

June 11. 1932.

My dear Sir Arthur:

It was very kind of you to send greetings from Lady Currie & yourself to us on the occasion of the dinner given us last night by the Graduates. One of my pleasures & privileges during recent years has been the formation of friendship with you, whom I have always admired in war & peace. I hope that even in the future, notwithstanding the sundering of official connections, I shall have the chance of meeting you from time to time.
