Farmers' Short Course at Truro

In our advertising columns you will find an advertisement of the Short Course at the College of Agriculture, Truro, N. S. to be held from Mar. 5th to 13th next. For the past 15 years Short Courses have been conducted at Truro during the first two weeks in January, and those who are familiar with the results agree that no other feature of either the Agricultural College work or of the work of the Department of Agriculture has given bigger returns to the Province than the instruction given at these Short Courses.

Owing to the influenza situation, it was decided wise in the current year to postpone the course from January until March. Plans have now been completed to make the course for the current year at least as valuable and attractive as in any former year and the fact of the course being held so near the seeding season will give a chance for the farmers to study the outlook for the year and to complete plans for buying their necessary seeds, fertilizer and their necessary supplies. We strongly recommend this course to all of our readers.

FERTILIZER

OUR first advertisement calling the attention of the farmers and dealers to the necessity of ordering their fertilizer early, and having it shipped early appeared in this paper four weeks ago. Since that time we have had a large number of our old customers ask for their fertilizer to be shipped at once, and we have had many enquiries and orders from new customers. The time when fertilizer will be used is approaching and the indications now point to an early spring. These will undoubtedly be a heavy call for fertilizer, and it will not do to put off too long.

Notwithstanding the shortage of fertilizer for the past several years, particularly the spring of a year ago, we had a good supply and were in a position to take care not only of our own trade but of many customers who were disappointed in not being able to get their fertilizer. This condition may repeat itself this year and it will surely do so if you do not make arrangements early for the spring supply. It is certain that unless orders are placed the manufacturers will not take the risk of carrying over to next year materials bought on the present market when the prices are at the highest, and the tendency on the contrary will be not to carry even the slightest surplus with possibility of having it on hand at the end of the season.
