The Return of The Pea Crop.

Throughout the length and the breadth of the Province of Ontario, no feature of the season's crop is furnishing greater cause for congratulation than the generally thrifty appearance of the pea crop. The uses to which the crop can be turned are so multifarious as to render it probably the most important on the Ontario farm to-day. Within the past ten years, over practically the whole of the province, the ravages of the pea-bug or weevil have been so marked as to discourage the farmers from sowing peas at all. Happily, all this, if we may judge from the reports which, from time to time are received bids fair to be changed, and we are likely to see the old order of things restored. A brief view of the situation generally to-day cannot fail to show the importance of the pea crop to the Province of Ontario and the Dominion is general. With the American hogs barred out of the Canadian market, coupled with the recent unsavory revelations in connection with the Chicago packing houses, the hog industry, and incidentally the pea crop, the prime factor in the production of good bacon, becomes of paramount importance. Canadian bacon in the British market has acquired an enviable reputation, and grave doubts were entertained that the substitution of American corn for pea meal would ultimately work injury to the Canadian trade. As before stated, these fears are not likely to be realized. Comparative tests, conducted at the Ontario Agricultural College, demonstrate most conclusively that, in feeding qualities, peas lead or barley, corn, or, in fact, any known grain, in the highest type of bacon. Apart altogether from the grain, a certain value attaches to the straw, which it is not easy to overestimate. It is a well known fact, borne out by statistics, the number of sheep in the Province of Ontario has shown a great decline in the past ten years. Time was when every farmer kept from ten to a dozen sheep, and many double that number. That probably less than 50 per cent of the farmers of Ontario to-day keep any at all is said to be directly traceable to the loss of the pea straw. When well saved and cut before becoming perfectly ripe, nothing has, it is claimed, been found to supply the want, being infinitely preferred to clover hay. In view of all these circumstances, the report that from Sarnia on the west to Ottawa on the east, the outlook for a good pea crop is so bright will be hailed with the greatest satisfaction.

For that Dandruff

There is one thing that will cure it—Ayer's Hair Vigor. It is a regular scalp-medicine. It quickly destroys the germs which cause this disease. The unhealthy scalp becomes healthy. The dandruff disappears, had to disappear. A healthy scalp means a great deal to you—healthy hair, no dandruff, no pimples, no eruptions.

The Breakdown.

Nothing breaks me up like a breakdown. And it always comes when you're not looking for it, proving the truth of the old adage that it is the unexpected that always happens. It is great haying weather. We seem to have passed out of the rain belt, and now we can wade in and cut that timothy else we'll get away behind, for the wheat is turning to gold, and we will have to hump ourselves. The men are at the tedder and the rake, and the mowing machine is winging her happy way around the field. All is well. We'll haul it on Thursday 'cause you see by Wednesday night the way we're going we'll be ready for the hay loader. That will give us a couple of days at the turnips and corn before we hitch to the binder and go to the wheat.

But you should never count your chickens before they are hatched. It isn't business, for one thing, and, for another thing, it ain't—well anything that isn't business isn't business. The mowing machine ceases her merry song abruptly on the far side of the meadows. The driver jumps down and potters about her. Then he unhitches the team and drives the horses directly through the gate towards the barn.

He has broken irons in his hand! Do you think you will haul in on Thursday? Well, I'll bet you won't. But suppose I wasn't the mowing machine. It might have been the wagon. A tire might have come off right in the middle of the forenoon, and you would have lost half a day before you got her going again.

No, you can't be sure of anything. First thing you know the power is off, or the cashier is off, or the man you depend on is off (his nut, like the rod that wrecked the mowing machine) and it always happens just when you are getting along so nicely.

But perhaps it's all for the best. I hope so.

Perhaps, if we didn't break down occasionally and have a hiatus thronged with troubles and splinters and welds and casts and teams and losses—if everything went on all right, we would get the big head (megacephalitis), and we would forget that God made a meadow long before man made a mowing machine.—The Khan.

The Happiness of Home.

Very largely depends on the mother's disposition; if she is animated and bright everyone is happy; but she is nervous, irritable and cross—everything goes wrong. Bright cheery women use Ferrozine, the greatest health-maker known. By acting through the blood Ferrozine is able to reach all the organs that need assistance; it establishes regular and healthy action of all functions, builds up the general health, fortifies the system with a reserve of energy that defies disease. Don't put off—Ferrozine costs only 50c, at any drug store; get it today.

In Crimeless Labrador.

A traveller who recently visited the coast of Labrador says that nowhere on earth are life and property held so sacred as in that little known and barren land.

A thousand miles of lonely seaboard, along which is scattered a population of some 10,000 people, about one-third of whom are white would seem to give every opportunity for crime, says Harper's Weekly.

Yet there is no police officer of any kind, no court and no jail. Nor are they needed. The only criminal charge in fifty years was one against an Esquimaux who shot a rival in love.

In addition to the resident population, the coast is visited every summer by about 10,000 Newfoundland fishermen, and while Newfoundland itself is not by any means free from criminals, none appear to come among the fishers, or else the example of the natives of Labrador causes them to refrain from any wrongdoing while there. About forty years ago a circuit court visited the coast every summer, but as it found nothing to do it was abolished.—New York Sun.

