

saints eventually medicinal." "Though Christians be not kept altogether from falling, yet they are kept from falling altogether."

Such particular subjects as envy, anger, sympathy, contentment, are treated in the course of the author's development of the absorbing thought of the perfectly consistent Christian life. These, however, are dealt with more incidentally than otherwise, yet in the same aphoristical style that characterizes all the book.

HERE and away again—Professor S. S. Neff and his lectures in Elocution.

AN article from Rev. Dr. Pierson on the "The Verdict of Enemies" will appear in the March issue of the MONTHLY.

MESSRS. GALE AND HARKNESS have landed at Chemulpo the seaport town of Seoul in good health after their long voyage.

MR. AND MRS. GOFORTH are now stopping with missionaries at Pang Chwa, 130 miles from Honan, for the purpose of studying the Honanese dialect.

REV. ARTHUR T. PIERSON, D.D., Editor of the "Missionary Review of the World" and a great authority on Foreign Missions is expected to address a meeting in this city in the interest of the Auxiliary of the McAll Mission France, on Wednesday evening, 13th Feb.

THE appointment of Prof. W. J. Alexander, B.A. Ph. D., to the chair of English in University College has been announced. With many it will be an unpopular appointment. It is hoped, however, the occupant of the new chair will prove himself worthy of his important position.

EDINBURGH papers tell of a Rev. J. A. Macdonald of Toronto, Canada, holding forth at different meetings in that city, at all of which it seems he has been well received. The staff of the MONTHLY are persuaded that the aforementioned gentleman is none other than their Managing Editor now abroad.

THE Glee Club enjoyed an outing at Bolton on the 18th ult. They were hospitably entertained in that pleasantly situated village and their concert was well attended. As an illustration of the change which is constantly taking place in the personnel of college organizations, it was noticed that Mr. Collins, the popular leader was the only representative of the club who was at the concert given in Bolton, five years ago.

SOME years ago a Presbyterian minister, jealous for the prerogative of the rank and file, was annoyed that the learned doctors of divinity in our Colleges, should, in our higher Church courts, have so much to say
