

Sir Robert Falconer - 2 -

Science and Gillson in Arts. Either one is fitted to be head of a department. What is giving me most concern at the present time is the Deanship of the Faculty of Arts. It was never the intention to confirm Harkness in that position, but he made a very acceptable stop-gap.

I have also lost Gray of my Physics Department, who is going to Queen's as a Research Professor. I agreed to let him go at the end of January, but am almost sorry I did so.

With all good wishes, I am,

Yours faithfully,