Municipal World: The repair of roads is as important as their construction. Neglect to keep the roads in repair, failure to repair them when repair is first needed, adds very much to the cost of roads. A good road which is not kept in repair, very quickly becomes a bad road, and the object of the original expenditure is thus lost. To allow roads to degenerate for want of repair, means an immense waste of labor, material and money, which has to be made up in the reconstruction. Wherever good roads are built, arrangements should be made for a careful attention to their repair.

LOCAL OR OTHERWISE.

A circular to guide inspectors and rural school boards in making regulations as to school buildings, accommodation, water supply etc., has been issued by the provincial department of education. The circular also specifies the nature of the minimum equipment necessary for each school, as provided to qualify for the provincial grant as ordered in the new act of 1906.

Detroit, Mich., July 19.—Stepping off a moving Woodward car at Cortlands and Woodward avenues, in Highland Park, late last night, William Gannon, 81 years old, of Forest, Ont., was thrown to the pavement with great force, sustaining injuries which may result in his death. He was removed to Grace Hospital. Mr. Gannon had been visiting his daughter, Mrs. Aylesworth who resides in Highland Park.

If you are superstitious about the number 13 you had better give up your American quarter dollars, for on each one are thirteen stars, 13 letters in the scroll of the eagles' beak, 13 leaves on the olive branch, 13 arrow heads and 13 letters in the words "quarter dollar." Now it's not safe to keep them so just bring them in and get credit on your subscription for the full amount.

And it came to pass that after he had advertised his goods there came unto him great multitudes from all the regions round about and did buy of him. And when his competitors saw it they marvelled among themselves, saying, "How be it that this man is bought while we last idly about our doors?" And he spake unto them: "In this fast age of push and rustle it is easier for a camel to enter the eye of a needle than for a man to flourish without advertising."

ONE of the fastest runs on the Grand Trunk was made the other evening by the International Limited, with Engineer Overend in the cab. The 100 miles from Komoka to Windsor were covered in 110 minutes. This included the regular stops at Glenora and Chatham, and also a stop at Thamesville for water. Allowing for these, the actual running time was at the very outside 100 minutes, or a mile a minute.

A MAN stepped up to a ticket window and asked the railroad fare to another city. "It's $3," he was told. "Well," said the man. "I've only a $1. I'll go out and get $1 more." So he went to a pawnshop and pawned the $2 bill for $1.50, which the pawn-broker readily gave him. Then he stepped out and sold the pawn ticket for $1.50 to a stranger whom he met in the street. These two transactions gave him $3, with which he purchased his ticket and went on his way rejoicing, having made $1 out of nothing. But who lost the $1?

A PIKE County girl married a guide, and the day after the wedding the guide took out a life policy for $1500. Then, with his wife, he started for Porters Lake with a party of sportsmen, the wife to cook and wash dishes, the man to clean fish and so on. Unfortunately, the young guide was bitten by a rattlesnake one morning, and a few days afterward he died. The widow notified her family and friends of his death in a note that said: "Bill put away yesterday. Loss fully covered by insurance."

Sergeant Detective Duncan is in receipt of several letters from various parts of Ontario complaining of the way in which canvassers for the enlargement of photos are conducting their business. It appears that these men ask for a deposit on all orders, and this is the last any customer ever hears of them. These deposits vary all the way from 50 cents to $5.00. A request method employed is the stating by the swindlers that with a $5 reduction of fifty cents will be made if cash is paid. In this way they procure $5.50. In most cases the amounts are so small that the duped ones do not feel inclined to take legal proceedings. Yesterday complaints were received from Craigmont, Ont.

Sombra Farmer Suicides.

Sombra, Ont., July 20.—Adam Hawn, aged 60, a farmer living half way between Sombra and Courtright on the west and River, shot himself in the head and is not expected to live. He was for years the mail carrier between Sombra and Thornyhurst, and has been one of the leaders in the Free Methodist Church at Sombra.

He has been a disponent over a trade in farms in which he believed he had been swindled.

Worth Knowing.

Don't marry an automobile wife on a wheelbarrow salary.

A soft answer cometh from a soft person. Money makes the mare go; vanity holds the reins.

He who dies pays all debts; but you had not better let the devil sign the receipts. I'd rather have my son blush than to turn pale.

The better part of discretion is knowing when to go 'way back and sit down.

I'd rather be right than an insurance president; and I'd rather be healthy than Rockefeller.

Love is blind, but marriage is an eye-opener.

Before marriage a woman is a man's ideal; after marriage it's a new deal.

Consider well the source of things; sponge cake isn't made from sponges, and a family jar is never used in preserving the peace.

Never lose your temper; remember, your husband will never discover you have one until you lose it.

Puttin' Up Fruit.

A bully time to take a sneak,
And make your little nook
In when the women folks are busy
Puttin' up fruit.
Talk about housecleanin',
Er washin' day—you brute,
You'll have to take pot luck to-day,
They're puttin' up fruit.

