower Mississippi, 36; June 5, fire and flood, Oil-City, Pa., 196. There also have been four mining disasters, viz.: Jan. 7, McAllister, I.T., 65; April 20, Minersville, Pa., 12; May 10, Roslyn, Wash., 44; May 14, Butte, Mon., 11. Three fires have been unusually disastrous to life, viz.: Jan. 21, Indianapolis Surgical Institute, 19; Feb. 7, Hotel Royal, New York; 30; April 28, theatre, Philadelphia, 12.

the sum of losses by minor accidents as reported to The Tribune we have the following sad and unusual record: By fire, 876; by drowning, 1364; by explosions, 313; by falling structures of various kinds, 267; by mine disasters, 308; by windstorms, 340, and by lightning, 120. Grand total, 3588. The total loss of life by these causes during the whole of last year—and 1891 was one of the most destructive years on record—was 5762. So it is evident that 1892 will far surpass its predecessor.

Stuttering and Stammering. [From The St. Louis Post-Despatch.]
Stuttering and stammering are terms that are confounded. They are not synonymous nre confounded. They are not synonymous by any means. Stammering is an inability to properly enunciate certain elementary speech words; stutering is a vicious utterance, manifested by frequent repetitions of initial or other elementary sounds. Both are caused by improperly acting muscles of the vocal cords, soft palate, tongue, theeks, lips, stc. Some of these muscles are under easy control of the will. Over the muscles of the pharynx, the soft palate and at the base of the tongue, which moves its root upward and downward, our power is not so complete and this causes the affliction. Stammering children are often subjected to humiliation or even cruelly treated. One great cause of defective articulation is the foolish manner in which children are talked to by ignorant nurses and fond mothers. When I hear a mother say to her child, "Say tank oo to de p'etty lady—that's a 'ittle pet," and so on, it makes my blood boil.

Chinese Bazaars. [From The St. Louis Globe-Democrat.]
The Chinese of San Francisco shave nearly The Chinese of San Francisco shave nearly every day. A queer little razor it is that they use, too. It is in no respect like our razor, except in the matter of the keenness of its edge. It is a wee bit of a blade, nicely curved late a semi-circle. With this tool the Chinese barber scrapes the almost hirsutcless face of his customer, and then shaves him around the ears and down the neck to the first bone of the spinal column. It, of course, serves the excellent and highly commendable purpose of cleansing the Mongolian face, neck and ears of dirt very effectually though the hairs it clips are few and far between. The rounded point of the razor is also inserted into the Celestial ear, and every ancestious hair that dares to show itself in the auricular lobe is clipped before its growth proceeds very far. The Chinaman, you know, is serupulously cleanly about his ears. A growth of hair in them is considered a mark of low birth or of careless or ungentied.

Editor World: In The World of to-day on say that every naturalized citizen of the you say that every naturalized citizen of the United States takes the oath you there set out. Are you not in error of this? Does the German, the Swede or the Italian take this oath? You will, I think, find on enquiry that each person renounces particularly the sovereign of his former allegiance. England's sovereign is not singled out for especial repudiation.

An oath of allegiance is an absurd relic of the feudal age, and like all other oaths of promise can exact no more than an adhesion to the promise until just reasons arise for a The promise their just reasons arise for a change.
