

drawn up and various matters relating to the Society's welfare were discussed. A recommendation was made that Mr. John D. Evans, of Trenton, a past President of the Society and a most useful adherent for many years, should be elected a Life Member. This was subsequently done at the general meeting. It was decided that the next annual meeting be held at Macdonald College, Que. The President proposed that information regarding the principal collections of insects in Canada, both public and private, should be procured and published in the Canadian Entomologist from time to time.

In the afternoon the members met in the Entomological Lecture Room in the Biological Building, and the proceedings commenced with the presentation of the reports of the Council and the various officers and branches of the Society, followed by the reading of papers and the election of officers, a list of whom is given below.

The open meeting was held on Thursday evening in the auditorium of the Massey Hall, and the Society was particularly fortunate in having, as lecturer for the occasion, Dr. L. O. Howard, Chief of the Bureau of Entomology, U. S. Department of Agriculture. The subject of the lecture, "The Carriage of Diseases by Insects," is one with which Dr. Howard has been closely identified for many years, and was greatly enjoyed by the large audience, among which, besides the members of the Society, were many members of the staff and students of the College and of the Macdonald Institute. The lecture was copiously illustrated by many fine lantern slides.

The Society was welcomed to the College by Prof. Zavitz in the absence of President Creelman, and at the close of the lecture a hearty vote of thanks, proposed by Dr. Hewitt and seconded by Prof. Lochhead, was tendered to Dr. Howard for his interesting and instructive address, and for his kindness in coming so far to attend the meeting.

After the lecture the members were entertained at a smoker given in the students' parlour, Main Building, a students' vocal quartette contributing much to the enjoyment of those present. Mr. Eric Hearle, a graduate of the College, who recently returned from active service in France, gave an interesting account of the