An apron wrapped around her head,
Your darling is a beaut;
Her face, 'specially her nose, is red—
She's puttin' up fruit.
She has no time to monkey with you;
Her temper is acute,
You'd better stand from under, for
She's puttin' up fruit.

The house is topsy-turvy, that's
A fact you can't dispute;
Beloved, you're in the way—
They're puttin' up fruit.

Talk of killin' poultry—haws!
Why this is an emute
(Whatever that is)—anyway,
They're puttin' up fruit.

EXAMINERS AT WORK.

Staff of Two Hundred Teachers at Work This Week on Answer Papers.

Many a High School and Collegiate Institute student throughout Ontario, who tried the recent department examinations has his mind's eye upon the time within the next month or so when he is to be advised of the results of his writings. The advance guard of the Board of Examiners selected by the Ontario Educational Council arrived at the Normal School last week, and already the examination papers are well in hand. During the week the junior and senior leaving examiners arrived forming in all a staff of about two hundred examiners qualified for the work. In addition to these, a considerable number of clerks is employed temporarily to assist.

Mr. Odell, who is acting registrar during the illness of Mr. Wilkinson, had a busy opening day, as a system had to be applied which would ensure best results. The Board of Examiners is made up largely of teachers, whose educational specialties fit them the better for certain subjects and hence their work has to be mapped out and allotted accordingly.

Nominally, the emolument of an examiner is $3 per day, but the figure fluctuates according to subject, and the qualifications of examiners. Occasionally it falls to $4 per day. The number of papers examined individually in the day, which is of regular school hours, is also taken into consideration in the reckoning.

The number of answer papers which are these days crowding the Department are guarded with the greatest care, and, quite properly, the strictest secrecy is required of those who are passing judgment.

Thrown Before Train.

St. Thomas, Ont., July 20.—Frank Millard, a teamster working on the new Michigan railroad track, one mile east of Corwell station, lost control of his team and was thrown in front of a moving train. His right leg and hand were cut off, and his left ankle and foot also injured. He was brought to the Amasa Wood hospital, this city, and is in a critical condition.

Byes on Bills.

Among the humorous memories connected with English judges is one of Justice Byes and his horse. This eminent jurist was well known in his profession for his work on "Bills," and as this gave a fine opportunity for alliteration his associates were accustomed to bestow the name on the horse, which was but a sorry steed. "There goes Byes on Bills," they took pleasure in saying, and as the judge rode out every afternoon they indulged daily in their little joke. But the truth was that the horse had another name, known only to the master and his man, and when a too curious client inquired as to the judge's whereabouts he was told by the servant, with a clear conscience, that "master was out on Business."

The Bengali.

The Bengali has the best brains of all the peoples in India and the readiest tongue. His memory is prodigious and his fertility in talk inexhaustible. He is something of an Irishman, something of an Italian, something of a Jew—if one can conceive an Irishman who would run away from a fight instead of running into it, an Italian without a sense of beauty and a Jew who would not risk $5 on the chance of making $500. He is very clever, but his cleverness does not lead him far on the road to achievement, for when it comes to doing, rather than talking, he is easily passed by people of far inferior ability.—London Standard.

Terrible Back Pains.

They fairly agonize your life. Something powerful and penetrating is needed. Doctors know of nothing so swift to relieve as Nerviline, a strong, penetrating liniment made to cure just such pains as yours. Nerviline is very concentrated, about four times more powerful than ordinary liniments. In the worst cases Polson's Nerviline is extraordinary good. All muscular pain flees before it. Nearly fifty years in use—a good recommendation, surely.

Samuel Holland, of Port Huron, was severely hurt in the Cleveland-Sarnia saw mill by being caught between two logs and badly bruised. He was taken to Port Huron and is now at his home on Division street.

Why go limping and whining about your corns when a 25-cent bottle of Holloway's Corn Cure will remove them? Give it a trial and you will not regret.

A bitter feeling exists in Bridget at present between the local optimists and their opponents. The recent trials for violation of the act renewed hostilities, and the burning of a preacher's stable is reported to be an outcome of the trouble.

The Port Huron Times says: During warm weather 200 half barrels of beer are daily sold in Port Huron. Each barrel will contain 200 glasses. This makes a grand total of 40,000 glasses of beer drunk in one day, about two glasses per capita.

FOR INFLAMMATION OF THE EYES—Among the many good qualities which Parolee's Vegetable Pills possess, besides regulating the digestive organs, is their efficacy in reducing inflammation of the eyes. It has called forth many letters of recommendation from those who were afflicted with this complaint and found a cure in the pills. They affect the nerve centres and the blood in a surprisingly active way, and the result is almost immediately seen.

Linemen are at work putting up the wires for the People's Telephone Co. from Forest to Birnam, and from Forest to Lake road, east and west. On Tuesday a Bell Telephone Co.'s representative out the wires where they cross the latter's line, Warwick, as the same were interfering with their service.

Mr. George Jackson, an inmate of the House of Refuge, Stratbury, for some time, and eighty-one years of age, was arraigned before the police magistrate on Wednesday on a charge of raising a disturbance at the home with the night superintendent. He was allowed to go on suspended sentence and left town on Thursday. For his age he can put up a pretty stiff argument.
